

Chapple Wrote Pension Plank Himself, Four Say in Letter

Quote Him as Promising Support for Security Plan

Ashland Man Says He Finds Fault Only With Final Action

Milwaukee—(U)—Four members of the subcommittee which drafted the Republican party state platform made public today a letter saying John E. Chapple drew the old age pension plank against which Chapple now protests.

Chapple, who has broken with the party and is running for the United States senate as an independent, followed with a statement that although he wrote the part of the plank finally adopted, he also had put in "a lot more that was cut out."

The letter, addressed to Chapple, was signed by Charles F. Smith of Wausau, W. J. Campbell, Oshkosh, and G. E. Vandercook, and Leo Nohl, Milwaukee.

It said they protested that Chapple's "expressed reason" for running as an independent "is absolutely contrary to the facts," and added: "Promised Support"

"The fact is that you, John Chapple, actually drew the old age security plank that was finally adopted and that you would support it."

The letter said the subcommittee met Oct. 3, the night before the convention, to draft a proposed platform and that Chapple was named to write the old age pension plank. The plank, the letter said, was adopted in committee "with absolutely no cuts but with the addition of the words 'immediate and complete'."

"On completion of the entire platform," the letter continued, "you expressed yourself as entirely satisfied with the entire platform and particularly with the old age plank which you drew. You furthermore stated that you could and would back that platform."

"Not until the next day did you produce or suggest any change or new plank, and even then part of your new suggestion was incorporated."

"The final old age security plank as adopted and to which you now take exception is your plank, your own idea, your own creation."

To this Chapple, admitting he drew up the part of the plank finally adopted by the convention, replied:

"Smith is confusing this matter by talking about what the informal, unofficial platform committee did the night before the convention. I am talking about what the formal legal platform or resolutions committee of the convention . . . did."

List Deletions

Chapple said these points were deleted from the plank: "Condemnation of classification of old age assistance as poor relief; denunciation as brutal 'third-degree' cross-examination; to which some receiving aid were 'subjected'; a demand that the taking of liens on homestead as a requirement for assistance be stopped; and a pledge to work toward lowering of the age limit from 65 to 60."

He said he attended the resolutions committee meeting as an observer and that when the pension plank was reached "it was evident there was a concerted, and perhaps pre-arranged effort on the part of some, to wreck it."

ADDED CONFERENCES

Madison—(U)—Further conferences between John E. Chapple and the attorney general's office are to be held tomorrow afternoon on Chapple's charges that Julius F. Heil, Republican nominee for governor offered $2,600 to withdraw as an independent Republican candidate for the United States senate.

Chapple was closeted for six hours yesterday with Assistant Attorney General Newell S. Boardman, and Special Assistant Maurice Pasch. He gave a complete statement about the Juneau hotel room conference in Milwaukee Tuesday in which he claims he was "forced" to sign an announcement of his withdrawal.

Heil has emphatically denied the charges, asserting that Chapple voluntarily agreed to quit the senatorial race and campaign for him.

Chapple announced he will meet with Boardman again at 3 p. m. Friday and then will decide whether he will take further action.

Gov. Lehman to Name Special Prosecutor for Investigation Of 'Corruption' in Brooklyn

New York—(U)—Governor Lehman announced today he would supersede Brooklyn District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan with a special prosecutor to investigate "alleged official corruption" in that borough.

The governor also announced the appointment of Justice Francis D. McCurn of Syracuse to hold an extraordinary term of supreme court for the investigation.

The special prosecutor, yet to be named, will conduct his inquiry before a special grand jury, which will supplant the regular grand jury now in session.

Governor Lehman said he would ask Mayor F. H. LaGuardia to direct William B. Herlands, city commissioner of investigation, to cooperate with the special prosecutor.

He said Herlands who brought the Brooklyn situation to the governor's attention.

Lehman's Statement

Governor Lehman announced his action with the following statement:

"Charges with regard to law enforcement and alleged official corruption have been made not only against the office of the district attorney but against officers or employees in other law enforcement agencies in Kings county (Brooklyn)."

"I cannot pass final judgment with regard to the truth of these charges. They should, however, be investigated by a disinterested agency. If any persons are guilty of criminal offenses, they should be punished."

"I am therefore taking the following steps with respect to law enforcement and alleged official corruption in Kings county: 1. Superseding of the district attorney in an investigation of alleged official corruption and designation of a special prosecutor for that purpose."

"2. Appointment of a supreme court justice to hold an extraordinary term of court."

"3. Convening of a special grand jury."

Andrews sought to quiet fears he said had been expressed that the new law, which becomes effective Oct. 24, would give its administrator "dictatorial" powers.

He replied directly to John P. Frey, a high A. F. of L. official who, Andrews said, complained that the administrator, if he chose to disregard recommendations of an industry committee would be like a judge not accepting a jury verdict if it did not please him.

Auto Sideswipes Car Driven by Oshkosh Man Before Ramming Truck

Madison—(U)—Two Milwaukee youths, identified as Bernard H. Spitz and Bernice Herrmann, both 21, were killed instantly early today in a traffic accident on Highway 12 a mile west of Nora in Dane county.

Officials reported their car sideswiped another automobile and then crashed head-on into a semi-trailer truck, bursting into flames.

Three Killed, Two Injured In Explosion

Boiler of Locomotive Is Wrecked by Blast In Illinois

DEBRIS ON TRACKS

Cars Not Derailed but Wreckage Covers Right-of-Way

Elgin, Ill.—(U)—Three men were killed today and two others injured slightly when the boiler of a steam locomotive on a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad freight train exploded about three miles west of here early today.

The explosion, which witnesses said was a terrific blast, occurred at 4:30 a. m., as the westbound train of 99 cars proceeded up the Almore grade at a speed of about 15 miles an hour.

The dead were: Patrick Mangano, about 50, Chicago, fireman; George Nelson, 60, Chicago, engineer, and George J. Hachtel, 47, Elgin, Ill., brakeman.

None of the freight cars left the tracks and wreckage of the engine was strewn along the right-of-way for several hundred feet.

Bodies Mangled

The mangled bodies of Mangano and Nelson were found on either side of the tracks by Ambrose Grady, of Chicago, conductor, and Walter Darr, Bensenville, Ill., brakeman, both of whom were in the caboose and were only slightly injured from the sudden stopping of the train.

Hachtel, was believed riding near the engine and his body was found in the wreckage of the tender.

Grady could ascribe no cause for the blast.

The body of Hachtel was not found for about two hours after the accident.

Traffic on both the east and west lines was held up pending clearing of the wreckage. The boiler of the engine was thrown 20 feet north of where the train stopped, the coil of the engine 150 feet north, while the locomotive cab was 300 feet to the rear of the train front. The truck wheels of the engine, while attached to the train, as was the tender, were off the track.

Most of the 99 freight stock cars were empty, Grady said. The train left the Galewood yards, in Chicago, at 1:30 a. m.

Kane county officials immediately planned an investigation into the explosion, as did Milwaukee road officials in Chicago.

Sidley Expresses Belief Mother Was "Slowly Poisoned"

Toronto, Ontario—(Canadian Press)—William Sidley, Jr., son of Mrs. Mabelle Horlick Sidley, American malted milk heiress who died here July 6, was quoted in a statement read in court yesterday as saying his mother "might have been poisoned—slowly poisoned."

Sidley was quoted also as saying he felt certain his mother had been held a prisoner in the home of W. Perkins Bull, Toronto lawyer and historian, where she died, and that he had seen Bull "give her different pills."

His statement was read before Justice G. P. McTague of Ontario Supreme court in chambers by A. G. Slaght, crown counsel, at a hearing on an injunction motion to stop an inquest into Mrs. Sidley's death. Slaght represented Chief Coroner Dr. Smirle Lawson.

Rhineland—(U)—John B. Colliers, 85, was back at the home of a daughter in Crescent township today, apparently none the worse for having spent 48 hours wandering in the woods without food. Missing since Monday, he was picked up by a motorist near here yesterday and brought to Rhineland. The aged man had slept in the open both nights.

New Catholic-Nazi Incidents are Reported in Nazi Drive Against Cardinal and 'Clerical Agitators'

Vienna—(U)—Joseph Buerckel, Adolf Hitler's deputy in Austria, in a speech before a monster Nazi demonstration tonight accused a part of the Catholic clergy of seeking to "instigate people against the state."

Vienna—(U)—Catholics today reported three new Catholic-Nazi incidents in the midst of a Nazi campaign against "Theodore Cardinal Innitzer and what Nazis called 'clerical agitators'."

Windows of two convents were said to have been stoned and a priest knocked down in the street. The convents were said to have been that of the Sisters of the Holy Heart in the third district and the nineteenth district convent of the "Oblatinnen" sisters.

Chinese Fort Facing Strong Japanese Fire

Nipponese Slowly Closing in on Hankow Defenses

TRY TO CUT ROADS

New Canton Offensive Effort to Dominate South China

Shanghai—(U)—Japanese land and naval forces launched a withering attack on Shihchaishan fort, just 60 air miles from Hankow, around which the invaders are slowly closing in while a new Japanese expeditionary force begins attempt to dominate South China.

Most Japanese army and navy officials here believed the new offensive near Canton, 550 miles south of Hankow, was aimed at severing southern railways and capturing the southern metropolis itself, thus facilitating the relentless drive toward Hankow, the provisional capital.

The invaders established a spearhead of Sinyang, 100 miles north of Hankow, for two-way campaigns designed to add the Peiping-Hankow railway mileage to their already captured railways.

Japanese war maps show Sinyang to be 187 miles south of Chengchow, Honan province railroad junction, and to present the possibility of an offensive toward Chengchow to coincide with a long-delayed drive across the Yellow river southward.

Floods Halted Drive

A Japanese push toward Chengchow was stopped just short of its goal by early summer Yellow river floods, necessitating detours in the Hankow campaign.

With fire fighting continuing near Luiling, the Japanese charted a drive down the Peiping-Hankow railroad toward Lichai, six miles to the south.

Foreigners reported re-establishment of communications between Kuling and Nanchang, 120 miles southeast of Hankow, and that many Chinese and foreigners, including Americans, who had been marooned at the Kuling mountain resort since early summer could at last escape.

The reports gave credence to Chinese claims of successes in the Teian sector, on the Kiukiang-Nanchang railroad, where extremely bitter fighting still raged despite Japanese assertions the invaders had captured Yungchi, 16 miles south of Teian, and had encircled the defenders of Teian.

SEND REINFORCEMENTS

Hong Kong—(U)—Heavy Chinese reinforcements were rushed from the East river district to the Bias bay area near here today with indications they might soon come to grips with a large new Japanese expeditionary force.

Roads to Waichow, 80 miles east of Canton, and the garrison city nearest Bias bay, were choked with commandeered trucks and buses filled with Chinese soldiers.

Waichow is believed one of the first objectives of the Japanese contingent, estimated to number more than 35,000 troops, which landed yesterday at Bias bay. It is connected with the south China metropolis of Canton by a good highway.

Subway Fund Has Roosevelt's O. K.

Approval Conditional Upon Meeting PWA Requirements

Washington—(U)—President Roosevelt approved today an $18,000,000 PWA allotment to Chicago for construction of a subway in the loop district.

PWA estimated the total cost of the project at approximately $40,000,000 and said the city would finance the balance of the cost.

The presidential approval was given, said Administrator Icker, subject to fulfillment by the city of certain assurances given PWA.

These assurances, Icker said, included "a pledge that the city will lose no time in putting through a unification ordinance which will cover all of the surface, elevated and bus services of the city."

Icker asserted the ordinance would contain a clause requiring the company using the subway to pay the city a share of its gross receipts which would be placed in a trust fund for extension of the subway.

He said PWA retained the right to approve the ordinance in advance of its passage and that all plans, drawings and specifications used for the project would first have to have the approval of a special engineering board he appointed recently to study the project.

The project for which the president approved today's allotment contemplates construction of the State street subway from S. State street to the Clybourn avenue connection of the present elevated system.

It also includes construction of a subway in Dearborn street from Congress street to Lake street and along Milwaukee avenue to a connection with the Logan-Humboldt elevated subway lines.

Halt Confabs On Hungary's Land Demands

ACCORD IMPOSSIBLE

Announcement Made Hour After Ultimatum Deadline

Washington—(U)—Several senators predicted today that the troubled international situation would assure President Roosevelt a clear track in congress if he requested substantial increases in the national defense budget.

Senator King (D-Utah) who opposed the billion-dollar naval expansion program at the last session, said in view of world conditions he now was inclined to support larger appropriations for both the navy and the army.

Mr. Roosevelt said this week a budget increase would be necessary to provide $150,000,000 for new warship construction next year.

Senator Borah (R-Idaho) indicated he would continue to oppose the large naval expenditures, but said he had little hope congress would accept his view. Senator Townsend (R-Del.) has predicted most Republicans would support increases in defense appropriations.

Name Committee To Help College Plan Homecoming

Active Participation in Annual Event Assured by Group

Appleton participation in Lawrence college homecoming activities through a committee composed of W. E. Schubert, chairman, William Roemer and John R. Riedl, was announced yesterday afternoon when the group met with John Bodilly, homecoming chairman, and others interested in the college's annual event. Homecoming is scheduled for Oct. 22, with the Lawrence-Carroll football game the feature attraction.

Through the chairmen of commerce, merchants will be asked to decorate their store windows and store fronts, it was reported, and flags will be displayed from the ornamental light posts on College avenue and other downtown streets.

First participation in the weekend's activities will occur when F. N. Behringer speaks in behalf of the city at the big pep meeting and rally back of campus hall starting at 7:15, Friday evening.

Corps Will March

Saturday morning's big parade will be augmented by the Sons of the American Legion drum and bugle corps and probably by Appleton High school band, Mayor John Goodland, Jr., will ride with President Thomas N. Barrows of the college. The parade also will be enlarged by the Appleton alumni to drive their decorated cars in fraternalism and sorority members to march behind their respective floats.

At the game there will be a section on the Lawrence side for college and city officials. A similar section will be on the Carroll side and between halves the group will cross to the other side to exchange greetings, marching between rows of band members.

Trophies for the best fraternity and sorority floats and for the best decorated fraternity house, will be offered this year by the Appleton Post-Crescent. The houses will be judged Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the floats during the parade. The awards will be made at the annual homecoming dance Saturday night at Alexander gymnasium.

Winds Add Threat To Forest Fires

Officials on Both Sides of Border Fear 'Critical' Developments

By the Associated Press

Forestry officials watched anxiously today for "critical" developments as forest fires, fanned into new life by strong winds, ate through peat, brush and timber along both sides of the Minnesota-Ontario border.

In their wake the flames left 20 persons dead, many badly injured, and uncounted thousands of dollars worth of damage to homes, farm lands and hay and timber crops.

After receiving reports from state forestry officials that lives of some residents in the northern Minnesota border area are "seriously endangered," Governor Elmer A. Benson gave Adjutant General E. A. Walsh broad powers to mobilize national guardsmen to "evacuate citizens of the stricken areas and otherwise cooperate with the forestry department."

The most devastating fires on the Canadian side of the border were reported from Danee township, west of Ft. Frances, Ontario. It was in that section that 17 settlers were burned to death.

Little Fork, Minn., south of International Falls, was the center of the danger zone on the American side of the border. Three American fire fighters have lost their lives during the long battle with the widespread fires, which have blackened scattered areas from Warroad, Minn., eastward to the Messabe iron range.

Lewis' Proposal Wouldn't Assure Peace for Labor

Experts Doubt Withdrawals Would End Federation-CIO Rift

Washington — (AP)—The withdrawal of both William Green and John L. Lewis from their posts, in the opinion of many seasoned labor men, would not bring peace between the American Federation of Labor and the CIO.

That view is held by persons in a position to know the two sides of the labor dispute, by experts who have helped apply pressure to both factions and who are familiar with the behind-the-scenes efforts the administration is making to end the row.

Green and Lewis have been held apart by a personal feud of 20 years' standing. However, this was not the wedge which split organized labor three years ago this week. The wedge was made of fairly thin stuff at the beginning but has thickened with time.

It began with an idea for industrial unions. Lewis and some associates believed something ought to be done about the 30-odd million workers who did not belong to labor unions. These workers were not craftsmen and did not fit into the craft unions of the A. F. of L. A plan was worked out for industrial unions in which would be blanketed all the workers of an industry, regardless of skill or craft.

Cause of Rift

The federation toyed with the idea. It considered a proposal for granting charters to federal unions, which were industrial unions under another name. But it did not do enough with the idea to suit advocates of industrial unions. They joined with Lewis and created the CIO.

Green and Lewis began whacking away at each other. The CIO pulled away from the federation. The hard feelings began to percolate through the two organizations, reaching down to local unions.

The turn taken by government and labor laws injected another element into the dispute. Green and those who stand with him want labor left to play its own hand with industry. The support they have given some of the new labor measures has been cool, now and then to the point of frigidity.

Lewis represents another theory. He and his allies would like to line up government on the side of labor. They have dabbled in politics and legislation, have given gifts to campaign funds, have set up a political unit of their own.

Thus, the differences are no longer the simple arguments of whether workers shall belong to industrial or craft unions. The A. F. of L. and the CIO represent different philosophies.

State of Siege Is Rumored in Effect In Ruthenia Areas

Series of 'Incidents' Reported; Hungarian Terrorists Involved

Paris — (AP)—A Havas (French news agency) dispatch from Prague today said a state of siege, a form of martial law, had been proclaimed at Mukacevo (Munkacs) and in other districts in Ruthenia following a series of "incidents."

Mukacevo is the principal town of Ruthenia, also known as Sub-Carpathian Russia, easternmost province of Czechoslovakia.

The Prague government has granted the province autonomy, but both Hungary and Poland have urged that a plebiscite be held there with a view to its possible union with one of the two countries.

Havas quoted Czechoslovakia authorities as asserting that on Oct. 9, snipers brought a group of Hungarian terrorists into Ruthenia, crossing the border from Hungary at Tarpa, 25 miles south of Mukacevo.

The terrorists were said to have been armed with rifles, hand grenades, explosives and pistols of German manufacture similar to those which previously were found in possession of Sudeten Germans in northern Bohemia.

Havas said that with the smugglers, who know the border region well, as guides, several groups succeeded in entering Ruthenia over the weekend.

One group dynamited a railway bridge over the Borzava river and later attacked the railway station at Borzava-Muziovo, killing a railway employee and wounding a passenger in a bus which had stopped at the station, Prague authorities said.

Strachey's Cousin in U. S. on Lecture Tour

New York — (AP)—Major James Strachey Barnes, cousin of John Strachey, English author detained at Ellis island for probable deportation as an alien communist, arrived today aboard the Vulcania to lecture in behalf of Prime Minister Chamberlain and the conservative cause.

"I am a rightist, a Tory and a supporter of Chamberlain," said Major Barnes. "I have come here to try to make Americans understand his point of view."

He said that "although our opinions are at opposite poles, I am very fond of my cousin and nothing would give me greater pleasure than to have him get free and debate with him."

WILL SPEAK HERE

Judge Malcolm Hatfield, authority on juvenile delinquency, will speak before the Appleton Educational association at Morgan school Wednesday evening. Only 38 years old, Judge Hatfield has become renowned for his handling of juvenile cases. He has written one widely acclaimed book, "Children in Court," and a second is to be published soon.

Judge Hatfield to Address Teachers Wednesday Night

A. E. A. Will Hear Authority on Juvenile Delinquency

Judge Malcolm Hatfield, outstanding authority on juvenile delinquency, will address the meeting of the Appleton Educational association at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the auditorium of Morgan school. His topic will be "Foundation of Education."

Judge Hatfield is in charge of the juvenile court of Berrien county, Michigan. At the age of 38 he has won a national reputation for the skillful way in which he has handled juvenile delinquency cases. Although he is not a lawyer, as a probate judge he has helped to clarify the law by having numerous appeals from his rulings to the supreme court. In every instance he has been upheld. Judge Hatfield received his Master of Arts degree from the University of Notre Dame.

It has been the speaker's contention for six years that the nation is squandering millions of dollars on an antiquated penal system. Judge Hatfield approaches the problem of the juvenile offender by comparing the delinquent with his physical, intellectual, social, and emotional aspects. He found that each of these influenced the other. As a member and chairman of the Michigan corrections commission he has worked to have all offenders placed under the supervision of trained psychiatrists and social workers with the view of giving each individual treatment.

Judge Hatfield is also a newspaper and magazine writer, contributing a series of articles on juvenile delinquency for almost 500 publications. His book "Children in Court," published in 1937, has been widely accepted as a forward step in the solution of the juvenile crime problem. "County Court House" is the title of his second book, to be issued shortly.

Sen. Duffy Replies to 'Unthinking Persons'

Somers, Wis. — (AP)—Senator F. Ryan Duffy, campaigning for reelection on the Democratic ticket, replied here last night to "some unthinking persons" who he said had criticized investment of social security funds in government obligations.

"It should be recalled that bankers and other institutions are among the heaviest investors in government bonds and obligations," he said.

"The largest banks of America have invested more than one-quarter of their resources in United States bonds. Surely, government bonds must be a good investment. If these important private financial institutions deem it wise to invest their money in government securities, then certainly the United States government cannot be criticized for doing the same thing. The United States government is the best security of the people."

Nazis Speed Up Program to Make Czechs Dependent on Reich in Economic Sphere

BY DEWITT MCKENZIE
Berlin — (AP)—Nazidom has lost no time in following up Herr Hitler's triumph in the Sudeten crisis by organizing for a drive calculated to make what is left of dismembered Czechoslovakia an economic dependency of Germany.

Government experts were busy on the program even while German troops were marching into Sudetenland to occupy the rich areas ceded by the harassed Prague government. Field Marshal Hermann Goerring's visit to the new territory was to seize up the economic situation. He performed a similar task when Austria was annexed.

A little story which is going the rounds amidst much Nazi laughter fairly sums up Berlin's attitude towards the Prague government and its greatly diminished territories. It is related that the Sudeten Germans came to der fuhrer and begged for autonomy.

"I'm sorry," was the reply, "but I've already promised that to the Czechs."

British Troops in Bethlehem District Restoring Order

Reinforcements Help Put End to Terrorism By Arabs

Bethlehem — (AP)—British reinforcements freshly arrived from England established firm control today of the Bethlehem-Hebron area which had been the seat of operations of one of the largest Arab bands in Palestine.

Equipped with armored cars, trench mortars and machine-guns, 400 men of the Worcestershire regiment replaced a small post of Black Watch regiment troops in Bethlehem.

The new troops took over all of Bethlehem, which had been barely held by the post for weeks. Detachments then pushed on 12 miles to Hebron, solidifying control of the area in which the Arab band had been operating virtually unchecked.

This band, with the support of Arab villagers, has terrorized areas as far south as Beersheba and north to Jerusalem.

The Worcestershires arrived from England last week and immediately went into action to quell outbreaks of Arab-Jewish disorders.

Order Restored

Complete order prevailed in Bethlehem, the population of which had fallen from 7,000 to 6,000 because of the terrorism.

Christian and Moslem antique dealers near the Church of the Nativity imported visitors to buy Christian antiques, explaining they had done no business for a long time.

"We hope peace comes soon, otherwise we shall be bankrupt," said their leader.

Hassan Sidky Dajani, a prominent Moslem lawyer who refused recently to participate in a campaign against Jews and British authorities, was shot dead.

An investigation disclosed that Dajani had been seized by an Arab band near Hebron last night and was shot and stabbed to death. The slaying followed a day of terror and bullets that killed 25 Arabs yesterday and caused the British Royal Air Force to dispatch two planes to rescue a British police patrol ambushed by Arabs.

Dajani was a municipal councillor of Jerusalem and scion of one of the most prominent and wealthy Arab families in Palestine.

At the Damascus gate today two other Arabs, reported blacklisted by organized Arabs, were killed.

Wiley Launches Attack Upon 'Smoke Screens'

Portage — (AP)—Alexander Wiley, Republican candidate for the United States senate, said in a campaign speech here last night he was criticizing Wisconsin voters "are not being diverted by certain political smoke screens that are being sent out."

"What they want to know," he continued, "is why their milk checks have been getting smaller and smaller, and why the prices of other dairy products are almost hitting bottom."

"They also want to know why 14,000,000 persons are on the unemployed list in spite of extravagant government spending and New Deal promises."

"There should be a complete change in governmental leadership. For the past five years this country has been the ailing patient and while Doctors Roosevelt and LaFollette had their chance to make good on their promises and with their political prescriptions, the patient has been growing worse."

Claim German Troops On Czech Side of Border

Prague — (AP)—Czechoslovakia today complained to the international commission settling details of the new Czechoslovak-German boundary that German troops had occupied a number of towns and villages on the Czechoslovak side of the agreed frontier.

An instance cited in the complaint, which was sent to the commission's Berlin headquarters, was the occupation by German troops of several villages near Pilsen.

The propaganda ministry said the differences would be arbitrated by military staffs of the two countries and the Berlin commission.

Germans were said to have agreed to withdraw from the city of Policka, leaving Czechoslovakians in at least temporary possession. Prague census figures showed the city to be almost entirely Czech.

Czech Minister Confers Tonight With Reich Chief

Discussions Planned on Relations Between Germany and Republic

Berlin — (AP)—Informed persons said today that Frantisek Chvalkovsky, Czechoslovakia's new foreign minister, would go to Berchtesgaden tonight to discuss with Adolf Hitler the basis of future relations between Germany and the dismembered republic.

Although Chvalkovsky, who arrived this morning from Prague, had a two-hour conference with German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, it was understood larger questions were left for Hitler's own consideration.

The German fuhrer is expected to receive the Prague minister at the Bavarian mountain retreat which was the scene of his historic conferences with Kurt Schuschnigg, last chancellor of independent Austria; with Prime Minister Chamberlain of Britain a month ago, and a little later with the envoys of Poland and Hungary.

German Guarantee

Among the questions on which Chvalkovsky is expected to hear the fuhrer's desires are a possible German guarantee of Czechoslovakia's diminished frontiers and the severance of her alliances with soviet Russia and France.

Chvalkovsky returned to the Czechoslovak legation after his talk with Von Ribbentrop and also a brief meeting with Baron Ernst von Weizsaecker, secretary of state in the foreign office and chairman of the international Sudetenland commission which is delimiting Czechoslovakia's new boundaries.

Although no announcement was made concerning the talks it was understood that temporary arrangements for Czech-German relations until the transformation of Czechoslovakia is completed were under consideration.

Diplomats believed the two foreign ministers also considered the question of how far Czechoslovakia should bind herself to the reich, now that her Sudetenland has passed to Germany.

Cashman Questions LaFollette on Congressional Record as Senator Addresses Meeting at Green Bay

Green Bay — (AP)—United States Senator Robert M. LaFollette, campaigning in behalf of Progressive party candidates, addressed a meeting that was thrown into an uproar last night when he was interrogated by State Senator John Cashman of Denmark, former Progressive who now is a Democratic congressional candidate.

Cashman's first of a barrage of questions was:

"You speak for religious freedom. Did you join in the letter of greeting to the communist party in Spain which had massacred nuns and priests?"

LaFollette answered:

"I did sign that resolution in hopes it might keep alive a spark of democracy in Spain."

Cashman then asked:

"Is it true that you voted for a member of the Ku Klux Klan, Hugo Black, for the supreme court? It's said LaFollette inspired the appointment."

The Wisconsin senior senator answered:

"I had nothing to do with the appointment. I voted for him without knowing he was a member of the Klan. Had I known that I would have been compelled to vote against him."

LaFollette at this point brushed aside a suggestion from State Senator M. F. Kresky that the meeting be adjourned, and said he would answer one more question, advising Cashman that "you do your own advertising and get your own crowd."

Cashman then asked LaFollette whether he recommended, "election of a man who urged entry of America into the world court."

LaFollette replied:

"The Progressive party has a platform and every candidate is pledged to that platform. That's my answer."

Prior to the interruption LaFollette in advocating the Progressive

To Stop Constipation Get at Its Cause!

If constipation's got you down so you feel heavy, tired and doped — it's time you did something about it. And something more than taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat only the things most people do, the chances are that a very simple fact causes your constipation — you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean heavy food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, eat crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day and drink plenty of water. All-Bran contains both "bulk" and the intestinal tonic, vitamin B<sub>1</sub>. And it's not a drug, not a medicine!

Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Chapple Lays 'Break' to Dispute Over Pensions

Racine — (AP)—John B. Chapple of Ashland, Independent "Townsend Republican" candidate who has charged he was offered $2,000 to withdraw from the senate race, declared here last night the "real break" between himself and Julius P. Heil, Republican candidate for governor, occurred over a difference in old age pension ideas.

Chapple earlier in the day presented to the attorney general's office in Madison a complaint that the "Heil for Governor club" had offered him $2,000 to drop his senate candidacy and make 26 speeches in behalf of Heil.

Heil, who has denied offering Chapple money to withdraw, announced at Milwaukee last night after conferring with his attorneys "we decided we would just let the whole thing die."

George Beat Purge but Georgia Is Still After New Deal Money

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

Washington—When you last heard of the purges, the senators who were opposed by Roosevelt had won. Their state Democratic organizations rallied behind them and turned back the federal invader. The carpetbagger's advice was spurned.

Still, I wondered what would happen next because the great carpetbagger had something in his luggage that these sturdy free Democrats wanted, a million dollars for a worthy public purpose being a million dollars even in Roosevelt's money. I was interested to see how these independent Democrats, who didn't need Roosevelt to tell them how to vote, would go about laying hands on the contents of the carpetbagger's bag.

Georgia has shown the way. Not the crude way of Senator Cotton Ed Smith, the South Carolina purger. He just came to Washington and went to the White House demanding a handout for Cotton. But he couldn't get the White House door open. Georgia Democrats, always gentlemen, have done it better. They are using the oblique approach.

They have wrapped themselves in a strong administration platform which forgets about Senator

Raymond Clapper George, who beat Roosevelt in Georgia, and butters the Washington administration generously. This platform is the work of the New Deal governor, Rivers, as it is the custom in Georgia for the candidate for governor to prepare the state platform or to have it prepared in accordance with his ideas.

It is a document which awakens no echo of the late campaign in which Senator George took the president to a severe licking.

The platform opens with congratulations to the national administration for "having kept faith with the platform of 1936." It reindorses that platform, "as a true expression of Democratic principles."

Platform Reindorses National Administration
Next the Georgia platform reindorses the national administration and commends to the governor and the Georgia general assembly that they continue to "operate in harmony with the national administration for the purpose of preserving the party and"—now watch this closely—"in order that Georgia may continue to enjoy and receive all legitimate federal benefits."

Then the usual appeals for party harmony are made and Roosevelt is applauded for his handling of the recent European crisis in a way "which literally pulled back the world from the brink of a conflict in Europe," and so on.

Eventually, the platform gets down to the real business. The Georgia delegation in congress is urged to support legislation which will bring federal funds into the state for roads, health, education, social security, and agriculture. The Georgia Democrats "call upon our congressional delegation to initiate legislation which will require the federal government to finance, maintain and construct rural post roads under local administration and to afford the greatest possible relief of the local tax burden."

Senator Showed Great Restraint in Acceptance
Later on the platform calls attention to the fact that Georgia "already is the largest pork-producing state in the southeast," but further reading discloses that this refers not to political pork but to real hog pork.

Senator George was obliged, in accepting senatorial renomination, to pledge his support to the state platform, which he did in an address which was a masterpiece of restraint. He promised to support the platform "like a man," Senator George added, "I will support the

President Drops Liberals of GOP, Lawrence Claims

Roosevelt Approves Ac- tions of Postmaster Farley

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—Liberal Republicans—those who believe there is something worthwhile in the idea of espousing a liberal instead of a conservative point of view—have reason today to be deeply disappointed at President Roosevelt for deserting them in their hour of political need.

Mr. Roosevelt has allowed it to be known that he thinks it's all right for James A. Farley, postmaster general and chairman of the Democratic National committee, to ignore the liberals if they happen to be Republicans and to concentrate his energies on electing all Democrats irrespective of whether they are liberals or conservatives.

The president has told the newspaper correspondents that, if he were national chairman, he would do as Mr. Farley has been doing. There has been, as a consequence, a good deal of puzzlement as to why the president, or the "head of the Democratic party," cannot have any influence on the party, with the president could, if he liked, pick and choose and even support liberal Republicans.

Now, however, not a word of help has come from the president in behalf of liberal republicans, and the fear exists that Mr. Roosevelt will not really offer them any aid despite his promise to the press that he feels about liberalism so deeply that, if a liberal Republican championed right principles, he would as quickly bestow upon him the blessing of the White House as it was given to liberal Democrats in the late lamented era of the "purge."

Consistency
There are only four weeks left to the congressional campaign and it may be that the administration will find a liberal Republican somewhere to support as proof of its consistency. But "liberal Republicans" of the Rooseveltian type are rather rare, and besides it seems incredible that the president would favor the election of some liberal Republican for a seat in the house or the senate when Chairman Farley has already endorsed the Democratic nominee.

It is quite possible, of course, that the remark about supporting a "liberal Republican" was just one of those impromptu observations which the president makes in press conferences and then regrets afterward. If he believes in liberalism as a greater force in American politics than party loyalty, then he has an opportunity in Wisconsin, for example, to line up with the Progressive forces as opposed to his own party candidates. Mr. Roosevelt deserted the regular Democratic nominees in Minnesota and Nebraska in 1936, and there are really plenty of opportunities for him to run away from the party selections on liberal grounds if he cares to look for them.

Continuing Challenge
The problem that Mr. Roosevelt faces is one of continuing challenge as to political sincerity. If, indeed, there is such a phrase nowadays, Mr. Roosevelt worked himself into a considerable passion, politically

Fines and Deaths Boost School Fund

Land Department Gives Report on Finan- cial Affairs

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—Because a considerable number of Wisconsin citizens violate state laws at some time or other, and because others die without leaving either a will or heirs, state school children are being given better opportunities, the state land department showed today in reporting figures on its financial affairs.

A steady flow of fines during the last 10 years has increased the common school fund administered by the department by nearly $2,000,000, according to T. H. Bakken, chief clerk.

With the addition of escheats, or property left by Wisconsin citizens who died without heirs or will, the common school fund has been swelled to more than $11,000,000. Interest on the fund is used in direct state aids for schools; the principal is used for loans to boards of education and school districts.

The most important source of income to the fund continues to be

ly. It apparently isn't so easy, after all, to look into a man's heart and soul, as the president suggested in a speech in Georgia, and find out very much about him in a political sense. If it were an easy matter, the president might be importuned to classify Chairman Farley when he readily supports anybody for office with the Democratic label irrespective of the record or of the candidate's heart-beats on the subject of liberalism.

Sen. LaFollette To Talk at Chapel

Appearance Tonight Is One of Three in County

Senator Robert M. LaFollette will make his first appearance in Appleton for some time this evening when he will speak at 8 o'clock at the Lawrence Memorial chapel. He will make two other appearances in the county on the same day, speaking at 2:30 in the afternoon at the motion picture auditorium, Seymour, and at 4:30 at the city hall, Kaukauna.

The senator will be honored at a dinner at the Hotel Appleton preceding his talk at the chapel. Out-gamie county Progressive leaders will attend the dinner and a short meeting will be held.

Another meeting of the Progressives of the county will be held following Senator LaFollette's talk at which sub-committees will be named.

To prove how valuable this grand medicine is, we are offering 75c worth of VINKOLA TONIC to every family for only 39c. A regular size bottle!

Many people who have suffered from indigestion, liver, or kidney trouble, tell us they are amazed and delighted with the results they get. Nervous poisons are sometimes driven from the body from the liver to the kidneys, and then to the bowels. The second day, in most cases, aches and pains from rheumatism and neuritis often completely disappear. In some cases, when swelling and stiffness is present, 8 or 10 doses is all that is required. Most simple cases of gas on the stomach or belching only need one dose.

The most important thing you must remember is the regulation of the bowels, so that you have free elimination. This usually occurs 8 to 10 hours after the first dose.

Dr. Kam's VINKOLA is sold to you on an absolute money back guarantee that if you are not satisfied with the results you receive, come in and get your money back! Remember a 75c size only 39c. Ask about the large family size bottle only 98c.

THE UNINVITED GUEST STARTS A BRAWL

Down at the Republican platform convention to which the law invites successful candidates who are to represent the party in order that they may define the campaign issues, there came the Uninvited Guest.

It was moody Hamlet from Ashland, the man with the deep-set eyes and the delusions of grandeur. Melancholia had claimed him for her own. Defeat had embittered him. Gall and wormwood coursed his fiery system through.

From out the flying accusations between Heil and Chapple the statement of Trimberger, the hotel manager, may be viewed apart because, we assume, he is not personally interested.

To him the gloomy Ashlander recounted his many grudges and abuses. At the platform convention Heil had spoken to him only in a short and curt manner while Heil's manager, Wilde, "left me with the impression that I was being sidetracked."

And here it is seemingly to correct the poet who wrote that all the long way down to hell no more dangerous figure could be encountered than a jilted woman. A spurned politician noses out the jilted lady and wins the race.

There are other witnesses of course. There is Mr. Heil. There is something called Heil for Governor club. There is the order book. There is Mr. Chapple and there is Mr. Wilde. Is Heil for Governor club a corporation or an individual. The order book speaks volumes and so does Mr. Chapple whether he realizes it or not.

The order book tells the story of $2600 to be paid for 26 speeches that couldn't be said to be worth 26 cents. The book is stained, the purpose is stained, and the campaign itself is stained.

And that the stain is universal consult Mr. Chapple's own words.

He only filed as an independent candidate "because I had not had an opportunity to talk" with Mr. Heil. Wondrous game of politics with all these cagey sidesteps, traps and subtleties. "But after the talk with Mr. Heil, and after the ease with which the $2600 order was signed the noble statesman from Ashland raged inwardly more than ever. He retracted his support of the Milwaukee tycoon. He claimed he was "forced" to signal a withdrawal of his candidacy. Where is the gun? Who held it? Or did Chapple think he had held himself too cheaply? Wouldn't $2600 for 26 speeches worth 26 cents be a better deal than $2600? The human barometer switched from sunny weather to storm again and gloomy Hamlet is himself once more.

He treads the creaking boards while bass notes are thumped slowly on the old piano. His very cough sends shudders through those who witness the stark, yet dazzling tragedy. His youthful face is scarred by the dark lines created by hapless ambition. He is impulsive and rash, restless and confused.

And anywhere from 400,000 to 600,000 Republican votes lock on in amazement at the flapping the lines projected by alleged statesman.

What would it have been to have Henry back again? But then only a few now is that Chapple at last, had a chance of being elected to anything.

FRENCH HONORS TO LIPPMANN

The French nation has conferred Walter Lippmann a Legion of Honor decoration. If honors were to be handed around to columnists certainly Mr. Lippmann would be among the very first to be decorated. But decorations are not handed out to columnists. They are given to those who have rendered service to the nation.

The Philistine's tongue is the practice up with the pantheistic paragraph. "Tuck them with trousers! Bristle them with hair! Pull the hair and turn the heads of the right people with ruddy cheeks and, presto, you have made a corps of voluntary propagandists able and often rhetorically eager to be your advocates."

No nation ever existed that was such a past master at inducing support in a refined manner as France. The Legion of Honor with its magnificent name and equally magnificent history is one of the great means to this end and when a man passes through baptism, into the Legion with all the besuties and panoply of ceremony, the airs of martial music, the wines of a sumptuous banquet, he is wedded to France and a sentiment and therefore attachments are created that are wellnigh indissoluble.

It is all perfectly legitimate upon the part of France. There is nothing underhanded about it. It is, in fact, the very highest form of fellowship. Yet it is at the same time national cleverness lifted up to its highest degree. The question for Mr. Lippmann to decide is whether, considering himself alone, it wouldn't be greater to decline membership in the Legion than to accept.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

There are several good signs upon the business horizon.

There is a significant improvement in business activity.

The recent billions assigned to use are slowly but surely pushing the machine out of the ditch and back onto the road.

If and when we return to the conditions prevailing eighteen months ago shall we also return to the methods that must have materially killed off prosperity just as it was in bloom?

The President of the National Association of Manufacturers put the situation from the standpoint of industrialists this way:

"Industrialists want to see sound business recovery so that there will be plenty of jobs. Industry's own welfare depends on prosperous workers. Industry wants to see a higher income for every family so that every family can afford to buy more of the products and services of industry."

That statement is now recognized as business gospel. To it one might add another line to make the circle complete:—when men have jobs at decent wages the demand for farm products makes prices entirely satisfactory to our vast agricultural population.

In the past there has been a most unfortunate attitude taken by administration leaders in respect to perfectly sincere and constructive criticism of measures promulgated at Washington. There has been a hostility that was bound to make a gap between classes of our population, that should have known only the friendliest of relations.

We are bound to disagree in respect to some remedies. We are bound to be affected, too, by strong or glittering personalities who sometimes have more influence upon the course of government than they should have.

But there should be no disagreement between any of us concerning the basis of all understanding. It is that anything that hurts industry hurt everyone. And the farmer, whether he likes it or not, is a business man and manufacturer.

METHODISTS AND WAR

The Rock River conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church holding its 99th annual session at Chicago last week handled the question of war in that sensible way which will appeal to nearly all who hate it but love liberty more than they detest war's poisonous fruit.

This conference condemned war as not only "utterly destructive" but also as "the greatest social sin of modern times, a denial of the ideals of Christ, a violation of human personality and a threat to civilization." Yet it would not pass a resolution condemning "war under all circumstances," and that was good sense.

During our days of peace and comfort Oxford oaths are liable to flit around and be signed or approved by young men and women who haven't considered all the possible consequences that may arise.

But today with the leaden heel of the tyrant stomping on the prostrate breast of freedom we hear no more of Oxford oaths, the pacifist quietly folds up his tent and goes about his business, shocked no doubt at the realization of what might happen if truly peace loving countries like the Class 1 democracies should actually embrace pacifism while the tyrants drove more hobnails into their shoes.

GRANDMA WAS RIGHT

Back in the days of ginger tea, snake liniments and whisky slings, grandmother always maintained stoutly that onions were a cure for colds. And many who are now grandmothers and grandpappies can remember taking the treatment and finding it effective.

But along came new medical fads and new standards of etiquette. The odiferous results of eating onions fell into disrepute in society, and doctors and druggists brought out prescriptions which were heralded as much more scientific than the old-fashioned home remedies.

So the onion came to be eaten only for pleasure—pleasure for the defiant eater and displeasure to others.

Now, however, rejuvenated glory is promised for this pungent product of the earth. A report has just been made to the American Chemical society to the effect that onions are a good treatment for colds because they contain an aldehyde which kills bacteria.

The report is highly important not only because it proves grandmother was right and offers relief from one of our most annoying afflictions, but also because it gives onion lovers an irreproachable excuse for frequent reunion with their favorite vegetable.

In Budapest, Hungary, you pay a fare, usually about two cents, to go up in an elevator in the fine modern apartments; the fare doubles after midnight. Most folk ride up and walk down.

Tourists and botanists who today climb the slopes of Mount Pilatus in Switzerland have long forgotten that it was not till the 16th century that anyone approached it. Pilate's ghost was supposed to hover there.

DALE HARRISON'S In Old New York

Aboard S. S. Borinquen at Sea—I am no statistician, but I say that at least 50 per cent of ocean travellers are fools.

Yesterday, at half past four o'clock in the afternoon, the alarms sounded a call to the life boats. The skipper had told us only the night before that there was to be a life boat drill, and he had said as emphatically as he could that he wanted every passenger to participate.

The alarms sounded. The buzzer bells screamed their call. The deep-throated steam whistle bellowed.

I was napping in my stateroom, but at the first sound I rolled out. I put the vest-like life preserver on, tying the strings tightly and carefully. Thus garbed, I hurried to the deck and stood, as I had been told, at the No. 2 life boat station. There were a few others there. Some wore preservers and others—no doubt confident of their ability to survive in the sea—boasted only by their egos—lounge by the rail without them.

Over the loud speaker system came the voice of the skipper: "Calling all passengers to their life boat stations! This is a fire drill! It is for your benefit! All passengers will please report at once to their life boat stations! Calling all passengers to the life boats!"

He repeated it. He called upon his officers to go through the boat and rout out passengers who had not responded. He made every effort to stir these people from their stupid indifference.

After 20 minutes of appeal, less than half the passenger list was on deck, and about 25 per cent of them were without life preservers. At dinner that night I chatted with some of the passengers about it. "I was taking a nap," one said, "and couldn't be bothered." "I've turned out for life drills before. I know all about it," said another. And so on.

They were smarties. They knew everything. They knew everything—everything but the fact that less than 150 miles behind us, and roaring its way across the sea, was a hurricane.

The skipper knew about the hurricane. The skipper did all he could to make these people take every precaution for their own protection that they could.

But you can't tell people anything. People are too smart. They know it all.

There is a technique to a life preserver. There is more to it than strapping it on, leaping into the sea and just bobbing around until the Red Cross or a lumbering tanker plucks you out of the water.

A great many people have been killed by life preservers. When the dead from the Morro Castle disaster off the New Jersey coast a few years ago were washed ashore—all properly equipped with life preservers—doctors found that many of them had no water in their lungs. That meant, of course, that death came from something other than drowning.

Death, the doctors said, resulted when the heavy cork filling of the life preserver struck the water and was driven with great force against the chin of the wearer, breaking his neck.

There is a simple way to avoid this. Merely fold your arms over the top of the preserver. This cushions the blow. It is simple. But some people find life boat drills aboard ship too much trouble, so they wouldn't know about that; and some day, not knowing it, they may die.

The engines are suddenly still. The dawn pours into my stateroom. I see green things—waving palms and grass. After four days of rough riding, part of the time with a screaming hurricane off our stern, we come to land—to the beautiful, peaceful harbor of San Juan; to the island of Puerto Rico where Ponce de Leon tuned his senile ears to the lorelei fairy tale of the far away Fountain of Youth; and to a land of old Spain and new America, of coffee and cane and cock-fights; to Puerto Rico where they talk Spanish and think United States. I'm going to like it here.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO
Thursday, Oct. 11, 1928

Dr. M. Goeres was elected president of the Outagamie County Dental society at a meeting at the Conway hotel that week. Dr. S. J. Kloehn was elected vice president and Dr. H. F. O'Brien, secretary-treasurer.

Bound for the United States from Germany on the first commercial trans-Atlantic voyage, the giant dirigible Graf Zeppelin was sailing steadily over France Thursday and was expected to reach the United States by Sunday morning.

The Good Pal club was entertained Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Anthony Berkers of Kaukauna. Games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Alvin Falk, Mrs. William Albrecht and Mrs. James Brown. The next meeting was to be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Brown, 308 W. Atlantic street.

25 YEARS AGO
Thursday, Oct. 16, 1913

The Outagamie County Tuberculosis sanatorium on the river bank between Combined Locks and Kaukauna was to be ready for occupancy about Dec. 1, according to Supervisor Koss, who was superintending the construction of the building for the county.

Some new names appeared among the prize winners at the Elks' bridge tournament at the Elks club last night, the winners being Len Graef, Berley Sannon and William Voss.

The Women's Missionary society of the Congregational church was to meet the following afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. W. Orblison, 699 Lawrence street.

A Verse for Today
by Anne Campbell

ONE LEAF AT A TIME

The philodendron in my breakfast nook
Pushes its glossy leaves out one by one.
A month ago, I thought its life was done,
For some one left it broken on the hook.

But it renewed itself! Now once again
Before my eyes it thrusts out pretty leaves.
So quietly God's purpose it achieves,
I cannot see it grow, yet it is plain.

All broken things may profit by the sight.
Unmurmuring and patient, it is still
A silent green example of God's will
As leaf by leaf it grows for my delight.

Czechoslovakia, visited by thousands of Americans annually, has a Declaration of Independence which was written in Washington, D. C., in 1918 by Masaryk, the first President, after he had conferred with President Wilson. The Czechs have been called "The Yankees of Europe."

The Farm Security Administration reports that better farm management has increased the production of milk on farms by 61 quarts per year for each member of the family.

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—Native Washingtonians, returning after a month's absence, will not recognize the old city. For several days now, it has been without a crisis.

Grover
O'Hara in "Gone with the Wind." Columns will be written about it.

But it is peanut stuff. It ranks along with the current crisis over whether women shall curl their hair low or curl it high.

It's Gotta Be Good

It is hard to draw the line between a Washington crisis and the common up-country variety. A Washington crisis must be ominous. It must have the seeds of war, or point to a possible re-direction of the nation's policy.

Most crises move under their own power, but some have to be whopped up like Grover Whaloe's world fair, or whether the community chest will go over the top. The Ethiopian crisis was like that. It took a lot of boosting to give it crisis standing. The Ethiopians were a long way off and they never had done our laundry, like the Chinese.

The Spanish crisis did better. It still is sort of a crisis, what with some members of congress coming back pledged to work for lifting the embargo on Government Spain can get American munitions to shoot at the other Spaniards now shooting back with Roman bullets.

Japan Made 'Em Sit Up

The Japanese crisis was—and is—a natural. Inevitably this country looks upon the Pacific as "our lake" and that makes important anything which blows up on it especially between the Japanese and Chinese. Seeds of Americans are in the war zone, together with numerous ships. When the gunboat Panay was sunk by the Japanese it fanned the thing to a high heat that can be stirred to flame when other affairs grow sluggish.

Domestic crises of real value arise from time to time to displace even international crises. Take the court bill fight. It was a five months' wonder. The reorganization fight was good, and even anti-lynching. More recently the "purge" crisis was looked upon as something likely to wreck the Democratic party, or remake it, or start a new party.

Then came the simply immense Czechoslovak crisis. As it passed, there was nothing worthy to succeed it. Farm price controversies rarely blow up into real crises, and it is despairing business to make anything out of a bye-election such as the one coming up.

Anybody with a crisis in tow would be welcomed.

Duck Dinner and Card Party are Given at Steve Otis Dwelling

Hortonville — Mr. and Mrs. Steve Otis entertained at a 6:30 duck dinner at their home Tuesday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Steenis, Mr. and Mrs. Armin Schuurle, Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Appleton, Freedom; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Daniels, Kaukauna; Mr. and Mrs. John Bottensack, Medina; Mr. and Mrs. Jess Lathrop, Hortonville; Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Otis and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stratton, Hortonville. Cards were played after the dinner.

The Hortonville high school Girls' Athletic association has begun baseball practice. Miss Esther Hawks is coach.

The following new members of the public school "A" band have received their new uniforms: Marguerite Manley, Lola Mae Morack, Bobby Collard, Opal Voelt, Francis Hoerig, Ed Ellen Otis, Leola Mae Schmidt and Veronica Doolittle.

The Hortonville high school pep club met Tuesday for their first meeting of the year. Plans will be discussed to raise funds to buy cheer leader uniforms.

High school basketball practice will begin Monday. G. Akin is the coach.

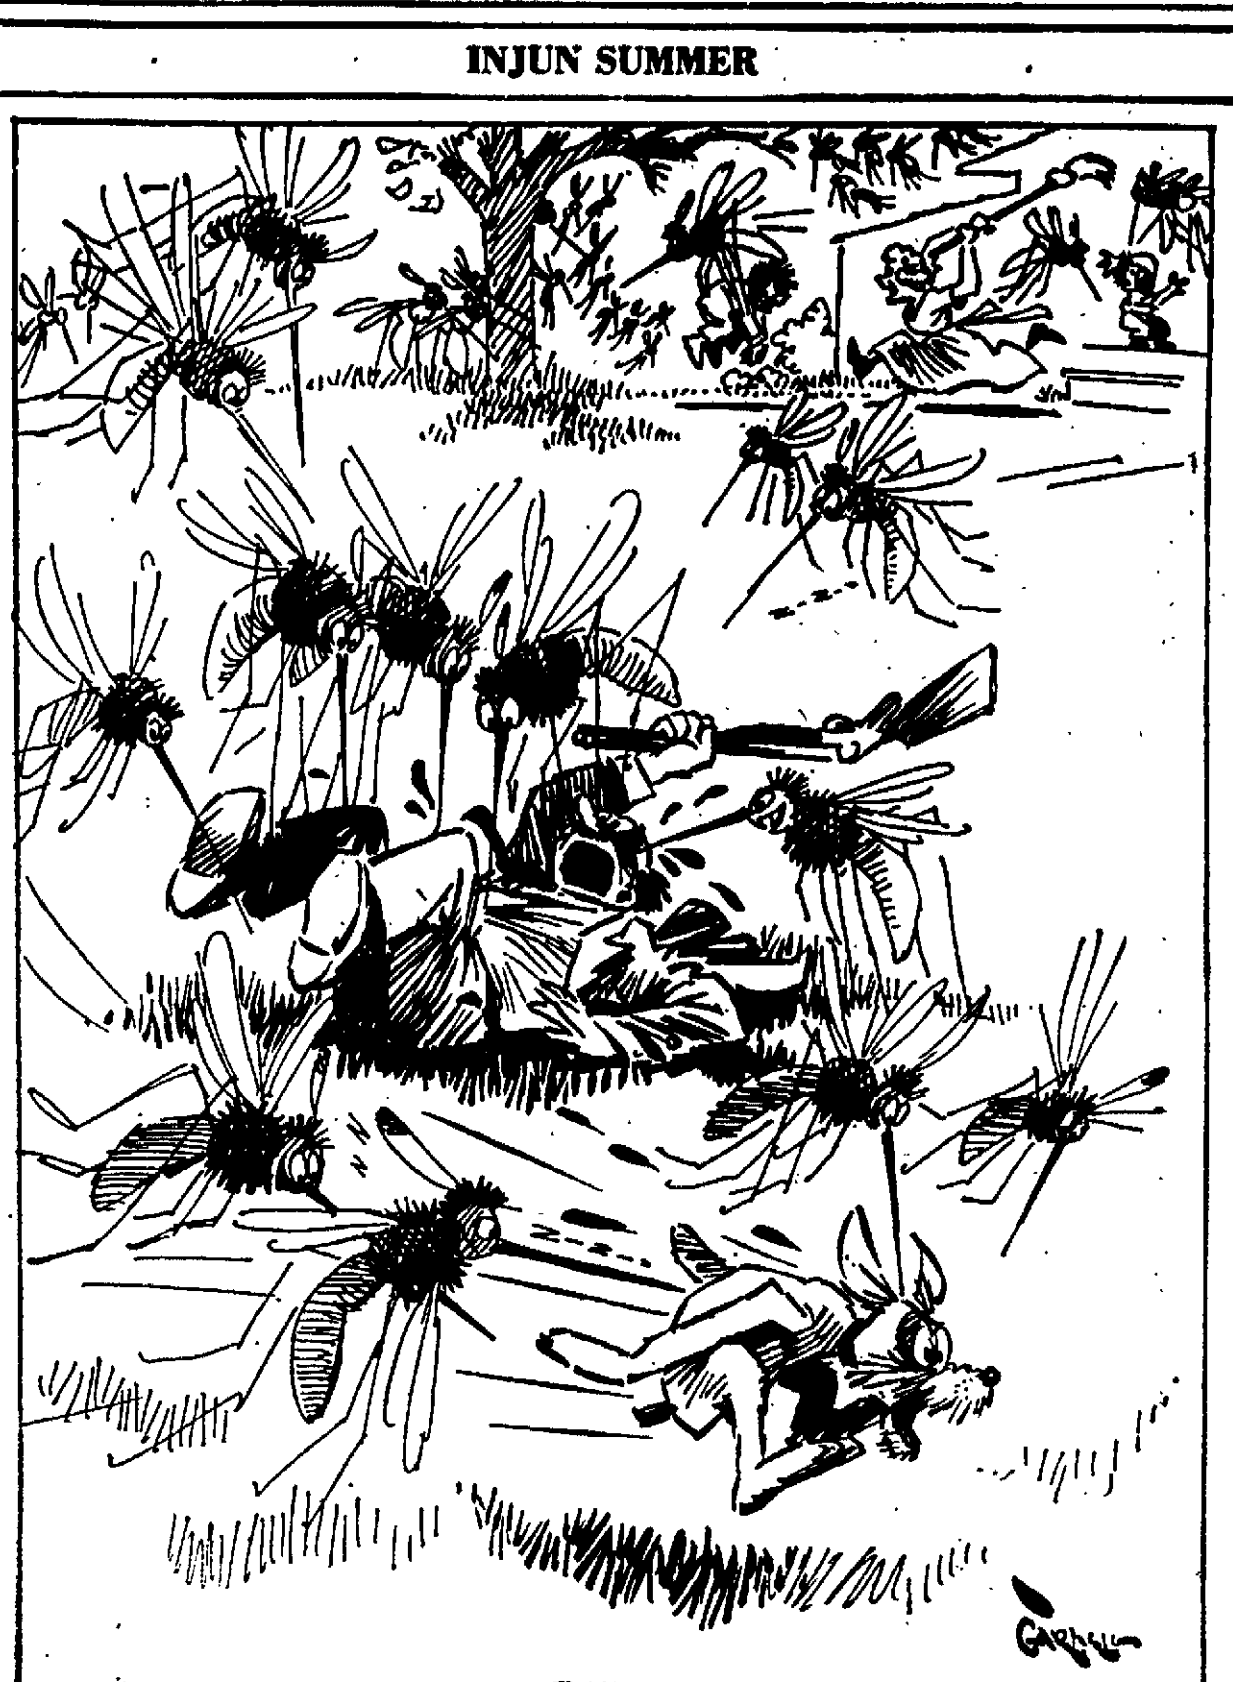

A high school touch football league is being organized. The league tournament between the four classes in high school was won recently by the senior class, captained by Sherman Burns. The freshman class placed second, juniors third, and sophomores fourth. Charles Schroeder, Ernest Schroeder and Vernon Nagreen attended a conference meeting of scout leaders at Gardner dam Saturday evening and Sunday.

Geraldine Haws of Bondell is spending this week with Dorothy Schneider. Miss Haws was a former Hortonville resident.

Happy Hortonville Girls 4-H club met recently for its October meeting at the home of Alice McNitt. This was a social meeting. The club discussed the continuing of its project work. Games were played and a lunch was served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Dorothy and Delores Hastings. Election of officers will take place at the next meeting.

High School Editors to Hear Holt During Meet

Madison — Dean Frank O. Holt of the University of Wisconsin extension division, will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Wisconsin High School Editors' conference here Oct. 22 and 23. The banquet is scheduled for the night of Oct. 22. Grant M. Hyde, director of the journalism school, said an expanded program is planned for the annual conference.

Your Birthday

"LIBRA"

If October 14 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m., from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m., and from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. The danger periods are from 7:30 to 9:30 a. m., from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m., and from 9:30 to 11:30 p. m.

Try not to allow a sense of irritation to take possession of you, for it might result in your having a very miserable day. The warmth of good fellowship or evidence of cordiality may be considered among the things that are most needed to make this day a complete success. Vanity is apt to be the cause of many a person's becoming unpopular, so let nothing make you vain, glorious, self-laudatory or too elated over some personal achievement. Stick to your own knitting, for if you interfere with someone else's it might become very badly snarled, and subject you to some unkindly comments. The combative spirit of the average person will be aroused on the slightest provocation. Be diplomatic, and try to sugar-coat anything disagreeable that you feel you must say. Married and engaged couples, as well as sweethearts, must be very careful not to be lacking in affection this day.

If a woman and October 14 is your birthday, you ought to be very versatile, a good conversationalist and an excellent housewife. Generous moods may lead you, at times, to be extravagantly free with your money. You are resourceful, and may go to extreme in being methodical or careless in matters involving your personal interests. You probably are fond of company, and can easily make a reputation for yourself as a hostess. As a tea room proprietor, shop manager, interior decorator, writer or publicity woman your name may become well known, and your bank account most satisfactory. If your other difficulties in life are as few as it would appear your matrimonial ones will be, you ought to be able to consider yourself very lucky.

The child born on October 14 should have a very sympathetic, generous nature, with a depth of common sense that may be surprising. Indications point to a successful career and a happy life.

If a man and October 14 is your natal day, you should be able to accumulate your full share of worldly goods. Courage and perseverance must be your mainstays throughout your professional or commercial career. Manufacturing, printing, contracting, writing, promoting, acting, painting or selling are among the activities that appear to have the most to offer a man of your ambitions.

BROTHERS OIL DRILLERS

Washington Court House, O.—A "wooden floor" of logs buried at great depths by ancient glaciers has been giving oil drillers considerable trouble in Fayette county.

One log 20 inches in diameter was struck at the 55-foot depth between difficult hardpan deposits. The drillers had to resharpen drills repeatedly to get through.

DIDN'T GET CHARM

Martinsville, Ind.—(7)—Floyd Peters killed a rattlesnake or thought he did. When he picked up the snake to get the rattles for a good luck charm the rattler wiggled and bit his hand. Peters went to the hospital.

WHEAT GERM

Germ means sprout, bud, embryo, birth or origin. The germ of wheat is placed near one end of the kernel and constitutes one-twentieth of the kernel. Modern milling of white flour removes not only the bran or outer coat of the kernel but also the germ is removed. These portions go into the mid-lings which are used for feeding animals, leaving the more purely starchy substance of the kernel, which constitutes 16 parts to one of germ in the kernel. The white flour produced by the modern milling process is a good food of course. Over 76 per cent of it is starch, and starch is as easily digestible and as nourishing as sugar. Over 10 per cent of it is protein, nitrogenous matter, as valuable in human nutrition as egg white, cheese or lean meat. Over 11 per cent of the refined white flour is water. A little more than 1 per cent of it is fat.

Yet refined white flour would not support life long if it constituted the only food available. The amounts of the three food materials necessary for human nutrition are sufficient in white flour, but other elements which are essential for the proper assimilation and utilization of these three food materials are not present in white flour—at least not in sufficient amount of proportion to satisfy the demand of the human body. These other elements which white flour lacks are principally vitamin B complex, calcium, phosphorus and iron.

Referring to the removal of these nutritive essentials in the modern milling process, an authority, Williams and Soyes Vitamin B1 and Its Use in Medicine (Macmillan) puts it thus: "Man commits a crime against nature when he eats the starch from the seed and throws away the mechanism necessary for the metabolism of that starch."

It is now well established both experimentally and in everyday practice that vitamin B complex, that is vitamin B1 or niacin, vitamin B2 or G or riboflavin, and the various other components naturally present in the B complex, and NOT the pure or synthetic B1 or thiamine alone, aids in the oxidation or utilization of carbohydrate (starch and sugar) and is especially useful in diabetes, for it enables the patient to get along with less insulin than would be necessary on the ordinary vitamin-free diet.

The two richest natural sources of vitamin B complex are wheat germ and a special strain of yeast grown for the purpose (not ordinary yeast that has been used for brewing nor yeast suitable for fermentation).

Wheat germ meal does not keep long. In the course of a few weeks it is likely to become rancid. Hence only sufficient to last for a week or two should be kept on hand. Any miller anywhere can catch out a pound or two if he cares to both carry on with it to accommodate a customer. A few mills now offer wheat germ in pound or two-pound packages for perhaps half bits by mail. Some of the larger drug stores supply wheat germ in similar packages at about the same cost.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Power
Which gland is the most powerful, thyroid, or pituitary?
(M. J.)

Answer—I have no idea. I have a vague notion that the pituitary

Malpractice

Father, 59, has had rupture for several years. He asked about the injection treatment at Hospital where he was examined. The hospital doctor told him that the injection method is ineffective and that operation is the only cure. (Mrs. R. S.)

Answer—The doctor who told your father that is either incompetent or an untrustworthy man. The injection treatment offers as good a chance of cure as radical operation does. Send a stamped envelope bearing your address and I'll name a physician who is skilled in the ambulant treatment. It is the method I should select if I had a hernia.

It Is Good to Eat

Received "Wheat to Eat" procured some wheat from farmer friend. Lad it ground, and an enjoying of Doc Brady's recipes. It is good to eat. It is being used by some of my diabetic friends. They use less insulin. (L. C.)

Answer—Monograph "Wheat to Eat" free on request. I'll inclose stamped envelope bearing your address. Adequate daily ration of vitamin B probably enables diabetic patients to keep sugar-free with less insulin.

Loomis Laughs at Opposition Platforms

Special To Post-Crescent

Washington—The members of the Democratic and Republican parties must have had their "tongues" in their cheeks when they prepared their 1938 platforms. Attorney General Orland S. Loomis, Progressive candidate for reelection, said in a campaign speech here last night. Loomis asked his audience to read the platforms of the Progressive, Democratic and Republican parties and compare them with the records of those parties "in the interest of all the people."

Loomis said that while he was a member of the state legislature matters of social and economic legislation for the general welfare had "few supporters among the old parties of the state."

"Every piece of legislation that now appears to promote interest in their platforms would never have seen the light of day had the reactionaries been able to defeat them," he declared. "The Progressives had to carry on the fight for these laws not only alone but against the bitter opposition of these very same gentlemen who now assume the role of proud fathers and would take all the credit."

CLOTHING FOR NEEDY

Madison —The state public welfare department reported today it had distributed more than $500,000 worth of clothing to needy persons in the eight months of this year. The August disbursement was estimated at $77,639, exclusive of $14,996 worth of household articles.

Plans for a card party the evening of Oct. 25 at Moses Montefiore social center were discussed at the meeting of Montefiore Ladies Aid society Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. Chudacoff, N. Meade street. Mrs. Sam Malofsky, Mrs. Joseph Malofsky and Mrs. Malofsky will be hostesses at the party.

A rummage sale was planned for Oct. 25 at Appleton State Bank building also.

Sunday school teachers of St. John Evangelical and Reformed church will meet at 7:30 Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Harold Gotcher, 325 N. Outagamie street.

Eightieth Birthday Of Appleton Woman Celebrated at Party

Mrs. Charles Hedberg, 1002 N. State street, a resident of Appleton for the last 15 years, celebrated her eightieth birthday anniversary Wednesday when her sons and daughters and grandchildren were present. Four generations were represented at the celebration. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hedberg and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rhinebeck, Ft. Atkinson; Mrs. Julius Kleinschmidt and son, Robert, Sheboygan; and Mrs. Celichowski, Oshkosh. A buffet supper was served.

Mrs. R. C. Mayrand won the grand prize at bridge and Mrs. Tillie Wichmann at schafkopf at the last of a series of card parties given by Christian Mothers society of St. Therese church Wednesday afternoon at the parish hall. Prizes for the day were won at bridge by Mrs. J. E. Hughes and Mrs. W. J. Schultz and at schafkopf by Mrs. Dorn and Mrs. Fred Piette. Mrs. Mayrand won the special prize and six tables were in play. A new series will begin next week with Mrs. Theodore Brunke and Mrs. Fred Douglas in charge.

Mrs. George T. Hegner and Mrs. Arthur Scholl won contract bridge prizes and Mrs. J. H. Hodges and Mrs. Arnold Peerenboom the prizes at auction at the guest day card party given by Lady Elks Wednesday afternoon at Elk hall. Ten tables were in play. Hostesses were Mrs. Ed Treiber, Mrs. Burton Manning, Miss Emma Voge, Mrs. George Nolting, Mrs. Arthur Zwickler and Mrs. Oscar Kunitz.

A "trailer party" was given by Mrs. Carl Smith last night for members of Carpenters auxiliary, No. 293, in the trailer in which she and Mr. Smith will go south this winter. A picnic lunch was served and dice was played, prizes going to Mrs. William Retza and Mrs. Earl Clark. Ten members were present, and the husbands arrived later in the evening.

An open card party will be given by Christian Mothers society of St. Mary church at 2:30 Friday afternoon at Columbia hall. Schafkopf and auction, and contract bridge will be played.

Ladies Auxiliary of Eagles Makes Plans For Hard Time Party

Arrangements for a hard time party to be held the night of Oct. 26 were made at the meeting of Ladies Auxiliary of Eagles Wednesday afternoon at Eagle hall. The committee in charge will be Mrs. Katharine Beltz, Mrs. Louise Paus, Mrs. Emma Hoh, Mrs. Caroline Kranhold and Mrs. Anna Doerfler. Following the meeting yesterday, Mrs. Peter Rademacher treated the women to a lunch in observance of her golden wedding anniversary which occurred last week.

Mrs. Sidney Jensen Is Hostess to N. S. Club

Mrs. Sidney Jensen, 1808 N. Onondaga street, entertained the N. S. club Wednesday afternoon at her home. Members spent the afternoon sewing. Mrs. O. A. Johnson, 1358 W. Summer street, will be hostess at the club's next meeting, on Nov. 9.

Pack leftover mashed potatoes into a bowl and store them in a cold place. The next day the potatoes can be shaped into balls or cakes or used as a covering for meat pie.

FLUSH KIDNEYS OF POISONS AND STOP GETTING UP NIGHTS

Live a Healthier, Happier, Longer Life

Thousands of men and women wonder why backache bothers them—why they have to visit the bathroom often at night—why flow is scanty and sometimes smart and burns. Any one of these symptoms means that your kidneys and bladder need attention now before these annoying symptoms develop into serious trouble. To flush out waste poisons and acid from kidneys, soothe your irritated bladder and put healthy things into them, get a 35-cent package of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Capsules and take as directed. This harmless, tried and true medicine always works—you'll feel better in a few days, as the supremely effective diuretic and kidney stimulant drives excess uric acid from the body which is often the aggravation of joint agony, sciatica and neuritis. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—the original and genuine—right from Haarlem in Holland. All good things are imitated. Adv.

Massed Band Concert to Precede Talk on Peace by Mrs. Roosevelt

WHEN Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt appears in Green Bay Oct. 20 for an address entitled "Peace Week," a massed band of 145 high school musicians will play a program beginning at 7:45 and continuing until the speaker's appearance at 8:30. The event will take place at the Columbus Community club in Green Bay under the auspices of the Brown County Educational association. The musicians have been rehearsing in groups for the last two weeks and met this week for a rehearsal of the entire band at Nicolet High school auditorium in West De Pere. All of the students are band "letter men" or women, having won their letters for at least one full year of band or orchestra work. They come from the Green Bay High school band, Nicolet High school band, De Pere High School band, St. Norbert college band will augment the massed band by marching into the auditorium during the playing of Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever," and advancing to the front of the hall where its brass section will take the refrain and conclude with the fanfare for brass which will be the signal for the appearance of Mrs. Roosevelt. Conductors Alex V. Enna, J. Paul Schenk and Lester Skornicka will alternate as leaders during the concert. At the conclusion of the address the massed bands will play the national anthem as the audience stands, and "America" will be played for the recessional.

Teacher Denies She Took Part in Rally Against Munich Pact

Medfield, Mass. —(U)—Friends of 23-year-old Christina Alach rallied behind her today after the Medfield school committee discharged her as a teacher because, it said, she "acknowledged taking active part" in a protest demonstration against the Munich four-power settlement. The committee announced it acted after receiving complaints from Medfield residents who recognized Miss Alach in a newspaper picture of a group protesting the Sudeten decision before the British consulate in Boston on Oct. 2. "I was just an onlooker at a demonstration protesting Chamberlain's policy over Czechoslovakia," the young teacher explained to newsmen. Told that some complaints objected because they asserted communists had sponsored the demonstration, Miss Alach heatedly denied any radical link. "I am not a communist in belief," she insisted, "nor a member of the communist party."

Fair weather with little change in temperature is expected in this section during the next 24 hours.

Building Air Liners to Fly Above Bad Weather

Berlin —(U)—Capt. D. W. Tomlinson of Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., told the Lilienthal society for aerial research today that his company soon would introduce high-flying air liners able to fly above most bad weather. The TWA executive said his company would use pressure-cabin air-liners powered by four motors, with a capacity of 32 passengers. The cabins will be super-charged to insure an adequate oxygen supply. The new planes, he stated, would avoid 90 to 95 per cent of the bad weather occurring at lower altitudes by flying at 20,000 feet or above.

Speaker Asserts War Changing China Into More Modern Country

Madison —(U)—The Wisconsin synod of the Presbyterian church laid over until spring meetings action on a resolution adopted last May by the National Assembly of the church describing war as a denial of God. The conference ended here last night. A description of heroic work by Presbyterian missionaries in war-torn Orient was given by the Rev. Lloyd S. Ruland, secretary of the board of foreign missions. The missionaries, even when advised to quit, have carried on their work, affording Chinese virtually the only help they have been getting against the ravages of war, the Rev. Mr. Ruland said. China has turned almost over-

Discuss Possible WPA Assistance For Lunch Project in Rural Areas

Forest Junction — Possibilities of WPA assistance in a statewide hot lunch project for rural schools were explained to members of the Parent-Teacher association at McKinley school Tuesday evening by Leonard Lucas, project inspector from the second district office of the Works Progress Administration at Green Bay. While the project is still awaiting federal approval at the present time, assistance, Mr. Lucas said, would consist of the services of a paid cook on a basis of 111 hours per month, selected from the certified relief lists of the municipality. Equipment and foodstuffs are to be supplied by the respective schools. The subject of grades as a basis for judging a child's progress in its studies was presented to the meeting by Miss Florence Persohn, teacher of Longfellow school, and systems of markings were considered in the discussions following the topic. Mrs. Marjorie Lindemuth, teacher at McKinley school, was chosen to represent the association at the annual Parent-Teacher luncheon in connection with the state teachers' convention at Milwaukee in November.

Pleasant Autumn Weather to Stay Friday, Forecast

Temperatures are Unusually Warm Throughout Midwest

People in these parts, along with the rest of the midwesterners, were holding their breaths today, wondering when the spell of delightful fall weather, with above normal temperatures, is going to end.

Residents of Appleton thought the moment had come yesterday, when a thin rain began falling in the morning. But the rain didn't last long and today was bright and sunny, with the thermometer standing at 67 degrees at 12:30 this afternoon. Skies were as blue as in June.

The weatherman had another nice announcement today: It will be fair tonight and Friday throughout the state. Higher temperatures in the west and north-central region tonight and in south-east tomorrow, and cooler temperatures in the north west tomorrow afternoon are expected.

For the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning, the highest mark in the city was 71 and the lowest 48, according to charts at the Wisconsin Michigan Power company plant.

Light to moderate rain fell yesterday in the states of Wisconsin, Iowa, and Missouri and last night in Illinois, Indiana, and Michigan. At Springfield, Mo., the fall measured 1.08 inches, the Associated Press reported.

Phoenix, Ariz., was the hottest place in the nation yesterday, reporting a high of 92. Lander, Wyo., with 36, turned in the coldest reading.

Presbyterians Pick Milwaukee for 1939

Madison—(P)—The Wisconsin synod of the Presbyterian church today selected Milwaukee as the site of its next state meeting to be held in October, 1939.

The Presbyterian Women's Synodical and Missionary society, which held a joint meeting elected Mrs. Carl Toft of Stanley as corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. B. Hartshorn, Waukesha as custodian of records; Mrs. H. R. Leithead, La Crosse, intermediate group secretary and Mrs. Walter Wilson, Milwaukee, secretary of membership.

The synod deferred action on a proposal to endorse a resolution adopted by the national assembly of the church last May declaring that war is a "denial of faith in God."

Woman Molested Near Scene of Girl's Death

Larchmont, N. Y. — (P)—Police widened their search for the attacker of Mary Coyle today, while they investigated a 26-year-old woman's story that an unidentified motorist had molested her.

Mamaroneck police said the woman appeared at headquarters shortly after midnight today and told of a motorist's attempt to seize her on her way home. He attempted to drag her into his automobile, she said, but she broke away. Mamaroneck is adjacent to Larchmont.

Aside from the discovery of Mary Coyle's bloodsoaked coat and belt, police reported no new clues in the brutal murder Monday night of the 17-year-old high school graduate.

Dr. Ray Perschbacher Heads County Dentists

Dr. Ray Perschbacher has been elected president of the Outagamie County Dental society, succeeding Dr. Jack B. Egan.

Other new officers are Dr. A. W. Zwerg, vice president, and Dr. Walter A. Grossman, secretary-treasurer.

Steal 64 Bushels of Husked Corn at Farm

Thieves Tuesday night drove a truck into the cornfield of the Louis Hoff farm, route 1, Appleton, and hauled away 64 bushels of husked corn. Hoff said that he did not discover the loss until a checkup had been made yesterday with the husker.

COMMITTEE MEETING

The finance committee of the common council will meet at 1:30 Monday afternoon in city hall. The committee will review bills and will prepare a report to be submitted to the council Wednesday evening.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

The Outagamie county highway committee will hold a regular meeting Monday at the highway office in the court house. Usual business will be considered.

Student Body President Will Be Named at College Friday

It will be election day tomorrow on the Lawrence college campus, as four candidates fight it out for the position of student body president to succeed Perry Peterson of Rapid River, who was graduated last spring.

Convocation tomorrow morning will be given over to campaign talks by the candidates, Bob Smith, Racine; John Hastings, Kenosha; Tom Jacobs, Chicago; and Bill Hatten, Elmhurst, Ill.

Smith is president of Delta Sigma Tau fraternity, a member of Heeler, and has played freshman and varsity basketball.

BEGIN POURING CONCRETE FOR NEW TENNIS COURTS

Pouring of concrete for eight new tennis courts was started by WPA workmen Wednesday at Appleton High school and shown in the picture are some of the workmen spreading the mixture. The courts will be pale green in color with permanent white concrete line markers. The eight courts are being built on the Winnebago street side of the property.

Sophs Entertain Classmates With Talent Show at School

Traditional hazing gave way to applause when the sophomores of Appleton High school presented their talent show before a student assembly Wednesday afternoon.

The program, an innovation for the school, will be followed by similar presentations on the part of the juniors and seniors during the year.

William Burton, the youthful but poised master of ceremonies, provided the continuity for the variety of acts which the novitiates offered.

A string ensemble composed of Norma Crow, Mornie Graef, Doris Werner, Franklin Ritzke, Vera Hoffman, Dolores Stammer, Don Van Handle and Barbara Small opened the program.

June Kuehnmstedt, in the Dorothy Lamour fashion, followed

Will Map Meeting For Sales Forces

'Sales Mean Jobs' Committee, Retailers To Convene

Plans for a "Sales Mean Jobs" meeting at which an outstanding speaker will address salesmen and saleswomen of Appleton will be developed at a conference of the crusade's general committee and representatives of the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce in the basement of the insurance building at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The meeting will be one of the steps in the drive to keep the "Sales Mean Jobs" crusade moving along at a brisk rate and to stimulate sales forces in the city. A giant public rally was held at Pierce park last month. This second meeting will be strictly for sales people.

Alex O. Benz is general chairman for the campaign. Members of the retail committee are Karl Haugen, Clark Teel, and Forrest W. Muck.

It has been suggested that a permanent program for sales people in the city be established with sales managers meeting regularly with salesmen and saleswomen to keep the "Sales Mean Jobs" crusade alive. This suggestion will be studied and discussed at tomorrow afternoon's meeting.

Hold Tryouts for Dame Declamatory Recital

Tryouts for the Dame Declamatory recital are being held at Appleton High school under the direction of Miss Ruth McKenna, speech coach. The contest is the first of a series of three recitals held each year at the high school. It is sponsored by George Dame and the winner will represent Appleton High school in the annual Fox River Valley Declamatory recital.

2 Men Pay Fines for Overloading Trucks

Two men pleaded guilty of overloading their trucks when they appeared before Judge Thomas H. Ryan in municipal court this morning and each was fined $5 and costs with an alternative of 15 days in the county detention camp. The men, who were arrested by county police, are George Poppe, route 1, Appleton, and Eugene Weyenberg, route 1, Kaukauna.

Student Body President Will Be Named at College Friday

Hastings, a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon, is Brokaw's head competitor, a member of the football squad and has played varsity basketball. He won the president's cup at Brokaw as a freshman.

Jacobs, president of Delta Tau Delta, has served on the executive board three years. He won the associate dean's cup at Brokaw, where he has been a counselor two years, and was pep committee chairman, member of Mace, and Arzel success.

Hatten, a member of Phi Delta Theta, is on the grid squad and is finance chairman of the executive committee.

DEATHS

MATHIAS BRILL
Mathias Brill, 49, 112 E. Fifth street, Kaukauna, died at 6:40 Wednesday evening at his home. He had been ill since March. Mr. Brill was born in 1889 in the town of Buchanan and attended St. Mary school and Kaukauna High school.

He was employed at Combined Locks before he became a machinist at the Chicago and North Western railroad shop at Kaukauna. Mr. Brill was secretary of the Machinist lodge and a member of St. Mary church Catholic Order of Foresters, St. Boniface society and the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Surviving are the widow; two sons, James, Gene, Kaukauna; four sisters, Miss Lena Brill, Miss Anna Brill, Mrs. Fred Goetzman, Kaukauna and Mrs. Charles Sambs, Hortonville.

The funeral will be conducted at 8:30 Saturday morning at the Kaukauna residence with services at 9 o'clock at St. Mary church by the Rev. Alphonse Roder and burial will be in the parish cemetery. Prayer services will be conducted at 8 o'clock Thursday and Friday evenings at the residence.

CHARLES KRUEGER
Charles Krueger, 64, town of Center, died about 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at his home after an illness of one week. Mr. Krueger was born Jan. 23, 1874, at Black Creek and lived the last 41 years at Center. He was a member of the St. John Lutheran church at Center.

Surviving are eight brothers, Henry, William, Appleton; Louis, John, Fred, Gustave, Center; Herman, Harry, Black Creek; three sisters, Mrs. Christ Puls, Ellington; Mrs. Herman Seitz, Black Creek; Mrs. Martin Seabow, Center; one niece, Mrs. Erma Bahr Schultz, Center.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 Saturday afternoon at the residence and at 2 o'clock at St. John Lutheran church at Center by the Rev. A. H. Werner. Burial will be in St. Matthew cemetery at Twelve Corners. The body will be at Brettschneider Funeral home from this evening until 2 o'clock Friday afternoon when it will be removed to the residence.

Christmas Decoration Committee in Meeting

Members of the Christmas decorating committee of the retail division of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce met yesterday morning to talk over the Yuletide decorations on College avenue.

The committee is composed of Clark Teel, Ray Eichelberger, Forrest W. Muck, William Peterson, Louis Luebke, Raymond J. Treiber, and Lester Miller.

Luebke and Lester Asmus were appointed to work out a design for decorations.

Navigation Returning, But Traffic Is Light

Navigation on the Fox river, at a standstill for three weeks because of high water, is gradually returning, it was reported today from the United States engineers office.

Although there has been little or no traffic through Appleton locks yet, boats are moving on the lower Fox between here and De Pere. The river is steadily nearing its normal level.

Employment Service Asks City for $740

The Wisconsin State Employment Service has filed a request for $740 from the city to help run the Appleton office during 1939, according to Carl J. Becher, city clerk. The request is for the same amount as last year. The council annually appropriates the same amount for the employment office.

Furniture Mart Opens Doors on College Ave.

The Fox Valley Furniture Mart opened its doors today at 229 W. College avenue. Free souvenirs were to be given to the first 100 visitors at the store today. Opening hours include Friday and Saturday and during these days the store will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning to 9 o'clock in the evening.

Cheney Employee Takes Blame for False Statement

him to retain his license. He asked for a probationary period, and reviewed his plans for the incorporation of his business.

Miss Chivington said she submitted the false statement of the condition of her employer's business in order to protect him, and to keep her job.

Cheney and his secretary, with two Appleton lawyers, W. H. Kreiss and James R. Joyce, appeared today for the rehearing of Cheney's case. At the first hearing recently Cheney was charged with selling unregistered stocks, with taking excess profits on his sales, with failing to make proper reports to state agencies, with pledging his customers' stocks as collateral for bank loans, and with submitting a false statement of condition last February.

His secretary testified that on the financial statement which she submitted she increased the inventory item "about $4,000," and decreased notes payable for about the same amount.

Cheney testified that he has a successful securities business, that he carries about 250 accounts, and is adding 10 to 15 each month. His liabilities at present, he admitted, aggregate $12,000.

No Complaints

Carelessness and too much attention to sales resulted in his book-keeping troubles, he said. He admitted "dishonest motives." His customers have not complained, nor have those who have loaned him securities to make loans lost money so far. A revocation of his license, he told the commission, would render him unable to redeem his obligations, and would mean losses for his creditors and customers. He said that his sales of unregistered stocks proved good investments for customers, but also admitted under cross-examination that Missouri-Kansas Pipe Lines, one of the ineligible issues, has not paid dividends.

His secretary said that unregistered sales were not reported because she didn't want to notify customers too often of offers to repurchase, as state regulations require. One good account was lost to Cheney that way, she said. Customers don't understand the purpose of the regulation, she added.

Jolin Attacks Record Of Catlin in Assembly

Gerald Jolin, Democratic candidate for the assembly from the First district, attacked the legislative record of Assemblyman Mark Catlin, Jr., Republican incumbent, in a talk before the Appleton Trades and Labor council at the Labor hall last night. Jolin charged Catlin showed a "lack of understanding of the problems of labor."

The speaker supported his charge by citing a report of the state federation of labor which he said showed Catlin voted "wrong" 12 times.

Jolin also appeared before the employees union of the Appleton Coats and Suit company at the Labor hall and hit at the legislative record of his opponent. Jolin stressed the importance of actual participation in elections on the part of labor and tradesmen for the purpose of determining, prior to the election, the attitude of the legislative candidates toward measures of importance to them.

City Officers Attend Municipalities Parley

Ten Appleton city officials are in Madison today and will remain there Friday to attend the Wisconsin League of Municipalities convention being held today and tomorrow. Those who are attending are Mayor Goodland, George Peotter, city assessor; A. C. Rule, building inspector; Claude N. Greisch, deputy health officer; George Gauslin, plumbing inspector; Alfred Wickesberg, city engineer; Elmer O'Keefe, who works in the engineer's office; and Aldermen Brautigam, Franzke and Grignon.

Trial of Oneida Pair Scheduled for Dec. 1

Magdalen Van Roxel, Oneida who with George House, Oneida, is charged with lewd and lascivious conduct, this morning in municipal court asked for a jury trial. Judge Thomas H. Ryan set the trial for Dec. 1. The pair had pleaded not guilty of the charge.

Board Orders Survey Of 4th Ward Sewers

A survey of sanitary sewers in the Fourth ward to determine whether they are adequate to carry sewage from the town of Harrison was ordered by the board of public works Tuesday. The town of Harrison sanitary district, recently organized, has requested permission to run its sewage into the Appleton disposal system.

Mrs. Lena Buchman, 316 River drive, is confined to her home with a serious knee injury which she suffered in a fall at her home Wednesday.

Charge, burial was in Riverside cemetery. Bearers were Patrick Packard, Carl A. Sherry, Harry Sylvester, Ed. Lutz, Orville Lutz and Earl Ballard.

Green Asks Labor To Reelect Phil

A. F. of L. Head Endorses LaFollette for 4th Term

Houston — (P)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today called on Wisconsin labor to reelect Governor Philip F. LaFollette "by an overwhelming majority."

In a letter to Henry Ohl, president of the Wisconsin State Federation, Green said:

"There are so many influences at work to undermine the program of labor in the various states of the country that it is imperative men of proven friendship and true sympathy to our cause be elected to fill the high offices of the state."

Other states, Green said, look to Wisconsin when considering legislation affecting workers, and added that Governor LaFollette "is a friend and true friend of the organized labor movement in Wisconsin and of the nation."

"The American Federation of Labor, through myself as president," Green said, "gives wholehearted endorsement to his candidacy for a fourth term as governor of your state."

State Traffic Toll Continues to Show Drop From Last Year

Traffic deaths are down again. The first eight months of 1938 had 21 per cent fewer traffic accidents than the same period last year, according to the National Safety council in a bulletin to Frank R. Appleton, chairman of the United States on Street and Highway Safety council.

This means a savings of more than 5,000 lives. If the reduction continues at the same rate during the remainder of the year, 1938's traffic toll will be about 8,500 lower than last year's, the council states.

The council believes that more people are beginning to realize what tragedies follow when an accident strikes, and are driving more carefully to bring down the toll.

APPROVES BOND ISSUE

Madison — (P)—A $67,000 bond issue of the city of Elkhorn in Walworth county was approved today by Attorney General Orland S. Loomis. The money will be used for construction of an addition to the high school.

It Is Said--

That the continued warm weather and lack of frost in these parts is bringing out an unseasonable array of garden products, one of the most recent being the bouquet of sweet-peas picked yesterday by Mrs. Robert Shortt in her garden at 1729 N. Harrison street.

That Carl Becher, city clerk, and Joseph A. Kox, city treasurer, had a busy day in city hall today trying to do the work of the building inspector, solve the problems in the engineering office and trying to fill the shoes of the mayor, all of whom are attending the League of Municipalities convention at Madison. Becher was acting mayor and Kox did his best to handle his own work and answer questions of the many persons who came to see other officials.

That Louis Luebke, Appleton electrical inspector, still is disappointed because he had to work on Columbus day, a holiday for all other city employees. Luebke was called about 9 o'clock in the morning because of an open circuit and traced it to Morgan school where workmen had cut part of the circuit while wiring the school. He fixed that and went home but was called again to trace another open circuit. After spending most of the rest of the day seeking the trouble, he again found the circuit open at Morgan school where workmen had severed wires to cut the school system into the main line.

Louis Luebke Will Preside at Parley Of Electrical Men

Inspectors to Hold Convention at Milwaukee Oct. 18, 19 and 20

The thirteenth annual meeting of the Wisconsin section of the International Association of Electrical Inspectors will be held at the Plankinton hotel, Milwaukee, Oct. 18, 19 and 20. Louis Luebke, Appleton electrical inspector, is chairman of the state section and will preside.

Clarence Schultz, electrical department foreman at the Wisconsin Michigan Power company, and Alvin Fulcer, Kimberly electrical inspector, will attend the convention.

V. H. Tousley, secretary and treasurer of the international association, and F. H. Moore, secretary and treasurer of the Western section of the organization, will speak at a general meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Rural inspection will be discussed Wednesday morning by E. D. Fuhr and A. S. Jackman, of the Wisconsin Industrial commission. Lighting progress will be discussed at a general meeting in the afternoon.

Registration will open at 8:30 Tuesday morning and the first meeting will be held at 9:45. Reports of committees will be heard. An inspection tour has been arranged for Tuesday afternoon.

On Thursday morning, inspectors' problems will be covered and a sound film entitled "Getting the Most out of Electricity Safety" will be shown. Officers will be elected during a business session Thursday afternoon.

Champ Cowboy Ropes Rail Instead of Calf

New York — (P)—Everett Bowman of Hillsdale, Ariz., winner of the world's all-around championship at the rodeo last year, streaked down the arena in the calf-roping contest at Madison Square Garden last night.

Hooves of the calf and his pony thudded along, his lasso whipped the air. Then he tossed the rope, one end of which was attached to the saddle.

But instead of getting the calf, he roped a railing in front of a row of box seats.

Down came 10 feet of rail with a crash. The calf galloped off disdainfully. Bowman was unhurt, but his pride suffered severe lacerations and contusions.

Butter in Cold Storage Sets All Time High Mark

Chicago — (P)—Creamery butter cold storage reserves set an all time high of 210,351,000 pounds in the United States on Oct. 1, the monthly warehouse inventory report of the bureau of agricultural economics disclosed. The amount exceeded the previous record bulk of Sept. 1 by 8,098,000 pounds, the report said.

Cheese stocks were reduced to 121,342,000 pounds from the all time peak of 127,862,000 pounds on Sept. 1.

Drawing Classes on Vocational Program

Classes in architectural and mechanical drawing are being offered at the Appleton Vocational school this fall in the evening adult program.

Cecil Furninger instructs both classes, which meet on Tuesday and Thursday nights. Architectural drawing will meet from 6:30 to 8 o'clock and mechanical drawing from 8 o'clock to 9:30.

Appleton and vicinity will be represented by a large delegation of nurses at the twenty-ninth annual meeting of the Wisconsin State Nurses association at Hotel Schroeder, Milwaukee Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The convention banquet will be held Tuesday evening. Julia C. Stimson, president of the American Nurses association will be the guest of honor. A historical pageant will be presented by the Milwaukee County General Hospital School of Nursing.

Registration will open the 3-day meeting Monday morning. An advisory council institute will be held, with a public health nursing luncheon and business meeting at noon. Addresses in the afternoon will be given by Marguerite Wales of the Kellogg Foundation, Battle Creek, Mich.; F. Ruth Kahl, regional public health consultant; and Helen F. Dunn, assistant director of nursing service of the American Red Cross. An American Red Cross dinner will be held in the evening.

Grace A. Knight, president, will give the presidential address at the evening meeting. Mary M. Roberts, editor of the American Journal of Nursing, will talk.

Business Session

A business session will be held Tuesday morning and it will be followed by talks by Anna L. Tittman, executive director of the Nurse Placement service, Chicago; and Prof. Philip H. Person of the Milwaukee division of the University of Wisconsin. The afternoon will be given over to entertainment and sightseeing.

"The Bedside Nurse" will be the topic for the third day of the meeting with talks on bedside nursing, preparing the student for bedside nursing, some of the newer medications and treatments and comparative nursing procedures in the morning. A private duty nursing luncheon will be held at noon. Talks on nursing care of the medical patient and on present day needs of the private duty nurse will be given in the afternoon. They will be followed by the closing business session and election of officers.

Annual Homecoming At Freedom Will be Held Next Thursday

Freedom—Freedom High school will hold its fifth annual homecoming celebration Thursday night, Oct. 20, sponsored by the alumni association and business men of the village.

A reception at the high school in the afternoon and a banquet at Hotel Kaukauna in the evening will be the highlights. Walter P. Hagman, principal of the Outagamie County Rural Training school at Kaukauna, will be the banquet speaker.

An 8-piece string orchestra will play at the banquet. Following the dinner, graduates will gather around a bonfire on the Freedom High school grounds. A dance will climax the homecoming.

Wisconsin's Health

BY DR. C. A. HARPER
State Health Officer

A glance at the 1887 report of the state board of health reveals that even in that prime decade the medical profession was outspoken in its criticism of styles and social restrictions that were interfering with the health of the fair sex.

Here are a few excerpts:

"The fashion plates which thousands endure agony to resemble are conspicuous models of female deformity—miserable caricatures of the natural healthy human form as fashioned by the Creator.

"It may do no good to inform them of what every observant medical man is aware—that most of their ailments and complaints brought upon themselves, and arise from their mode of living, dress, diet, etc., all of which could be prevented or avoided by a proper observance of the laws of health."

Apparently the males of fifty years ago were no paragons of sensible living, either. The same writer said of them:

"Nor do the sterner sex exhibit superior wisdom, they drink themselves into delirium tremens and chronic alcoholism; they smoke and inhale into calaritis, verugo and insomnia; they gorge themselves into gout, dyspepsia, liver and renal diseases; they gird their heads in tight-fitting hats until they are bald; they too squeeze their feet into small and ill-fitting shoes until bunions, corns, ingrowing nails and deformity render locomotion painful and difficult."

Have we gained much ground against childish vanities since 1887?

Appleton Motorists Will Have Chance to Test Driving Ability

How well can you drive?

Motorists of Appleton and vicinity will be able to answer this question when the state highway department brings its equipment for testing a driver's ability to Appleton on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 27, 28 and 29.

The equipment will be installed for the three days in the circuit court room at the courthouse. Arrangements for setting up the equipment are being completed by Captain Steidl of the county traffic squad.

Motorists will have an opportunity to see how they rate with other drivers and to see if some of their "remarks" made when they think the other fellow has pulled a traffic boner are justified.

They will have a chance to take a written test on traffic signs and

Visiting Nurse Association Elects Members of Board as Annual Meeting Ends Campaign

Neenah — Mrs. George Banta Jr., Menasha; Mrs. W. L. Bevers, Menasha; Mrs. J. F. Hunt, Neenah; Mrs. D. L. Kimberly, Neenah; Mrs. J. H. Kimberly, Neenah; Mrs. W. H. Miner, Menasha; Mrs. Samuel Pickard, Neenah; Mrs. John Pinkerton, Menasha; Mrs. Charles Sage, Neenah; and Mrs. Leo Schubart, Neenah, were elected members of the board of the Twin City Visiting Nurse association at its annual meeting Wednesday evening in the Valley Inn.

More than 60 men and women of Neenah and Menasha attended the dinner and annual meeting which culminated the association's financial drive of one week, began Oct. 5, and heard that the association had a balance at the end of the fiscal year, Sept. 30, 1938, of more than $1,000 in spite of higher expenses this year. The increase in expenditures was due, according to the report of the treasurer, Mrs. D. L. Kimberly, to the purchase of a new car for the nurses, an increase of $150 in dental clinic expenses, an increase of $50 for expenses for convention, a payment of $25 more in dues to the national convention, a telephone bill of about $4 more due to the installation of a private phone and a slight increase in nurses' salaries.

Mrs. Kimberly reported that there is more than $3,000 in the savings account and $3,657.02 in the Memorial Endowment fund which is a separate account. Henry Jung audited the books.

Lauds Program
Dr. F. G. Jensen, Menasha physician, spoke briefly at the meeting, opened, half amusing and half serious, and during the serious half of his talk he took opportunity to praise the association for its splendid work in preventive medicine and pre-natal instruction as well as its general program.

Following Mrs. E. J. Stafford's reading of the minutes of last year's annual meeting and Mrs. Kimberly's presentation of the treasurer's report, Mrs. Banta Jr., president, called for reports from committee chairmen.

Mrs. Donald Turner, child welfare chairman, reported that 12 clinics were held in the Twin Cities during the year, with 384 children undergoing examination, 162 of whom were new cases.

Reports on Clinics
Mrs. K. B. Mory reported that 78 dental clinics were held throughout the school years in Neenah and Menasha. There were 435 appointments, 193 completed cases, 103 new fillings, 619 fillings and 206 extractions. The cost of the dental clinics was $877 or an average of $4 per child.

Mrs. D. W. Bergstrom, Jr., reporting on the finance committee activity which is to raise all funds for operating expenses of the association, stated that the 10 members of the committee began the preliminary work for the drive which is the chief project, early in the summer, decide what type of campaign is to be held, the dates for it, and then call in the public committee which works together with the finance committee throughout the drive. The two groups are divided into other committees. She stated that 550 letters were sent out in the drive this year and follow up work is planned for the early part of November. The new innovation in the drive this year was a tag day which was very successful.

In presenting the report of the clerical committee, Mrs. John Senbrenner, chairman, stated that the committee of 7 women worked 140 hours on reports of the nursing association, the reports including monthly reports, quarterly and yearly reports, metropolitan reports, industrial reports and reports for the state board of health. One member of the committee, Mrs. O. T. Thompson, does all the buying for the association.

In the absence of Mrs. J. H. Kimberly, chairman of the publicity committee, who is ill, her report was read by the vice-chairman, Mrs. Ernst Mahler.

Mrs. Chester Shepard reported on the work of the education committee and listed the talks given by the members as well as the other activity. Mrs. Donald Shepard's report on the auxiliary of which she is chairman brought applause from the group. The report showed that the 12 women who are members of the auxiliary met twice a month, one meeting for supply making and one for business session. Members drive for the dental clinic, assist the board members in the drive and other work, and in their supply making, made 3,674 dressings, 18 masks, 14 aprons, folded more than 18,000 napkins and towels, among other things.

Auxiliary Work
The auxiliary sponsored a food concession at the Kiwanis Home Show and realized $38.16, worked on 43 dental clinics, gave a tea for board members, supplied the loan closet with necessary articles, purchased two reference books for the nurses and worked a total of 775 hours which is equivalent to 97 eight hour days. The auxiliary has a balance in its treasury of $159.67.

Miss Lydia Bouressa, nurse staff supervisor in presenting her annual report commented on the number of cases referred to the Visiting Nurses by the physicians. About 45 per cent of the cases last year were referred to the nurses by

County Courthouse Site Cost $1 in 1847

Neenah — Winnebago county's old courthouse site which will be sold to Oshkosh for $8,000, originally cost the county $1. In effect, the original conveyance, made in April 1, 1847, amounted to a gift. The three owners, Lucas M. Miller, Samuel H. Farnsworth and Sewall A. Wolcott, took the dollar from the county and split it three ways.

Motorist Bruised in Accident at Menasha

Menasha—Earl Johnson, 712 Jefferson street, received bruises and a small cut on his leg in an automobile collision Wednesday night on Water street. The accident occurred as Junion was going east on Water street and David De Weert, 744 Reed street, Neenah, drove out from the curb where he was parked according to police. The front ends of both cars were damaged.

Speeder Pays $5 Fine In Court at Menasha

Menasha — Robert Brand, 42 1/2 Washington boulevard, Oshkosh, was fined $5 and costs when he pleaded guilty of speeding before Justice of the Peace Ray J. Fink Wednesday afternoon. He was arrested by Menasha police Wednesday and charged with exceeding the speed limit on Racine street.

The family physicians in comparison with 27 per cent in 1932. Total service calls increased last year and the number of patients contacted increased. Maternity and morbidity cases increased with the maternity service given by the visiting nurses growing steadily. In a survey made by checking the bureau of vital statistics files and the files of the Visiting Nurse association, it was found that in 62 per cent of the babies born in Neenah and Menasha, the Visiting Nurses have had some contact with the case.

Through the use of the Mahler card, the VNA took care of 24 maternity cases in the hospital and the Emergency society furnished hospitalization for 17. Over $1100 worth of maternity work is recorded in these cases.

Special Help
Special tribute was given the Twin City Emergency society which provided hospitalization for 33 cases referred to them by the VNA, provided 7 x-rays, 2 dental cases, sent milk to 5 families, paid for one metabolism, one special nurse, provided a housekeeper for one family. Twelve other cases were referred to other agencies by the VNA.

Miss Bouressa presented a work sheet of a nurses' day to demonstrate the work done.

Mrs. Banta thanked the officers, the chairmen of the committees and all those board members "who have unquestioned loyal service to public health." Special thanks were given the business advisory board which includes D. L. Kimberly, F. E. Senbrenner, Messrs. John Hummel, George Banta, Jr., and the Rev. Walter Courtenay.

"Our gratitude to the auxiliary members is hard to express. Our nurses have given confident, skillful and conscientious service with a smile. Besides their work, these nurses hold regular staff conferences, continue study in their field, and Miss Bouressa has given many talks on the Twin City Visiting Nurse association in Neenah, Fond du Lac, Appleton and Green Bay."

Menasha—The Winnebago county Agricultural Conservation association to carry on the 1939 farm program in the county was set up at a meeting of the community representatives in Oshkosh Saturday, according to R. C. Heffernan, Winnebago county agricultural agent. David T. Wilms represented the town of Neenah and Menasha at the meeting.

Officers elected at the meeting include Otto H. Miller, Nepeuskun, president; Chester Hofberger, Wolf River, vice president; Edwin E. Mackie, Utica, third member; Harley Mosley, Rushford, first alternate; Roy Kittleson, Winchester, second alternate; Herman A. Buehring, Nokian, treasurer, and R. C. Heffernan, secretary.

Other members of the county committee include Andrew W. Walter, Algoma and Oshkosh; Harvey Schnell, Black Wolf; Milo J. Anderson, Clayton; Anton Kolbus, Omro; Bert J. Abell, Poygan; Roy E. Meltz, Vinland, and Paul M. Krings, Winneconne.

Meeting at Shawano
Local community committeemen have been elected in each of the regions of the county who will be responsible for carrying out the 1939 farm program in their respective communities. Those elected to represent the towns of Neenah and Menasha are David T. Wilms, chairman; Oscar Swatscheno, vice chairman, and Allan J. Haase, regular member.

The first information on the 1939 farm program will be given to newly elected community committees at a meeting at Shawano on next Wednesday.

R. C. Heffernan, Winnebago county agent, will talk over station WHA at Madison and WLBL at Stevens Point at 12:30 Friday noon when he will discuss dairy herd improvement activities in Winnebago county. Winnebago county with five D. H. I. A. groups, representing 128 herds, stands among the leaders in that work in the state.

The North Central 4-H clubs of Winnebago county are presenting the Prairie Farmer WLS Barn Dance show on Thursday and Friday nights at the Winneconne village hall and on Saturday night at the Greenville Grange hall. People from all over the county are taking part in the entertainment which is being held to raise funds for local 4-H clubs to carry on their activities.

The annual meeting of D. H. I. A. No. 1 was held last Thursday in the county agent's office at Oshkosh. Officers elected are Tom Webster, Winnebago, president; Robert Caldwell, Oshkosh, vice president; Louis Beck, Oshkosh, treasurer. Other members of the board of directors are Will Kirk, Omro; Jess Moon, Oshkosh, and Fred Betry, Berlin. E. E. Haman was again hired as tester. Dr. E. E. Heizer and A. C. Collette, both of the College of Agriculture, University of Wisconsin, appeared at the meeting.

Neenah-Menasha Tilt Scheduled for Nov. 12

Menasha—The annual Neenah-Menasha football game will be played Saturday night, Nov. 12, at Butte des Morts field under the lights, according to A. J. Armstrong, principal of St. Mary High school. Although the traditional date for the game is Armistice day, the game has been postponed one day because the American Legion is planning a dinner and dance for Friday night.

Menasha Church Young People Outline Program for Season

Menasha — The program for the year's work of the Lambda Tau Pi, young people's organization of the First Congregational church, was outlined at a dinner meeting of the group recently. The committees appointed include social committee, Herbert Hartung, chairman, Mary Jane Chadek and George Robinson; membership committee, Herbert Merrill, chairman, Twyla Bae Moon, Grace Voelker and Billy Woodhead; and ritual committee, Elizabeth Heckrodt, Arthur Peterson and Myra Kuester.

The first meeting of each month has been designated as a formal meeting and the second meeting of the month will be a dinner meeting. Various members of the group will participate in discussions during the formal meetings.

The Nov. 13 meeting will be in charge of the membership committee; Dec. 11, dramatic committee; Jan. 9, ritual committee; Feb. 12, social committee; March 12, executive committee; April 9, old members; and May 14, social committee. All will be dinner meetings.

Officers of the organization are Norman Michie, president; Peggy Gear, vice president; Ruth Duemke, treasurer, and Armin Weber, Jr., secretary.

Thirty young people will meet at the church at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon and from there will go to the Youth Conference at Green Bay. The Rev. W. A. Jacobs, pastor of First Congregational church, will be guest speaker.

Delegates Arrive For 2-Day Meeting

Clifford Welcomes Members of Sewage Works Association

Neenah—W. H. Clifford, president of the Neenah-Menasha sewerage commission, welcomed delegates to the eleventh annual convention of the Central States Sewage Works association from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois and Indiana at the opening session this morning.

At 10 o'clock this morning 65 delegates had registered and more came in during the morning and afternoon. About 200 plant operators are expected for the convention. Following the address by Clifford, the technical sessions of the convention began.

Wives of the delegates were conducted on a trip through Lakeview mill this morning and held a luncheon bridge party at Hotel Menasha this noon. The annual banquet of the association will be held tonight at the Valley Inn.

J. M. Helderby, superintendent of the Twin City disposal plant, was scheduled to speak at the afternoon session today. A tour of the Neenah-Menasha disposal plant also was on the afternoon program. Friday morning more technical sessions will be held while the annual business meeting will be held Friday afternoon.

City Officials Leave For League Convention

Menasha—Four Menasha city officials had left today to attend the sessions of Wisconsin League of Municipalities on Thursday and Friday at Madison. They are Walter C. Dougherty, city clerk; Edward C. McKenzie, city attorney; M. J. Grode, president of the council, and H. O. Haugh, city health officer and building inspector.

Nine Presbyterian Circles to Begin Fall Activities Friday

Neenah—The nine circles of the Ladies' society of First Presbyterian church will meet Friday afternoon and evening for the initial sessions of the fall and winter. Circle 1 will meet with Mrs. Alvin Lang, the captain, at her home on 740 Eighth street, Menasha; Circle 2 will meet with Mrs. John Witterding, the captain, at 365 Cleveland street, Menasha; Circle 3 will meet at the home of its captain, Mrs. F. F. Martin, 1302 Hewitt street; Circle 4 captained by Miss Grace Waudax at the church in the evening; Circle 5 at the home of Mrs. O. T. Thompson, 338 E. Columbian avenue; Circle 6 at the church with Mrs. A. Gross, captain; Circle 7 with Mrs. S. F. Shattuck, E. Wisconsin avenue; Circle 8 with Mrs. George Banta Jr., Riverlea, Menasha; and Circle 9, captained by Mrs. Robert Anderson, at the home of Mrs. Max Schalk, Congress street.

Ladies society of Trinity Lutheran church will sponsor a bazaar and cafeteria dinner and supper Nov. 9 in the school hall. Chairmen for the event will be Mrs. P. C. Aldinger, Mrs. Herman Kramp, Mrs. Emil Blank Sr., and Mrs. William Bohman.

About 100 persons attended the Neenah Women's Relief corps annual fall bazaar Wednesday in S. A. Cook armory. During the card party, prizes in schafkopf went to Nina Doane and Mrs. Mary Apitz, in bridge to Mrs. Ray Lesen and Mrs. Nellie Hutchins, in whist to Mrs. Peter Minten and Mrs. Margaret Brehm. Mrs. Emma Cyrtus won the guest prize. Mrs. Mary Sheerin and Mrs. Mary Apitz were in charge of the card party and Mrs. Max Radtke was in charge of the food sale. Mrs. Jeanne Herick was chairman of the fancy work sale.

Ninety members of the Neenah chapter, Order of Eastern Star, attended the 6:30 dinner and meeting Wednesday evening in Masonic temple. Mrs. Edna Moller and Mrs. Sylvia Thompson were chairmen of the dinner committee. During the business meeting, a class of five was initiated. Reports of the grand chapter sessions in Milwaukee Oct. 4, 5 and 6 were given by Mrs. Lucille Woodbridge, Mrs. Gertrude Shoman and Mrs. Elsie Diesterhaug. Plans were made for a Halloween party Oct. 26 to which all Masonic families will be invited.

Danish Sisterhood will meet at 7:30 Friday evening in the Brotherhood hall for a regular business meeting.

Valley Temple Pythian Sisters will be entertained at a 6:30 dinner Friday evening preceding the business meeting in Castle hall. Mrs. Josephine Abendschein and Mrs. Laura Jensen are chairmen for the dinner committee. Following the business meeting, cards will be played. Mrs. Ida Gibson is chairman of the October entertainment committee. Several of the Sisters are planning to attend Friendship Night at the Fond du Lac temple, Monday, Oct. 17.

Twenty members of the Determined Workers class of the First Evangelical church were guests at a supper and fellowship hour of the Berean class of Immanuel Evangelical church of Appleton Wednesday evening. Mrs. David Carlson, Appleton Baptist church, presented a talk on "What I Would Teach if I were a Teacher." Group singing

German Women are Doing Men's Work, B. P. Club Is Told

Insufficient Manpower for Military Works, Teacher Says

Menasha—There is no unemployment in Germany, rather there is not enough men to work in the munitions plants and on fortifications and because of this, German women are being put to work in some of the country, something unheard of in Hitler's regime. Women are not allowed to hold any important positions in the business or professional world. Not long ago all women teachers over 45 years of age were dismissed and within the next few years, the remaining women teachers will be dismissed. People are not forbidden to attend church services but from early Sunday morning on through the day, there are meetings and gatherings of groups for the various ages and it is advisable that the people take part.

Those were among the observations about Germany related to the Twin City Business and Professional Women's club at a dinner meeting in Hotel Menasha Wednesday evening by John S. Stevenson, principal of Lincoln High school, Manitowish, guest speaker at the evening meeting.

Doubts Hitler Sincerity

Mr. Stevenson, in commenting upon recent developments in Europe, declared that he did not believe Hitler was sincere when he said that after securing the Sudeten area in Czechoslovakia, he would make no further territorial demands in Europe. "I do not believe it will be long before he will seek more concessions," said the speaker as he expressed belief that England had made a mistake in the Munich treaty, although it may have been because England was not prepared for war.

Vocational Guidance Expert Will Address High School Students

By Jimmie Fidler

Hollywood—I regret to report that Douglas Corrigan, Public Hero No. 1—is not endeavoring himself to Hollywood. From RKO, where he is currently feathering his nest with 75,000 one dollar bills by supervising a fictionalization of his life story, come wails of woe and ire. Mr. Corrigan, they say, is more temperamental and more egotistical than the worst prima donna of them all.

Fidler—He started his Hollywood career by having visitors from his set. Next he had a brawl with Roland Brown, the director, and Marcella Burke, the writer—so serious a quarrel that both of those studio veterans walked off the set and declined to return. And from the others who are working with Corrigan come a constant barrage of lesser anecdotes, all tending to prove that he is, to say the least "difficult."

Mrs. Ripley, Sister of Menasha Woman, Dies

Menasha—Mrs. Grace Ripley, 71, Oshkosh, a member of a pioneer Oshkosh family and a sister of Mrs. E. H. Schultz of Menasha, died Tuesday afternoon. She was born in Oshkosh on Jan. 27, 1867, and was a lifelong resident of the city.

Hold Court of Review For Boy Scout Troop

Menasha—Scouts of Troop 3, sponsored by St. Thomas Episcopal church, held a court of review at the troop meeting Wednesday night in the scout rooms at the parish house. The court of honor will be held next Wednesday night. The court of review was conducted by the Rev. A. A. Chambers, rector of St. Thomas church; Carleton Grode and Kenneth Wink.

Progressives Leaving No Stone Unturned in Campaign to Keep Control of State Government

BY JOHN W. WYNGAARD
Madison, Wis. — The Progressive party is leaving no stone unturned in its campaign to retain control of the state government and to win a more secure place on the American political scene, an examination of the campaign machinery which has been set in motion from headquarters here discloses.

Fired by the desire to capture national prestige for the infant National Progressive party of America, and a consciousness of the seemingly rejuvenated Republican party which is threatening more seriously this year than it has in more than half a dozen years, the LaFollette organization is literally on its toes and working night and day to turn out the biggest vote on Nov. 8 which has ever been accorded to that perennial political family.

From three separate places in the capital city LaFollette lieutenants are now working furiously on the campaign, while the chief himself is putting in long hours on the stump in country and town, making three to five speeches a day, and reaching into every county in the state.

Executive Office Busy
In the executive office, despite the absence of its principal and official occupant, there is a frantic scurrying about of extra crews of clerks and stenographers, whirling mimeograph machines, and ante-rooms filled with local leaders and candidates getting advice and assistance in their own campaign, or volunteering advice and assistance in the campaign for the state ticket.

There veteran, white-haired, widely acquainted Colonel Charles M. Dow holds forth, greeting the local callers, dealing in local problems, and handling the routine business of the office. There is Gordon Snykin, shrewd young barrister who left the position of counsel in the governor's office six months ago to practice law privately, but who came back two weeks ago to be personal campaign manager for the governor.

There is A. W. Zeratzky, the liaison man for the old-time Progressive forces, who aids in directing the organizing work, with adjutant General Ralph M. Immell, at the NPA headquarters. Even Secretary Edward Littel, whose job has been mainly that of a contact man between LaFollette and the New Deal, is dealing in the more practical details of every-day politics now that the campaign is fully underway.

Hires Star Reporter
Apparently believing that there was still not enough brains and resourcefulness in his staff, Governor LaFollette this week quietly raided the editorial staff of the capital city's opposition newspaper by taking away its star reporter and placing him on the party payroll to write the armloads of publicity which are now being sent all over the state. (Maybe he'll write speeches too). He is Morris H. Rubin.

Surrounded by busy clerks and typists these strategists map the campaign, the governor's speeches, and watch intently the moves of the opposition.

From the office flows a steady stream of mail. One of the most effective and oldest methods of mail campaigning is again being used. From the Progressives' extensive and accurate mailing list are taken names of dozens of leaders in the county in which the governor is to speaking today, for example. To each of them goes a letter or postcard announcing Phil's arrival, with the request that the addressee, who is treated as an important local leader, help to drum up a crowd for the occasion. In this work members of the University of Wisconsin Progressive club are handy. Nightly they spend hours addressing the mimeographed postcards.

Reynolds in Charge
Over at the party's state campaign headquarters, again quartered in the historic suite of offices just off the capitol square where LaFollette Sr. held forth so long, white-haired John W. Reynolds, new party chairman and officially named campaign manager, is in command. Dictating by the hour dozens of pep letters to local ward, precinct and county chairmen, he is surrounded by another group of clerks and assistants, and big bales of literature to be broadcast wholesale over the state.

Staple of the party's literature this year is a newspaper in tabloid size which commends its readers to "Vote Progressive" and lists at length all the accomplishments claimed by the administration, and particularly the personal achievements of Governor LaFollette. It contains statistics showing school aids, pension aids, governmental expenditures, and other fiscal matters, and comparative tables to show the records of the LaFollette administrations and previous regimes of the Republicans and Democrats.

Not the work of amateurs, for the administration has plenty of able ex-newspapermen in its ranks, the sheet also contains some human interest material for the followers of the Progressive political gospel.

Children's Attitude
For example, there is the contribution of Mrs. Isabel Bacon LaFollette, wife of the governor, discussing the political attitude of the governor's children. "These spineless Republicans and Democrats are combining to beat us," is attributed to Bob III as his comment on the erstwhile Republican-Democratic coalition.

And Mrs. LaFollette goes on to explain to her son that "there are no rules of fair play among the selfish interests."

The attitude at Progressive headquarters on the prospects for election day are interesting. When a reporter approached Reynolds yesterday, he asked that Julius P. Heil, the Republican nominee, be given a message from him. "Tell Heil that we're out to elect LaFollette," he said. Not a word about Herman Ekern, Progressive candidate for the United States senate. Apparently his chances are better than the rest of the ticket.

Progressives of Wisconsin, frankly enrolled in the fight of their lives, a fight which will determine their future political travels, are leaving nothing to chance. In politics today as always, organization, work, strategy, and energy are the most effective factors.

Amateurs Will Clash Tonight

Two Windups Will be Highlight of 7-Fight
Program

THE CARD
Carl Schumacher, Racine, versus Jimmy Panagos, Milwaukee, at 147 pounds. (Five rounds.)
Marshall Simonsen, Racine, versus Jimmy Richardson, Fond du Lac, at 112 pounds. (Five rounds.)
Harry Stephens, Kenosha, versus Fay Gennett, Milwaukee, at 155 pounds.
Dago Schuler, Kaukauna, versus Al Robbins, Oshkosh, at 142 pounds.
Chippy Lutz, Appleton, versus Phil Effenberger, Oconto Falls, at 140 pounds.
Hoxey Lamers, Little Chute, versus Bob Hannes, Oshkosh, at 145 pounds.
Kenny Thorpe, Clintonville, versus Jerry Gutman, Fond du Lac, at 147 pounds.

AMATEUR boxing will open for the season at 8:30 tonight in Armory G when Oney Johnston post of the American Legion presents a 7-card program with two windups. The windups will be five rounds each, the supporting bouts three rounds.

The other windup will send Marshall Simonsen, Racine, against

ZWICK TO APPEAR
Phil Zwick, the Kaukauna snot as he often has been dubbed, now visiting at home after several years of boxing in England and parts of the British empire, will be introduced from the ring at tonight's amateur card, it has been announced. He will take a bow along with Elmer Johnston, Appleton, his first manager and promoter of professional boxing and wrestling bouts here for several years.

Jimmy Richardson, Fond du Lac, at 112 pounds. There will be all kinds of action when they clash because Jimmy punches all the time. Simonsen is a 3-times golden gloves champ.

The fifth bout will show Fay Gennett, German-French lad from Milwaukee and a golden glove, against Harry Stephens, Racine, another champion. Gennett is rated one of the fightingest fighters Milwaukee gloves shows have produced.

In the remainder of the card valley talent will dominate. The fourth bout will have Dago Schuler of Combined Locks against Al Robbins, a hard-punching young fellow from Oshkosh who delights in trading leather.

In the third bout, Chippy Lutz, Appleton High school boxer, will tangle with Phil Effenberger. Lutz has come along fast in the last year or two. His opponent is unknown here but reported to be a product of northern Wisconsin shows where opponents come tough.

Hoxey Lamers, Little Chute, will appear in the second bout against Bob Hannes, Oshkosh. Hannes will be making his first start here but has a reputation around Oshkosh.

Kenny Thorpe, Oshkosh, tangles with Jerry Gutman, Fond du Lac, in the opener. Both recently have gotten into the amateur sport and will be making their first appearances.

The usual seating arrangements will be in vogue this evening with the majority of the seats at low prices.

Mystery Man to Appear at Show

"Bat" Will Grapple in Windup of Mat Show
At Menasha Armory

Menasha—Bat, a hooded mystery man, will appear on the professional wrestling show at S. A. Cook armory next Wednesday, according to William Erickson, promoter. The Bat is a newcomer to Twin City wrestling fans and will unmask only if he is defeated. His first opponent will be Dickie Gerber, South Bend, who holds the Indiana middleweight title. The bout will be two out of three falls with an hour time limit.

Buzz Reynolds, Salt Lake City, will be back for the semi-windup bout, also for two out of three falls with an hour time limit. His opponent will be Jungle Joe Bauer of Amarillo, Texas, who will be making his first appearance here this season.

Two other old favorites will be back for the opening bout. They will be Tubby Reinhardt, Watertown, and Louis Kodrick, Peshigo. Their bout will be one fall with a 30 minute time limit.

Little Chute in 14 to 7 Victory
Over DePere '11'

Red Boots Counts First Touchdown and Amy
Hammen the Second

KIMBERLY—The Little Chute Flying Dutchman football team defeated DePere Merchants here under lights last night and annexed their third victory. The score was 14 to 7 as result of two touchdowns and a safety against a touchdown and point.

The Chuters counted their first touchdown in a hurry and before the fair-sized crowd had settled down. A bad pass from center sailed over a DePere back's head into the end zone and Diamond, fullback, picked it up only to be tackled in his tracks. It was a safety for the Chuters.

In the second quarter the Chuters counted again on a well-placed pass from Amy Hammen to Red Boots over the goal line. Boots juggled the ball for several seconds and then gathered it in for the marker. The kick for the extra point was wide.

DePere got going in the third quarter and soon counted and made the point leaving the Chuters in front by a point. Baeten outdistanced Van Dyke as the two raced down the field and the invader ended by crossing the goal line after a 30-yard sprint. Several Chuters barely missed him. The pass was from Diamond, DePere fullback. Baeten then booted the point.

Hammen Scores
The final quarter had Doc Hartjes, Greg Hartjes and Hammen alternating on end runs and line plunges with Hammen scoring from the 2-yard line. The kick was blocked by the DePere center.

The Dutchman were constantly threatened by end charging DePere backs, Baeten, Diamond and Heesakker, who were highly elusive. However, when they got down near the goal line they didn't have the punch to pick up yards.

Hard tackling and blocking were one feature of the contest while punting was another. The team kicking with the wind had a great advantage for the squad kicking against it seldom got more than 20 yards. Red Boots got off one kick for 60-yards and out of bounds on the West DePere 5-yard stripe. It set the stage for the first Chuter touchdown.

Porath, giant Chuter tackle, bore the brunt of the Dutchmen's offense and defense in the line. Marvin Hartjes and Jerome Helt figured heavily for the backfield. Destache, Diamond and Heesakker were the invaders' stars.

Tuesday the Green Bay-Pere team will meet the Chuters under lights.
The lineup:
DePere: Wilmet, L. E. DeBruin, L. T. Johnson, R. G. Robertson, R. E. VanBelling, R. H. Skender, R. H. Herschler, R. H. Getzfeld, R. H. Diamond, R. H. Substitutions: DePere—Anderson, Baeten, Compert, Utch, and Voss; Little Chute—Maas, Porath, Lamers, Baeten, Helt, Van Grinsven, P. Van Langfelt, Block, Jensen, G. Hartjes, Tabolski and Versteeg.

Ripon Gridders At Full Strength

Crimson Battles Beloit in
day Afternoon

Ripon—At full strength for the first time this season, the Ripon college Redmen hope to start their most effective lineup against Beloit here Saturday. An open date last week permitted Coach Carl Doehling to give his men several days rest. Improved offensive skill and a sharper defense are in evidence as the pressure is turned on again in daily scrimmage sessions.

Co-captain and Fullback Roly Horky, veteran Tackle Doyle Balliet, and sophomore Quarterback Sveto Kremer are ship-shape again and will strengthen Ripon greatly. To correct a weakness in the center of the line, Les Harness, senior guard, has been moved to the pivot spot, replacing Sophomores Anderson and Thronson.

Ripon will start Larson and Rock at ends. Eichkoff and Balliet, tackles; Stewart and Jantz, guards; Harness, center; Kremer, Backfield; Gerrie and Horky in the backfield.

Neenah High school gridders invade Shawano this week for a Northeastern Wisconsin conference game and here's a picture showing the two co-captains and Coach George Christoph talking over the strategy to be used against the Indians. At the left is Robert Vander Walker, who played guard until he suffered a fractured collar bone; center, Warren Kettering, halfback; and Coach Christoph. The Rockets and Indians will clash at Shawano. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Billy Herman Reported Headed For St. Louis as Cardinal Pilot

NEW YORK—(AP)—Lots of news today, boys. . . (A) Billy Herman of the Cubs is reported headed toward St. Louis as manager of the Cards (and don't let them laugh that one off). . . (B) At least two big Pacific coast schools are flirting with Carl Snavely of Cornell (and don't let them laugh that one off, either, for we can give names). . . (C) Wallace Wade of Duke is about to give up the hunt for a big name coach to succeed him when he moves up to the athletic director and will host Carl Voiles, his first lieutenant, into the head coach's job. . . Voiles, a former U. of Illinois man, is O. K.

Note to All America football pickers: Be sure to tag Phil Swaidon, New York U. tackle, among your list of eligibles. . . The boy's got it. . . Can anybody give Sol Goldberg (Marshall's dad) a job in Florida during the winter? . . . He's sold his West Virginia picture show and wants newspaper offers either for reporting on football or working in the circulation department. . . What's all this stuff about the "Jacks Landis and Bramham not getting along so hot"? . . . They used to be just like that.

Good for Leo Durocher. . . He's a hustler himself and can make others do the same, which counts. . . We say the Dodgers made a fine choice. . . Also Leo is known as one of the flashiest dressers in either major league, if that means anything. . . At least 15 football games on Saturday's schedule go this way or that, so be careful of those pools, boys. . . Ceferino Garcia took his first workout for Henry Armstrong yesterday and looked great. . . Don't know how much truth there is in it, but New York columns have Dick Harlow headed for Penn and point out that two of his chief assistants already have showed up.

Which we regard as a slam at young George Mungler who every one thinks has done a good job.

Three teams remain tied for first place as the result of matches last night. St. Mary won two games from California as Rothchild hammered a 213 game and 554 series. A Hoffman topped the losers with a 200 game and 536 series.

Utah took the odd game from Oregon as J. Engel showed a 533 series. H. Tillman grooved a 202 game and 540 series for the losers.

Stanford picked up two games in a match with Montana as Schaefer spilled the pins for a 200 game and a 568 total. Goldberg paced the losing quint with a 538 series.

Two games were credited to Idaho in a match with Gonzaga. Lutz was the big gun of the Idaho attack while M. Reil rolled 502.

Washington won two games from Santa Clara with Eastwood pounding a 219 game and 580 series and Lehman backing 216. M. Herner was high for the losers with a 546 total.

Marion Practices for Homecoming Battle
Marion—The Marion High school football team has been practicing diligently the past week in preparation for its homecoming game which will be on Saturday when Clintonville comes here prepared to go home with the winning score.

There will be a big parade Friday evening and a bonfire at Friday a pep meeting will be held and speeches given Saturday afternoon the main attraction of the homecoming will take place when the football game takes place. Saturday evening a dance will be given in the high school gymnasium.

GREEN BAY—The Packers will get their first taste of 1938 eastern football Sunday afternoon at the State Fair park, Milwaukee, when they tangle with George (Potsy) Clark's greatly improved Brooklyn Dodgers. The kickoff is at 2 p. m.

The Dodgers are tied with Washington for the top position in the Eastern division with two victories, one defeat and a tie game. Brooklyn bolstered its position last Sunday in Pittsburgh by walloping Johnny Blood's Pirates, 17 to 7.

Parker Star Quarterback
Headed by Ace Parker, brilliant quarterback who has been one of the outstanding stars of the season, the Dodgers have a wide open attack flanked by spinner plays and deceptive reverses which mean plenty of trouble.

One of Parker's partners in the Brooklyn backfield is Beattie Feather, who always caused Green Bay plenty of grief when he was lugging the ball for the Chicago Bears. George Halas, Chicago pilot, traded Feathers to the Dodgers during the summer for three gridders but right now Halas is probably wishing he had Feathers back in the fold as Beattie has been hot as firecrackers in recent games.

Packers Work Overtime
Coach E. L. Lombau has been working his Packers overtime this week and expects to have his club hitting on "all eleven" in Sunday's game. Special stress is being laid on kicking and signal calling this week in hopes of remedying some of the weakness which cropped out in the Detroit fracas.

All signs point to a capacity crowd this week-end and the State Fair park management is making arrangements to handle an overflow. Plenty of good seats are still available on both sides of the field according to E. A. Spachmann, director of ticket sales for the Green Bay Packers, Inc.

Kimberly Shows

Papermakers Hope to Remain Undeclared in Tri-County Loop

Kimberly—Coach Ray Hamann and his high school gridders will travel to Manawa Friday where they will meet Manawa High school during the afternoon.

The Papermakers have been riding on a winning wave in the Tri-county conference and expect to have a real battle on their hands with the Wolves. Manawa has an experienced line that has given opposing teams much grief and misery.

The injured Papermakers are gradually rounding in shape again and are expected to see action Friday. A contingent of Papermaker fans plan to follow the team to Manawa. Next week the Papermakers travel to Menasha for a game with St. Mary's. A victory Friday will insure the Papermakers nothing less than a tie with one conference game remaining with Marion here the latter part of the month.

Leo Durocher Is New Dodger Boss; At Least for Year

Scribes Aren't Optimistic About His Baseball Future

NEW YORK—(AP)—One of the most eagerly sought positions in all sport, the managership of one of the 16 big league ball clubs, has been handed to Leo Durocher, 33-year-old short-stopping product of West Springfield, Mass.

Having reached the pinnacle of his profession, Durocher was so happy he barely could talk faster than 200 words a minute when he faced the metropolitan baseball writers yesterday to receive congratulations on his new job with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

His joy was tempered only by the fact he had to be back in West Springfield today to attend the funeral of his father, a rabid baseball fan, who died Monday night.

Leo fairly bubbled as he told of his plans for the Dodgers. General Manager Larry MacPhail broke in to remark: "If they print everything you've said, we'll get the biggest press in history on the appointment of a manager."

A cynic in the back row said in an aside: "You'll notice they're only giving him a one-year contract. Wonder who they'll be appointing this time next year?"

And there you have one of the daffiest things about the national game. Durocher, a fine, fighting shortstop since he broke in with the Yankees 11 years ago, is so happy he could bust at the prospect of managing a seventh place ball club for one year.

If he is fortunate and shot with luck, maybe his contract will be renewed for 1940. But Burleigh Grimes, whom Durocher succeeds in the long line of Brooklyn pilots, wouldn't advise you to bet on it.

Neither would Babe Ruth, who came out of retirement some months ago to coach for the Dodgers, and expected to fall heir to Grimes' job. They offered to let the Babe coach again next year, but he turned it down.

As he looks around him, Durocher may notice that both his new coaches are former big league managers. Bill Killefer had eight years of it, with the Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Browns. Charlie Dresen piloted the Cincinnati Reds.

Little Chute—St. John Catholic High school gridders, after playing three games on the road, will show before local fans Sunday afternoon when St. Mary Zephyrs invade the local field. It will be a Catholic conference game and will be the feature of the St. John homecoming.

After a couple easy drills, Coach Greg Hartjes sent his proteges through a hard workout last evening. In the first meeting of the squads, St. Mary got the jump in the first half but thereafter was held scoreless. The final count was 13 to 0. One touchdown came as result of a 229 game and 587 series and N. Ecker netted a 211 game.

Illini in Secret Drill for Battle With Notre Dame

Zuppke Locks Gates; Intends to Upset Irish Saturday

BE WESLEY CARTY
CHICAGO—(AP)—Bob Zuppke, the wily coach who painted Arizona landscapes and coaches football, has locked the gates around the University of Illinois practice field and that gesture hints sinister designs upon eleven or more Notre Dame "Irishmen."

Opening of practice for this Saturday's game with Notre Dame found the Illini working out in secret for the first time this year.

It is no secret that Bob Zuppke would like to do a little better than last year in surprising the Irish of Elmer Layden with a scoreless tie in Champaign.

In addition to keying his boys for a tough job Saturday, Zuppke needed a little privacy to figure out what he's going to do with his backfield.

Quarterback Injured
Mel Brewer, quarterback, was definitely out of the Notre Dame game with a torn knee ligament. His place will be filled by a senior, Phil Pezzoli. Just who other starters will be remained a little cloudy as Zup intended he might do some shanking up.

In yesterday's drill against freshmen equipped with Notre Dame plays, Cliff Peterson and Jack Warder were at the halves a good portion of the time, but Bob Wehrli and Don Elting, the latter a sophomore, saw plenty of action. George Rettinger did the greatest part of the fullback work.

In other Big Ten camps yesterday:

Tony Gradinski, speedy halfback, was listed as a doubtful starter for Wisconsin against mighty Pitt when a leg injury was reported to have failed to respond to treatment.

Long Scrimmage
Chicago's Maroons scrimmaged long against Iowa players and Coach Clegg's Shoughness indicated John Wilson, soph, would start at right tackle; Mike Enich, 212-pound quarterback, was shifted to center as Irl Tubbs sent his Iowans through a hard drill with Russel Busy at quarterback.

Minnesota polished passing and running plays for Michigan as Harold Van Every, out with injuries for three weeks, was crossed off the list of active Gophers for this Saturday. Tom Harmon, the sophomore who played some brilliant ball against Chicago last week, looked like a center Saturday as Michigan stopped a Gopher-attack-armed from team cold.

Speedy backs were put through their paces at Columbus as Ohio State worked on coaching up plays for Northwestern; Coach Lynn Waldorf put his Northwestern "Cats" against a freshman crew which unleashed lots of the Francis Schmidt "razzle dazzle."

Bo McMillin felt a little cheered when he described as his weakest point was filled by the return of Russell Sloss, veteran center. Purdue wound up preparations for its game in New York with Fordham by snapping through an offensive scrimmage.

Clintonville Bows To Jordan College

Former Shawano, New London Boys Feature In 16 to 0 Win

Clintonville—Last night the Jordan college football team won the tutelage of Martin Garrity, former Shawano High school coach, swamped the Clintonville FWD Trucker semi-pro eleven, 25 to 0. What was expected to be a hard fought game turned out to be nothing more than a good track meet for the Jordan squad. Both teams played fairly even in the first quarter with the Trucker having the ball deep in Jordan's territory nearly all the time. But in the second quarter Jordan broke loose and started its scoring spree. Garrity used mostly boys from around this territory with the bulk of the lineup consisting of Shawano and New London talent. Jordan scored its first marker in the early minutes of a second quarter when Steffen snagged a long pass putting the ball on the Trucker 19-yard line. Then, after Polakiewicz gained 6-yards around end, Eddie Wagner, one of Garrity's former boys, breezed a bullet pass into the waiting hands of Polakiewicz, who stepped over the goal line for the touchdown. Steffen's kick was good putting Jordan in the lead 7 to 0. Another touchdown came in the third quarter on a pass from Wagner to Steffen for 30 yards. This time the kick was not good.

Jordan was led until the fourth quarter by the other markers. Wagner unhooked another of his passes to Solomon who carried the ball to the 7-yard line. On the next play Jordan picked up 2 yards through the center of the line and then Wagner let loose another heave to Gilmore, the colored boy from Be. Jo, who was standing in the end zone. The kick for the extra point again failed.

Izzy Polakiewicz, a former New London high star, helped Jordan get its last touchdown when he intercepted a pass and ran it back to the 8-yard line. Wagner again made the assist for the touchdown when he fired a pass to Anderson, also a former high school star under Garrity's at Shawano. Wagner added the 25 point on a perfect place kick.

New Stars Beginning to Make Presence Known on Gridiron

BY DREW MIDDLETON
NEW YORK—(AP)—A place kick between the goal posts; a pass tossed through the shadows in the last minute of play; the quick shift, the break and the dash down the sidelines as the stands roar—and a football star is born.

There are new luminaries aplenty on the horizon, some sophomores just tasting glory, other veterans rising to their big year.

Out at Minnesota they are singing the praises of Wilbur Moore, the halfback who has inherited the mantle once worn by Pug Lund and Jules Alphonse. A senior, Moore was unheralded in the pre-season ballyhoo, but he is the big noise now, the best runner on the squad.

Outstanding Gopher end thus far is George Nash, who has caught passes and shone defensively on a line that has kept the enemy outside the Minnesota 45-yard line thus far.

Notre Dame Newcomer
Bob Sagau, best freshman back last year, is Notre Dame's most notable newcomer. He plays left halfback, the most arduous backfield position in the Irish system.

If Notre Dame is as good as mid-westerners think, Sagau will learn football this year and emerge as a fully rounded player next season.

Resurgent Michigan offers Tom Harmon, an able ball carrier and blocker who has been going well behind a veteran line, Wadde Young, the Oklahoma end who sneared Rice's Ernie Loin and harried Texas' passers, is the man of the hour in the Big Six.

Two outstanding stars on the coast apparently belong to Oregon's Webfoots. Jimmy Nicholson and Jay Graybeal, two fine halfbacks, have passed and run Oregon to the top of the coast conference. Cotton Miller, Louisiana State back, place kicked the field goal that beat Rice, was made a major general on Governor's Leche's staff and grabbed a sheaf of explosive headlines.

Linemen in South
Fine linemen are making their presence felt in the south. Dan Hill, Duke center, has been throwing his weight about. Steve Moronic, North Carolina's tackle and co-captain, Bernie Smith, Tulane's five center, and Paul Severin, Tarheel end, are other brightening stars.

Best sophomore back in the south, according to deafening publicity and one or two opponents, is Sweet LaLanne, the quarterback at North Carolina.

Good backs are as plentiful as linemen are scarce in the east. At Brown a great back comes into his own as Irving (Shine) Hall hits full stride as one of the best ball carriers. Francis Reagan of Penn is making the Quakers forget the big four of 1936.

New York U. Coach Mal Stevens calls Joe La Manna "potentially one of the best I've ever seen." Hal Lube of Colgate looms as the passer to succeed Columbia's Sid Luckman as the east's best.

At Syracuse is Stan Johnson, a soph fullback, and Bill Eschenfelder, a tackle who may oust his captain; at Yale it's Harold Burr, cocky little passer and kicker; at Navy the boys tout halfback Cliff Lenz. Hal McCullough, a triple threat, is making good at Cornell, and Len Eschmont is the man to make 'em forget the seven blocks of granite at Fordham.

New York—(AP)—The limb on which the "experts" crawl at the beginning of every baseball season is out to be a pretty stout piece of wood for 23 of the diamond writers during the 1938 campaign.

That number, of the 60 who participated in the annual Associated Press pre-season pennant poll last April, picked the New York Yankees and the Chicago Cubs to win their respective league championships.

Only two of them, Charley Segar of the New York Daily Mirror, and Sid Feder, Associated Press baseball editor, "hit the nail on the head" again in picking the Yankees in four straight for the World Series in the Associated Press' series poll last week.

Improvement in Offense Makes Monmouth Happy

Scots Blame Last Week's Defeat on Offensive Lapses

MONMOUTH, ILL.—Encouraged by a vastly improved offense which gave Monmouth fans something to talk about, even if the defense cracked on several occasions, the Fighting Scots are preparing for their invasion of Wisconsin this weekend with improved morale. Coach Ivan Cahoon, looking for reserve material and for some faster linemen, seems to be concentrating on his sophomores. This week the first string has included only two seniors and two juniors.

Not at all pleased by the defensive lapse, the coaches have given the boys plenty of work in this field while the offense has stuck to timing and polishing plays. The ends came in for their share of attention and the possibility that Bob Byron, regular end last year, may be ready, has brightened things in that department. Probably the most encouraging feature of this week's practice is in the running of Chuck Skinner, only senior back. Shifted to fullback when Fritz Wallen, junior, was hurt, he filled in but failed to get going as he had at halfback.

While a pair of sophomores are carrying the quarterback duties and another pair are working at left half, the problem of the pivot post seems to be solving itself with the rapid improvement of Bob Cleland, son Jim Rupp free to play guard in his natural position. The other guard post is taken care of by a pair of juniors, Jim Vipond who, despite his 164 pounds, takes care of a lot of territory, and Del Gardner, a huskier lad who showed well toward the end of last season.

Plunkett at Tackle
Two veterans are staging a battle for the right tackle post. Dud Plunkett, whom Lawrence fans will remember as a hot basketball forward, is a junior while Stan Vick, a veteran of two other campaigns, is a senior. But this week a pair of sophomores have been getting most of the attention at this post while Leath Nelson and his brother, Leath Nelson, have been placed at left end and left tackle, respectively.

A number of minor injuries have caught up with the team this week and the failure of Lewis Williams to get his ankle into shape leaves the team without a reserve fullback.

Little Chute—W. Schumacher rolled a 227 series and Masaras a 600 series for high individual scores in the Combined Lox Mill Bowling league at Wonders alleys this week. The Cardinals had a 946 for high game and the Packers a 2,770 for high series.

Although the Packers rolled the highest series of the evening, Cardinals won two games from the quint. W. Falk was high for the winners with a 557 series. Schumacher had 227, R. Hein 213 and G. Trentelge 212. Masaras topped the losers with his big series and a 212 game while Hall rolled 210.

Rams won two games from Bears with N. Vander Pas showing a 588 series and 211 game and K. Piepenberg coming through with a 208 game. Henning tallied a 209 game and Vanden Burt a 542 series for the Bears.

Eagles whitewashed the Lions when J. Strick unhooked a 209 game and 569 series. B. Lambie topped the Lions with a 527 series, and a 189 game.

Giants won the odd game from Redskins as Charles Ehlike cracked a 540 series and 216 game and Erv Feldhamer scored 202. Flora Schuler paced Redskins with a 563 series and games of 207 and 203.

In the first quarter on a short pass from Christensen to Dimmer in the end zone, Christensen then passed to Kriwanek for the extra point making the score 14-0 at the end of the first quarter. In the second quarter the two teams went scoreless.

In the second half Kriwanek, Larsen, and Ebeling each scored a touchdown. Ebeling scored his touchdown on an intercepted pass and a run of 40 yards. Extra points were made by Dimmer and Ebeling on passes caught in the end zone.

Denmark made five first downs while Hilbert failed to collect one. Denmark plays at Wrightstown this week.

THE BEAU BRUMMEL OF DUCK LAND

By Cal Johnson

CAN you distinguish a wood duck from other species of the duck family? If not, it might be well to become better acquainted with this beautiful species of water-fowl for the migratory bird laws do not permit shooting this rare species at any time.

There are four characteristics the wood duck possesses which no other duck boasts, and after a hunter once learns how to recognize a wood duck these different characteristics are so pronounced that they will never be forgotten. The four are the method of flight, coloring, their foolhardiness and the whistle they make when they get off the water.

Wood ducks in flying have their heads continually in motion, weaving constantly from side to side, as if peering for something in the marsh below them. No other bird common to the hunters of the mid-west has this characteristic.

Wood ducks are very tame, almost to the point of foolhardiness. They will not rise off the water as quickly as other types of ducks, and in flying they are likely to fly much closer to a hunter than any other species of waterfowl.

The wood duck is brilliantly colored, with a white underpart of the body which can easily be distinguished while the duck is in flight. Their highly-colored crest, topknot, and cheeks are not so easily recognized while wood ducks are in flight but can be seen better when the birds are resting on the water or on land.

Make Peculiar Sounds
Wood ducks make a very peculiar noise when they rise from the water, a sound which is unlike that made by any other duck. This sound, while not very loud, carried distinctly over water and marshland and can easily be noted by the wide-awake hunter.

These four differences set the wood duck aside from other birds upon which legislation declares a season. Wood ducks are protected by state as well as federal laws and by the migratory bird treaty act between the United States and Canada. This stringent protection was placed upon them because they had been nearly exterminated, and because of their great individual beauty. Many believe the wood duck to be the most beautiful of all American ducks, if not of all birds in this country. The male is particularly festive in his rich apparel with its flowing crest. The wood duck is truly the Beau Brummel of duckland. He is a native of this country alone.

DON'T FLING FROM HITTING DOWN HARD WITH IRONS

HIT BALL FIRST—TAKE PIVOT AFTERWARD

STRONG GRIP AN AID TO SMOOTHNESS ON ALL SHOTS

TAKING DIVOTS
One of the reasons for so many flubbed iron shots is that the player does not hit them decisively enough. This is due largely to the player's hesitancy in regard to his control over his shot. No doubt he may fully realize that to gain best results he should hit down hard but he flinches unconsciously over the task. Naturally an actual round of play is a poor place to try and overcome this hesitancy. Here oftentimes the player is intent on his score and he is apt to spare his stroke for the sake of greater accuracy.

In consideration of this angle, the player stands a better chance of improving his shotmaking if he will carry the issue to the practice fairway. Here, with no fear of a mounting score, he can hit down on the ball with the irons and hit hard, dispatching the ball as the clubhouse goes on through and takes turf. The fairway of a National Open tournament resembles a miniature battle insofar as cut turf is concerned and Johnny Revolta, above, shows how the divots are taken in the above illustration. A strong grip, as well as strong determination, is helpful in gaining a mastery over all golf shots.

Baseball Expected To be on Program Of 1944 Olympics

New York—(AP)—Under the energetic direction of secretary-treasurer Leslie Mann, the International Amateur baseball federation rapidly is approaching its goal, the inclusion of baseball as a competitive sport on the Olympic games program.

Neither Mann nor his fellow-workers here and abroad expect to reach that goal for the 1940 Olympics. But they do plan to hold amateur baseball's international "World Series" in England that summer and then submit their application to the International Olympic committee at the games in Finland in time to be included on the 1944 program.

Baseball, like any other sport, must show that it has the active support of ten nations banded together in a federation before it can receive I. O. C. approval. Mann and his fellow-workers already have passed that milestone.

COMMON SENSE CONSERVATION

By L.H. KINGSTON

GREEN BAY—The musk of newly fallen leaves is in the air there's a haze in the hills and the day approaches when every scatter-gun in the state able to dent a precession cap will be put into action. October 15 at 1 p. m. is the time to begin shooting—in the south it will be at pheasants and in the north it will be at the three species of grouse; partridge, prairie chicken and sharp tails.

We who live midway between are having a hard time deciding which way to go those first two days, after pheasants or grouse.

My advice to anybody who does not have the use of a bird dog would be to get your pheasants the first day because after that man alone is seldom able to flush them. Grouse, on the other hand, may be shot at several days before they get wild.

As to the relative abundance of birds everybody agrees that pheasants are more numerous this year in Wisconsin than ever before. Prairie chicken and Sharp-tail grouse are not plentiful as in 1932 and 33 but there are enough so that it will be well worth a trip after them. I think they will be about as numerous as they were in 1935, the last year we had an open grouse season, if you remember.

Ruffed grouse or partridge, as far as shooting goes, are hardly worth going after unless you know where a covey was brooded this summer. If you are a true partridge hunter, however, you will take a sneak down that old tote road and tramp back through the freshly fallen leaves of the upland thickets whether birds are scarce or plentiful, for there is more to partridge hunting than shooting a limit of partridge.

It has been almost a month now since we have had any rain and the fire hazard wherever there is any kind of bird cover is getting worse every day. A rain would only temporarily relieve the hazard because leaves and vegetation are now dead; one day of wind and sun and the country is again ready to burn.

With thousands of bird hunters afield there are going to be some bad fires started unless everybody is careful. See that your match is out before you drop it and don't throw any burning cigarette stubs away. You wouldn't want to leave a forest fire on your back trail, would you?

Roger Jenkins With Blackhawks

Chicago's Hockey Champions Working at U. Of Illinois Gym

Chicago—(AP)—The world champion Chicago Blackhawks, who battled out of almost nowhere to win the Stanley cup last season, left today for Champaign, Ill., where they will train for the 1938-39 National Hockey league season. Player-coach Paul Thompson led the squad of 21 and will have charge of conditioning for two weeks. Manager Bill Stewart is recuperating from an appendectomy in Dorchester, Mass.

In addition to Thompson, team members making the trip were: Mush March, Doc Romnes, Earl Nielsen, Art Webe, Alex Levin, Billy MacKenzie, Cully Dahlstrom, Johnny Gottselig, Jack Shill, Roger Jenkins, Carl Voss, Harold Jackson and Mike Karakas.

Newcomers were: Joffre Desllets, right wing obtained from the Montreal Canadiens for Louis Trudell; Baldy Northcott, Russ Blinco and Earl Robinson, first string line of last year's Montreal Maroons; Paul Goodman, goalie from Wichita in the American association; Ab Demarco, right winger from the Baltimore Orioles of the Eastern Amateur league, and Phil Beeler, right wing who led the Pacific coast league in scoring last year while with the Portland Bucaros.

Beginning Friday, the Hawks will skate at the University of Illinois rink each morning and do gym and outside work in the afternoons.

Marquette Gridders Taper Off for Tilt With Kansas State

Milwaukee—(AP)—A light workout was scheduled for the Marquette university football team today as the final preparation for tomorrow night's game here with Kansas State of the Big Six grid circuit.

The game is being sponsored by the Milwaukee county council of the American Legion and will be preceded by a marching and musical program to be staged by local and legion organizations.

Coach Paddy Driscoll of Marquette was still uncertain who would fill the right end post in the line. Two candidates for the position are on the sideline with injuries. Gil Thomsen, sophomore from Kenosha, went to a local hospital with an ulcerated tooth, and Bill Burke, junior veteran from Chicago, joined the casualty list with a bad leg.

Driscoll hopes to fill the right flanker spot with Herb Anderson of St. Paul, a senior who has been incapacitated since the Wisconsin game.

The WORLD OF STAMPS

BY THE AP FEATURE SERVICE

Current history and philately go hand in hand. One intriguing phase of the hobby is the possibility of tracing and illustrating in stamps the rise and fall of dynasties, the birth and eclipse of republics, the shift of colonies and such national dismemberment as Czechoslovakia now faces.

Two recently issued stamps help tell the story of Europe's present drama.

The first depicts a chief actor, the nazi fuhrer, looking stern and accursed as though, eyes fixed on the coveted Sudeten fringe of Czechoslovakia which Praha has agreed to surrender. Actually, the stamp was issued to commemorate the nazi party congress held at Nurnberg during the first half of September. It is a 6 plus 19-pennig green stamp showing Hitler in right profile. Under the chancellor's head is the phrase "Reichsparteitag 1938" (German Party Day). The stamp is steel engraved and the 19 pennigs are for Hitler's national "culture fund."

At the same time, a postcard was issued, stamped with this design and a view of Nurnberg castle.

Skoda Smokestacks

The second recent stamp issue which fits so neatly into the current picture is a 50-haler green stamp from Czechoslovakia bearing an impressive view of the smoking chimneys of the main Skoda munition plant at Pilsen.

Skoda is central Europe's largest armament concern. The artillery it produces is still regarded as the best in Europe. For the past three or four years, the Czechs have been busy decentralizing the Skoda works. The main plant remains at Pilsen, but some of the most vital parts have been removed to the southern and southeastern sections of Czechoslovakia.

Skoda's concern was founded in the middle of the last century and is named after Emil Skoda. During the World War, it was second only to Krupp's in producing guns and munitions for the Germans and Austrians. Skoda made the 42-cm. heavy mortars which were rushed into Belgium in 1914 and enabled Germany quickly to overcome the Belgian fortresses, especially Liege.

After the Czechoslovakian Republic was founded, the Skoda plant turned to producing locomotives and automobiles. But nowadays war supplies are paramount. In 1935, the plant had a contract to supply Rumania with $25,000,000 worth of ammunition and artillery through its subsidiary factories in that country. Some of the Skoda shares are held by English and French interests.

Pilsen, better known here for its beer, has some of the world's best modern breweries. Nearly all of the city's workmen are Czechs; the majority of the residents are not German.

Some Naturalized Americans Just Use U. S. for Bodyguard

BY WESTBROOK FEGLER

New York—The state department solicitude for the status of Americans in Italy under the recent Italian decree restricting the rights of Jews prompts a question whether this government should assume the same responsibility for naturalized Americans residing in foreign lands as for natives of this country.

The British government is cordial to political refugees and citizenship may be acquired under liberal conditions, but a British consul once explained to me that he was spared many of the problems confronting his American colleague in the same troubled foreign city because naturalized British subjects are generally required to find suitable places of abode and business somewhere within the wide range of the empire.

Great Britain, he said, was not providing credentials and the protection of the British fleet for nominal British subjects who would use the little blue passport merely to obtain special advantages in their native lands.

The American consul, on the other hand, said that it was the naturalized American, returned to the old country, who caused most of his troubles with the local authorities. At the moment he was engaged in protecting the interests of a naturalized American who had sojourned in the United States long enough to qualify for citizenship and then had returned to his home country to go into business. Counting too much on his rights as an American citizen, the man had interfered in the politics of a country under a dictatorship and then had dumped his woes in the lap of the American consul.

There are naturalized Americans living and doing business in foreign countries under the protection of the American flag who are no more American than King George VI and speak a less plausible version of the American language.

Jimmy (Vincent) Sheehan, in "Person History," said that some of the American Jews in Palestine were orientalized, whatever that may mean, and said he had met a few who spoke no English at all.

Passport Is Valuable Document for Foreigner

The American passport is a powerful and valuable document for a foreigner, and it need not be doubted that some foreigners do acquire American citizenship with no intention to make this country their home or anything else but the goat for their troubles should they run foul of the political or police authorities in less liberal lands.

Naturalized Germans who had returned to Germany with no thought of participating in the life and responsibilities of their adopted country caused much troublesome duty for American consuls in the early days of the Hitler regime.

The World Almanac says there were 374,503 Americans living abroad on Jan. 1, 1937, and makes no distinction between natives and naturalized citizens. However, it will be remembered that in the early days of the Spanish civil war many queer fish swam into the American consulates to claim the rights and protection to which American citizens are entitled under our laws. They included borderline cases and technical Americans with only the written form of citizenship and no other interest in the country whose assistance they were demanding.

He Didn't Report Until Trouble Developed

There was a case in Munich of a German who in the course of his travels had acquired American citizenship but in 15 years of residence in Germany had not even recorded his name at the consulate.

Falling into trouble with the nazis, however, he wrapped himself in the stars and stripes and got away before the Germans thought of asking whether his American citizenship was still valid. It wasn't, for nowadays naturalized Americans living abroad are expected to visit the nearest consul at two-year intervals and convince them that they are not merely foreigners claiming the rights of technical Americanism.

It would be unfair to forbid naturalized Americans to leave the United States at all, but it is equal-

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—Charges of bribery which yesterday plunged Julius P. Heil and John B. Chapple and their respective factions of the Republican party of Wisconsin in a bitter fight can today be regarded as another of the signs that fortune's bag of tricks this year is loaded in favor of the Progressives and the La Follette ticket.

Aside from the details in the sensational accusations publicly made Wednesday by Chapple, Townsend Independent Republican candidate for the United States senate, it is apparent that the explosion precipitated by that fiery politician unavoidably centers public attention on the whole Republican ticket in an unwelcome manner, and indirectly aids the Progressives who are certain that the Republicans this year will run them a merry race.

While high-ranking Progressives watched avidly yesterday, there was no let-down in the vote drive which has been in full swing for two weeks, and there won't be until the eve of the election three weeks from now.

In addition, the incident has the effect of tying up the head of the Republican ticket, Julius Heil, while his opponent, the governor, hurries over the highways to deliver his political message.

The current Chapple imbroglio emphasizes again the Ashland editor's unbecoming capacity for crashing the headlines. During the last decade—he still is a young man—Chapple has caused state politicians of all parties a lot of discomfort.

The belligerent, fluent-Chapple first made a name for himself half a dozen years back when he began his oratorical campaigns against atheism, communism, and other "isms" allegedly prevalent on the campus of the University of Wisconsin. He indicted Glenn Frank, then university president, and now Chapple's superior in the Republican party, a flock of liberal professors, the LaFollettes and most of their associates, charging them all with harboring the virus of communism and other subversive philosophies.

Since that time he hasn't always gotten along well with the Republican party leadership. At the 1936 national convention he quarreled

University Women Hear Talk on Social Conditions in Europe

Wausau—Miss Cordelia Trimble of the juvenile department of the state board of control was a guest of the American Association of University Women when they met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ralph Bailey. It was guest night and a large crowd had gathered to hear Miss Trimble discuss her work and particularly the highlights of her recent European trip for the purpose of research.

Miss Trimble stated that while she had hoped to learn about conditions in Germany and Italy, particularly what is happening to the children in these two countries, she still does not know. Social work, she learned, was about four years behind that of 1933.

Miss Trimble heard Hitler speak at a mass meeting at the Sports palace. He recounted of the past tragedies of the people and then forecast of their future, with the crowd listening to every word.

The city of Ghent in Belgium, where the state cares for more than 3,500 mentally ill in the city of 18,000 took up much of Miss Trimble's time. Rather than build sanatoriums for the feeble-minded or the insane, Belgium long has been caring for this class of people in foster homes. Three grades of patients are cared for, those too ill to work, those who can do a little work, and those who can maintain themselves by work.

A normal family life is carried on by the patients, with plenty of emphasis placed on exercise. Experience has proven that many can function adequately in the controlled environment where they never could in their own homes—even to becoming self-supporting. Not much distinction is made between the mentally ill and the defective, whether adult or child. The town is divided into seven areas with a doctor for each area, giving each 500 patients to care for. Special facilities are arranged for the violently insane, not more than 100 in all.

In Rome Miss Trimble visited a nursery school maintained by the

U. W. Faculty May Try Group Life Insurance

Madison—(7)—One hundred members of the University of Wisconsin faculty favorably received last night a plan for group life insurance, designed to provide protection at the lowest possible cost to those in the greatest need for it.

Definite action on the plan probably will come at the next faculty meeting in November.

W. Bayard Taylor, professor of finance in the school of commerce, explained the proposed plan. He discussed the background of group life insurance, and revealed that under Wisconsin law, 75 per cent of the eligible group must participate in such a plan to make it legal.

Few Women Can Retain Love for Slovenly Man

BY DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix—I am engaged to a young professional man who is very neglectful of his appearance. He comes unshaven to see me, in need of a shoeshine, a clean collar, fresh linen and to have his clothes brushed. He does this even when we are going out with friends who are always well groomed. He seems to think that the way he looks doesn't matter. But it matters greatly to me. What would you do if you were in my place?

ANASTASIA.

Answer:

I wouldn't marry him. I would break off the engagement for two good and sufficient reasons. First, because I would know I would soon cease to love a slovenly man if I had to look at him every day of my life. And secondly, because I would know that he was predestined and fore-ordained to make a failure in his profession. I should want a husband who was on the up-and-up, not one who was on the down-and-out.

DOROTHY DIX

Love can stand many and great trials, but it cannot endure disgust, and that is the only sentiment a woman can have toward a man who is in need of a bath, a shave and a haircut, and who generally looks as if he needed to be run through the laundry. A filthy collar, wrinkled clothes, unmanicured nails, the stale odor of perspiration—these things turn from him in disgust. She doesn't want his dirty hands to touch her. She doesn't want his stubbly face within a yard of hers.

Such a man isn't her hero of romance. He isn't her Fairy Prince. He is a sloppy bum, too lazy even to keep himself clean. Men know that the quickest and surest way for a woman to disillusion a man is for her to slip around in a soiled kimono and down-at-the-heels slippers, with her hair in curl papers, and her face cold-comed. So by the same token women who care far more for appearances than men do, are ten times more punctilious about how a man looks and ten times more easily disgusted at his being slovenly.

If your fiance thinks that it does not matter how he looks, he is making the biggest mistake of his life. We are all judged by our appearance, and that is fair enough, because it is all that the general public has to go by in forming its opinion of us.

Strangers are not mind-readers and they cannot know that a heart of gold beats under a coat that is covered with soap stains, or that under a thatch of hair so long that it looks as if you might scare up a rabbit in it, there functions a clever brain. Nor can they know that it is lack of vanity and not lack of energy that explains a three days' stubble of beard and trousers that appear to have been slept in.

Nor is the casual stranger likely to find out that the man who looks like a tramp is possessed of nine of the cardinal virtues, and is an intelligent and competent business or professional man, because the outside appearance has been so unattractive that the observer doesn't bother to excavate under the surface for the real man. No employer would ever give a job to that sort of a looking fellow. No one would trust a law case to him. No one would think of sending for him if they were sick and needed a doctor, because they would argue that a man who was that sloppy in his personal appearance, would be equally sloppy in his work; that if he wasn't willing to take the trouble even to change his collar or press his pants and shine his shoes he certainly wouldn't go to the trouble of digging up all the fine points in a law case or reading up all the authorities in medicine about one's symptoms.

A poet has said that "the coat doesn't make the man." But he was all wet. A man's coat is his show window that advertises the line of goods he carries. It may be cheap. It may be shabby. It may be threadbare. But if it is clean and well pressed it shows that he has done the best he could, that he has self-respect and energy and is worth giving a trial.

Dear Miss Dix—My sister-in-law is a woman of 60, with a good husband and two grown-up daughters, yet she still wears the same dress as she did when she was 20. I think this is as bad as being unfaithful. What do you think?

VERITAS.

Answer:

Oh, no. Wrong thoughts are not as bad as wrong deeds, because they are usually just sort of vague dreams in which we think we would like to commit certain crimes which we really would never do. Most of us, for instance, have

My Neighbor Says—

The snowhill hydrangea blooms in the summer, usually in June, and has the flat flowers rather than the pointed ones. The variety with the pointed flower most commonly used is the peesee, which is merely an abbreviation of the botanical name. These flowers are white, changing to pink and then to bronze green, and sometimes even grow to a height of 25 feet.

CASE RECORDS OF A PSYCHOLOGIST

By Dr. George W. Crane
Psychologist, Northwestern University

The "bearcat" exterior covers a "housecat" interior, so Lucille's mother can instantly diagnose this juvenile type of husband and label him correctly. He is trying to be a big, bold he-man. If you chronically belittle others, you probably have an inferiority complex.

Case L-140: Lucille M., aged 4, is a bright youngster.

"Come here, Stupid," Lucille called to her mother recently.

"You mustn't call me stupid," her mother replied, "or I'll have to punish you."

"But that's what Daddy calls you," the little girl defended herself.

"And don't you dare punish Lucille, either," her father belligerently challenged.

"Now I ask you, Dr. Crane, what can I do?" the mother queried.

DIAGNOSIS:

Lucille's father is short in stature. He holds a minor executive working under a woman's direction. He ridicules his wife to keep her beneath his own ego level so she will have to look up to the big, brilliant he-man she married! He keeps his hands on the money so she'll have to come to him, suppliant fashion, every time she wants a nickel or a dime.

He tries to become the dominant ruler of his home, even though he is violating the obvious rules of child psychology. He is afraid, and like the boy whistling in the dark, he keeps barking to reassure himself.

A "bearcat" exterior usually covers a "housecat" interior. This is similar to the old adage that a barking dog seldom bites. His wife can call his bluff if he wishes to have a fight, or she can realize that he is just a panicky little boy, afraid of himself.

If she feeds him the right kind of compliments, so he sees that she thinks he is a great man, she can have him eating out of her hand. The latter is the more intelligent course of action. And if she lets him read this column he can learn some sound child psychology.

(Dr. Crane will give personal attention to questions on psychological problems. Write him in care of this newspaper, enclosing a 3-cent stamp, addressed envelope for reply. Letters and readers' names are never published without consent.)

UNEXPECTED VISIT

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's mother, who lives in the same town, often drops in unexpectedly. Sometimes we have an engagement, and it is very upsetting to have to stay at home with her when we are expected at a party, yet we don't always feel free to ask her to go along. In such a case, what can we do?

Answer: Surely she must understand that the occasions when an unwanted person can be "taken along" are very few. Therefore, when she arrives, tell her frankly how sorry you are but that you have an engagement, which of course you have to keep. Perhaps while one of you go to dress, the other can stay and talk with her for a few minutes. But if your husband has to treat his mother as a stranger—a stranger moreover who is likely to interfere with whatever plans you may have—I can't see how you are free to live your own daily lives. She on her part would surely hesitate to go to see you if she knew her visits disrupt your plans, and on other hand, you never could feel free to make any. If course if you had asked her to come to dinner on Tuesday, then you could not possibly let her come and leave her. But if she comes when she is not expected, she could not possibly ask that you be rude to other people by breaking your engagement.

At a Bridge Table

Dear Mrs. Post: What can one do when the "dummy" at a bridge table walks around the table and watches the others? I don't mean she talks or gives out information, but she just watches, and if anything makes me nervous and puts me at my wits' end, it is this.

Answer:—This is really quite cus-

Sometimes Partner Is Misleading

BY ELY CULBERTSON

It is hard enough to outguess the opponents, without having to out-guess one's own partner. We expect the opponents to make things as tough as possible for us. That is their function and their raison d'être, and if they can outsmart us, more power to them! But we most certainly do not expect our own partners to make bids that are so ambiguous, indeed so misleading, that they trap us into a bad defense. Note West's dilemma in the following hand:

North dealer.

Match-point duplicate.

NORTH		EAST
♠ 6 4 3		♠ 7 10 7 4
♥ Q 6 3		♥ 8 5 4 2
♦ J 10 5		♦ 7 6 4 2
♣ Q J 8		♣ 9 5
WEST		SOUTH
♠ A 10 5		♠ K Q 8 5
♥ K J 9		♥ 8 5 3
♦ K 2		♦ A Q 5
♣ A 10 7 2		♣ K 8 4

The bidding:

North—1♠      East—1♠      South—1♠      West—1♠

Pass      Pass      Pass      Pass

3♠      3♠      3♠      3♠

West had a difficult choice of bids to make over South's one spade. There were four conceivable courses open to him: (a) He could pass as a trap, in the hope that the opponents would reach a high contract. (b) He could overcall with two clubs. (c) He could double for a take-out. (d) He could bid one no trump. The pass was not attractive because West had no great strength in the adversely bid suit and, moreover, since there was utterly no assurance that the opponents could go past the two-level action.

The double was even less enticing. East already had passed and if, by any chance, he were now forced to bid two diamonds on a weak suit, West, with king-deuce, could not support him and could not rescue with a suit of his own.

A two club overcall would not be descriptive of the strength held outside of the club suit. Such an overall almost always indicates a much better club suit than West actually held, and less outside strength. This process of elimination left one no trump as the best action.

North did not have enough to make a free bid. And now we come to the crucial point of the bidding, East's two diamond take-out. This bid was highly illogical. Granting that East did not like one no trump, he still should not have taken out with such a miserable five card suit. In the first place, such a bid would increase the contract. Secondly, West, although reading the bid as a weak take-out, might not be satisfied with the minor suit contract when playing at match-points, hence might be misled into rebidding. Although a pass by East was the only correct action, it would look with more favor on a two heart take-out than upon the two diamond bid actually selected. Note the effect this bid had on the play.

Defending against two spades, West opened a small trump, because he felt that North might have based his secondary raise on ruffing power. Declarer held the trick and a trump was promptly returned. West won with the ace, and now had to decide what continuation to make. As a pure exit play, he could have led his third trump, but this did not seem advisable. From West's point of view, it might be possible to put that third trump to excellent use, the ruffing of a diamond. West figured that East must have either the ace or queen of diamonds, hence boldly laid down the diamond king. This was a windfall for the declarer who won, knocked out the club ace, and eventually conceded three heart tricks.

If East had not volunteered his two diamond take-out of the one no trump, West would not have risked the lead of the diamond king, and the contract eventually would have been defeated, thus giving East-West a fair match-point score.

THE BRIDE'S DRESS

Dear Mrs. Post: My wedding will take place in the church rectory in the presence of only the immediate members of our families. Is this wedding too small for the bride to wear a very simple white dress and a plain veil?

Answer: No, it is always proper that a bride wear a white dress and veil when she is married by a clergyman whether she is married in a church, a rectory or at home. In fact, the only time when it is unsuitable to wear a veil is when she goes to City Hall or the County Clerk's office to be married.

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

An assemblage of current youthful fashions frequently make the mature woman ridiculous.

It appears from any casual glance on a busy street that many mature women are under the illusion it requires very youthful, slightly extreme clothes to be chic! Somehow they feel that dignified clothes, of line and color to suit them, lack smartness or dash. And they make the fatal mistake of masquerading in clothes and make-up meant for their budding daughters!

If I could take you to luncheon at one of our smartest spots in New York City you would be amazed at the simplicity and dignity of the clothes worn by women who can afford the best and the most fashionable! And they are the chic women of their age group!

These women are ever aware of line first, and accent second. That is, when they shop for a street dress, they buy one which flatters their figure in a severely simple manner. Then they buy accessories to accent that dignity of line. And for the final touch, they choose make-up to harmonize perfectly with the type of outfit, and the colors worn. They have mastered the art of dressing well.

Dress to Your Age

Even though your dress allowance is small and your beauty budget too, put a little thought into what you buy and when and how you wear it. The older woman should strive for beauty in dignity. She should not try to avoid dignity. Her years have made her a definite personality—even the graying of her hair has made certain colors more becoming to her, certain cuts of frocks and coats more flattering.

Cosmeticians have spent years blending colors to enhance your more fragile beauty and have revealed formulas to keep your gray hair from turning yellow or losing its lustre. There are creams and lotions, lipsticks, rouges, eye make-up and

Problem Children Need Kindness, Comradeship

BY ANGELO PATRI

Here is a boy, fourteen years old, so ugly when he is at home that the whole family are distressed. He tells his sisters that he hates all girls, and them in particular. He bullies his four-year-old brother until he cries. He won't go to the games; he won't go to any party; he just scowls and grunts and bullies his way along. In school his face becomes scarlet and he barely speaks above a whisper when the teacher calls on him to recite. Nobody likes him. His father and mother are sorry for him, but they are too sorry for the other children to do anything to help him. He is a boy, and he is going to be a cowboy and ride and shoot. I'm not going to graduate or go to college," is about all his distressed parents get out of their efforts to discover what ails him, what he wants, what to do.

The first thing to do is to get him to a skilled physician who understands the care of growing boys. It is certain that this boy is very shy. He is timid in the presence of girls. He falls when playing with the boys. He feels very bad about this, and after a trying day of one failure after another, in class, in play, in social relationships, he hurries to the shelter of home and comforts himself by feeling big. He is very uncomfortable and knows no other way of getting comfort than this mistaken one. The doctor will be able to help him somewhat.

Then try to get some man, preferably one outside the family circle, to interest himself in the boy. At this stage of growth, and especially in this state of growth, the boy or girl, heads away from the family who know too well the failures, and seek the comforting presence of understanding strangers. This man, usually a teacher, a clergyman, experienced businessman, likes boys, understands them, and befriends this lonely bewildered young one.

Interest the teacher. When she sees this boy, red-faced, speechless, glaring defiantly at the tittering girls, ask her to wait for her chance, and, unseen by the others, slip this stricken one a gentle word of encouragement, an understanding smile. Ask her to make opportunities to meet him, always unknown to the class, and to make friends with him, indirectly.

The work we do for and with this boy must be done indirectly. His spirit is too sore for the direct touch. A word sent straight at him frightens him to distraction and helplessness. A scolding only leaves

THE CLOUDED MOON

By MAX SALTMARSH

Chapter 46

THE CLOUDED MOON

I felt wildly in my pockets for the matches that were not there, and as I did so, heard Hugo swear sharply. Next moment a darker shadow hurried past me and through the window.

I sprang after it, heard a choking gasp from somewhere below me in the darkness, and recognized the voice as Fleuriot's.

"What's happened?" I called, and Hugo answered from behind.

"He landed me one with the knife and got away."

"Badly hurt?" I asked anxiously, and he answered impatiently:

"No, no. Only the wrist. Get after him, man, for pity's sake!" But as he spoke, a sudden flare of light from a pocket-torch cut across the room, and I saw Dunning's anxious face peering in and behind him Fleuriot, doubled up with pain and hugging his waist-line.

I turned to Dunning. "Which way did he go?" I demanded.

"Out there some way," he answered dolefully, "and that madman slipped his leash and made off with him. But I wouldn't worry. Archie," he added rather anxiously, "There'll be time enough to

Old Gardener Says:

The winter aconites, Eranthis hyemalis, are very useful in gardens where early flowers are appreciated. For some reason they have been neglected by most amateurs but are well worth getting acquainted with. The flowers are much like buttercups except that they are more open. Each bloom is set in a whirl of bright green foliage that serves as a frame for the golden petals. They should be planted in clumps of at least a dozen and about three inches underground. The winter aconites like a somewhat moist, shady position; and if grown in a rocky area are best placed near the base. They are not over-particular, however, and will thrive in most garden borders or among small shrubs.

that we had our backs to the fire, the night was dark, and it was uncommonly difficult to keep a third road. Halfway up the slope I halted, feeling rather than seeing that the going was rougher than it should be, and Dunning, clambered out and flashed his torch on the ground ahead.

"No road here," he announced, "and no road any place that I can see."

End Of A Cartoonist

I got out wearily. "There's nothing for it," I told the silent occupants of the tonneau. "We can't take the car blind across country. Dunning and I will have to foot it till we hit the trail."

We set off, scrambling upward over uneven tussocks of grass, heading, as far as we could, to the right, where the path must lie; but there was never a sign of it, and presently we were up among the pine trees.

Dunning suddenly gripped me by the arm. "Look there!" he whispered, his voice shaking.

We were standing on the edge of a little clearing on the very crest of the slope. The smoke had thinned away; the moon was shining fitfully through the cloud-wrack, and by its light, I saw, in

Teachers' Association Will Honor New Members Monday at Dinner, Entertainment Program

New London — New teachers in the New London public school system will be honored guests at the first social affair of the New London Teachers Association Monday evening. The group will have a 6:30 dinner at the dining parlors of the Congregational church, followed by entertainment by those present.

The teachers being initiated will contribute to the entertainment with a skit of their own. The newcomers are the Misses Mary Patten, Helen Bauer, Majorie Ticknor, Fdna Crocker and Doris Jensen.

Chairman in charge of the event is R. M. Shortell, assisted by Norman Pronold, Ellen Lucas and Ann Halsor. Circle 3 of the Ladies Aid society of the church will serve the dinner and Mrs. Charles Atchams and Mrs. F. J. Pfeiffer are co-chairmen in charge.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary will hold a public card party at the clubrooms at 8 o'clock this evening. Bridge, five hundred,

Brockhaus Gets University Post

School Board Accepts Resignation of English Teacher

New London — The resignation of H. H. Brockhaus, English instructor at New London High school the last nine years, was accepted last night by the board of education at a special meeting. Mr. Brockhaus will go to Pacific University at Forest Grove, Ore., where he will be professor of speech. He is expected to begin at the university Nov. 1.

Mr. Brockhaus came to New London nine years ago from North Central college at Naperville, Ill., when the high school was still located in the old Lincoln school building. He taught third, fourth and fifth year English and handled speech work, later in the new high school taking over the direction of dramatics work.

Mr. and Mrs. Brockhaus have been making their home at 703 Smith street.

The board of education is seeking candidates to fill Mr. Brockhaus' position and will consider applications at a special meeting as soon as possible.

Improvement League Will Sponsor Child Health Center Oct. 19

New London — A maternal and child health center for New London, sponsored by the Woman's Civic Improvement league and the state board of health, will be held Wednesday, Oct. 19, at Washington high school. Mrs. Carrie Hooper, chairman for the event, has announced.

Dr. Mary Allen, staff physician of the state board's bureau of maternal and child health, will conduct the center, assisted by Miss Loretta E. Rice, city nurse, and members of the league.

Dr. Allen will offer the usual health examinations for infants and pre-school children who are accompanied by their mothers, and personal talks on prenatal care for expectant mothers.

Registration hours at the center will be 8:30 to 11:30 a. m. and 1 to 3:30 p. m. Mothers are advised to bring blankets or squares for their children's comfort.

Men's Volleyball to Be Organized Tonight

New London — Men's volleyball will be organized at the regular play period at Washington high school tonight, according to R. M. Shortell, city recreation director. Group leaders will meet to organize teams for regular play next week. Practice games will be held this evening.

About 30 women have turned out for the ladies' night on Tuesday evenings, according to Miss Alice Ziener, girls' director. More players are expected and as soon as there are enough, four teams will be formed for competition among teachers, graduate girls, and married and unmarried women. Practice work will be held until teams are organized.

School Camera Club Admits New Members

New London — Harold Berman and Wayne Graham were two new members received into the Camera club at Washington high school at its regular meeting Tuesday evening. Officers are working on the constitution and by-laws of the club and the group is undertaking preliminary study of lenses, shutters and exposure problems.

New London Office

News and Circulation departments of the Appleton Post-Crescent are represented in New London by Alvin J. Brault, 103 E. Cook street. Mick's Tap Room      5      7

Cristy's      2      10

New London — Mick's Tap Rooms out-rolled Bowlboys' Candies at Prah's alleys last night but lost two games to let Bowlboys' remain at the top of the league while Dave's Service trimmed Cristy's three to run a close second. Bowlboys hit scores of 736, 885 and 905 to 887, 854 and 875 for Mick's, the Tap rooms outnumbering Bowlboys in total pins 2,616 to 2,508.

Top keggers for the losers were Clyde Roepke with 559 and 204 and Pat Kiefer with 542 and 202. Gottschalk and Erv Buelow paced Bowlboys with 524 and 525, respectively.

Art Stern spilled the maples for 562 and 201 for Dave's, Alton Huthison marking up a 557 total. Sylvester Stern's 223 line for the Cristys was the evening's high. He had a 543 total and C. Polaski hit a 205 game at the start.

The Independents, paced by Frieda Vanderveer with counts of 184 and 428, set Irma's Hats back two games and tied for second place. Prah's News duplicated their high league game of 593 as they downed Carter-Hansons twice.

The Ladies' afternoon club, led by Mrs. Wilford Cupp and Mrs. Leo Meshke last year, rolled practice games at Prah's South Side alleys yesterday afternoon and plan to bowl every Wednesday afternoon starting next week.

September Costs For Relief Drop

Load Declines Six Cases; Decrease in Outlay Is $793

New London — The relief load dropped only six cases but costs for the city of New London for the month of September dropped $793, bringing the total local expenditure of $1,582.81 near the low mark of July according to the report released by the department this week.

Transient costs with an addition of one case continued to rise, an increase of $70 bringing the outlay for September to $412.74, just $163 more than during July. There were 20 transient and 103 local cases last month, total costs amounting to $1,995.55.

Large decreases in groceries and rent, $395 in the former and $56 in the latter, accounted for the greater part of the drop. The grocery bill totaled $1,058, rent only $86.50. Medical care dropped off from $211.65 to $144. Fuel requirements went up $56 from $130.87 to $186.60.

Hardware Dealers to Convene Here Tonight

Hardware dealers from Brown, Calumet, Winnebago, and Outagamie counties will meet following a 7 o'clock dinner tonight at Hotel Appleton for a discussion of business matters.

Karl Haugen, chairman for the event, said today he expected about 100 men. The four counties represent a district of the Wisconsin Retail Hardware association.

Mail order and chain competition, correct pricing methods, the Wisconsin Fair Trade act and other topics will be studied.

The Dorcas Guild will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Anderson.

Mrs. Harry Anderson, Mrs. Roy Madler entertained at a 6:30 dinner, Monday evening, at the Calumet hotel, in honor of Rev. R. J. Fox. Other guests were the Rev. Fox's mother, Mrs. Sarah Fox of Chicago; Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Winkler, Mr. and Mrs. James Strong, Miss Harriet Vander Heyden, Phyllis and Jean Madler. Father Fox was to leave Thursday for New London where he will have charge of the parish. The Rev. Theodore Kolbe of St. Peter and St. Paul church of Hortonville has been transferred to Hilbert.

Head of Auxiliary at Milwaukee Meetings

New London — Mrs. William Dent of this city, president of the Wisconsin Paid Firemen's auxiliary, installed officers of the Milwaukee auxiliary at a program at Milwaukee Monday evening. Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Dent presided at a meeting of the state executive board at Milwaukee and Tuesday evening organized a new auxiliary unit for the town of Lake just out of Milwaukee. She returned home yesterday.

Girls' Club Organized at Hilbert High School

Hilbert — A Girls' club has been organized at Hilbert High school. The girls held a meeting last week during the activity period and elected the following officers in charge until a permanent organization is established: President, Janice Thorse; vice president, Helen Hauser; secretary, Ardis Pautz; treasurer, Arlyne Weber; activity committee, Elizabeth Burkhardt, Harriet Anderson, Jean Kupst; organization committee, Marjorie Behne, Elaine Popp, Marie Schaffer and Marie Behnke; leader, Mrs. Eugene Cole.

The object of the organization is to foster a spirit of friendship among the members; to develop school spirit through participation in all school activities and to encourage a friendly, helpful attitude toward others.

The first activity was a hike Tuesday afternoon to High Cliff, where a camp fire was built and the girls enjoyed a wicker and marshmallow roast which followed a trip through the park.

Mrs. Max Altman and infant son returned to her home Tuesday afternoon from St. Elizabeth hospital, Appleton.

Mrs. Eliza Hedrick arrived here Tuesday from Chilton for a visit at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. William Brarles. Mrs. He-

Mrs. James Lockyear Is Called to Indiana By Father's Illness

New London — Mrs. James Lockyear, 1008 Wyman street, was called to the home of her parents at Evansville, Ind., yesterday by the serious illness of her father, Thomas Hunt.

Mrs. Esther Hemmingway, Mattoon, was a guest at the home of Mrs. D. B. Egan this week. She left yesterday after visiting since Monday.

R. H. Kellner is at Mayville this week managing the Ben Franklin store there while his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Kellner, are on their honeymoon.

Mrs. Meta Bleck and daughter Lavern spent last weekend at the Arthur Laatch home at Clintonville.

Jimmy Yost, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Yost, returned home from Community hospital yesterday after recovering from a skull fracture and brain concussion.

James, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Henry, underwent a tonsilectomy at Community hospital yesterday.

Lawrence Miller, Readfield, teacher at Sandy Knoll school, submitted to a tonsilectomy at the office of a local physician yesterday.

Mrs. Ed Hoffman, formerly of Bear Creek, moved into the apartment at 34 E. Hancock street vacated this week by Mrs. Mary Remick.

Children Suffer Cuts In Traffic Accident

Clintonville — Beverly Otto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Otto, and Robert Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoffman, both of this city, were cut by glass when the automobile in which they were seated was struck by another machine Wednesday noon. The Hoffman car was parked in front of the office of Dr. E. A. Miller, when a car driven by William Mentzel of this city swerved around the curve at that point on Main street and crashed into the side of the parked machine.

The children, who are pupils of the first grade, were being taken to school when the accident occurred. Their injuries were treated at the office of Dr. E. A. Miller. The Otto girl suffered a gash on her forehead, which required eight stitches to close, while the Hoffman boy's cuts were not so serious. Damages to both cars amount to about $50.

THE CLOUDED MOON BY MAX SALTMARSH

the center of the open space, a small stunted oak. But it was not the tree that held my gaze, but the figure that dangled, grotesquely, from its lowest branch, and the second figure, gaunt and gangling, that pranced and capered before it.

I took to my heels across the clearing, with Dunning close behind me, and the dancing creature made no effort to escape but sidled nearer instead.

"You see?" said Noah More and giggled foolishly. "I have done what you came out to do—I have hanged him."

I flipped my clasp-knife and ratched through the rope that held the ghastly figure, but as it dropped limply into my arms, I knew that we were too late and the man was dead—dead, I thought, from shock and heart-failure, dead almost before he had hung from the tree.

I turned to Dunning, letting the body slip to the ground, and saw to my horror that Otilie stood just behind me her eyes dark and frightened and behind her, Hugo and Fleuriot.

"There, lies the greatest cartoonist of his age," Fleuriot announced quietly. "But I could wish that he had not landed with such force on my abdomen!"

Hugo gave a short laugh. "You've all played your parts most nobly," said he, "except me. I appear to have filled the role of the clown in the circus who takes the knocks and is a fool, but it seems to me it's time we got a move on." He gripped Otilie with his free hand.

She looked up at him piteously. "But Hugo—" she began and then suddenly her expression hardened. "Oh, well," she said, "if it's foolish to have saved his life, I've nothing more to say. Come on, then, let's go!"

But I lingered, for there was more to be decided than that. Geiss's body could not be left alone on the hillside, neither could we find room in the car for the whole party. Someone had to stay behind and I had a feeling that that someone would have to be me.

But Fleuriot had sensed my thought. "No, no!" he said sharply. "It is I that must stay. It is my duty. I will remain here very pleasantly with the corpse and the lunatic, and you will send a car back for me from Le Trayas. See, the wind has shifted—and the fire will spread no more."

I looked up and saw that it was true. Even as I turned back to him, the first drop of rain struck cool against my cheek.

"To Have and To Hold"

"All the same," I said dubiously, "I don't like leaving you here alone—" but he cut in sharply: "Once more, I insist! It is my day's work, and, furthermore, I feel there is a little something that should be adjusted between two members of our party."

I glanced over my shoulder. Otilie was already sitting stiffly in the back of the car, with an expression that said she didn't mind who sat next to her so long as it wasn't Hugo, while he, on the other hand, was standing stiffly aloof, nursing his wounded wrist and staring gloomily out over the valley.

"All right," I said resignedly. "I'll go, but I think you've chosen the easier job."

The trip back was a simple matter, once we had located the track, for the fire was dying, and it was comparatively easy to see the road. We came to Le Trayas in the gray light of dawn to find that the street was empty, save for one car which held my attention as we drew up at the barrier.

In the tonneau Ada, disheveled and wild-eyed, clung to the arm of an impassive but gray-faced Virgoe Willis. It was Ada who first caught sight of us and with something between a sob and a scream, she scrambled from the car and came running towards us; but quick as she was, Dunning was quicker. He was out of the Hispano in a flash, meeting her halfway and gathering her into his arms.

We were all on the road now, and as I turned to speak to our friend the lieutenant, trying to make him understand that I wanted a car at once to take me back to Fleuriot, I felt Otilie pluck at my sleeve.

"Archie," she whispered, "do you think that Hugo realizes he's going to marry me?"

I hesitated. "I believe something of the sort has occurred to him," I answered cautiously.

"Then," she said, "for mercy's sake, make him do something about it quickly!"

I crossed to Hugo and touched his arm. "Old man," I said, "the Prayer Book says 'to have and to hold,' but in this case it's the latter verb that matters. She's waiting for you to kiss her, and I can't get back to Fleuriot till I've seen you do it." Almost as the words left my mouth, he had swung around to her, his arms wide, and in another second they had closed about her.

I drove back through the scorched and smoking countryside with an inquisitive soldier beside me and a taciturn gendarme in the rear, and as I drove, I felt singularly lost and lonely, for it seemed that, in all this welter of marrying and giving in marriage, there was no place for me. But when I saw Fleuriot squatted philosophically under the blasted oak, I knew then that there was still a world of men left for me untangled by the snares of petticoat-strings.

"Fleuriot," I said, as he rose to greet me, "are you married?"

He grinned back at me. "Young man, I am too wise!"

"Then," said I, "you and I have a lot in common, for we are two free men in a prisoned world."

But he shook his head, smiling cynically but very kindly. "My young friend," said he, "say that to me in a year's time and I will believe you."

Eighth District President Discusses Work of Organizations

Clintonville — Mrs. David Egan, New London, was elected president of the Waupaca County Council of American Legion auxiliary at a quarterly meeting held Wednesday at the Parkview hotel in Clintonville. Mrs. Egan will succeed Mrs. Paul Ovrum of Waupaca as head of the county units. Mrs. William Lucdick, Clintonville, was chosen vice president and the remaining officers will be appointed by the new president.

Mrs. Esther Hammingway of Mattoon, president of the Eighth district, talked to the women on work of the auxiliary and the Junior auxiliary. Vocal solos were contributed to the program by Miss Beverly Winchester of this city, who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Donald Olen.

The meeting opened with a 1 o'clock luncheon for about forty members of the various county units. After the business session, bridge provided entertainment. High prizes were awarded at each table.

Officers of the Clintonville unit of American Legion auxiliary will be installed at a regular meeting to be held at the Knights of Columbus hall on Monday evening, Oct. 17.

The Waupaca County Council of American Legion will meet at the Knights of Columbus hall in this city Friday evening. The meeting will be open to all former service men.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Merrill left Wednesday for Washington, D. C., where they will visit for a week with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wagner. The Wagners spent nearly a year in this city, where Mr. Wagner was the engineer in charge of construction of the new Clintonville postoffice building.

Discussed Proposed School

Harley J. Powell, superintendent of the Clintonville public schools, was a guest at the Lions' meeting Tuesday evening at their clubhouse on Long lake. He talked to the club about the proposed new grade school building now being considered here. He pointed out the advantages of a modern structure as compared to the present one, which is very much overcrowded in all departments. A referendum will be held in this city on the building project for which a PWA grant will be requested. Musical numbers were furnished by Mae Patterson and Ellen Mae Wartinec, who played cornet duets. They were accompanied at the piano by June Abrahamson. The girls are members of the high school band.

Friends of Mrs. Fred Jahn surprised her with a birthday party Monday evening at the Parkview hotel. Four tables of cards were in play, with prizes going to Mrs. Jahn and Mrs. Fred Klemp. The guests also presented Mrs. Jahn with a gift.

Mrs. William Roesler entertained friends from this city Monday afternoon at her home in the township of Bear Creek, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. The time was spent informally and a 5 o'clock dinner was served. The guests were Mesdames John Rosnow, Herman Kroll, J. E. Leyrer, Martha Postel, Matilda Weiland, and Miss Meta Broer.

Martin Lyon, superintendent of the Clintonville Water and Light department, Paul Dekarske, S. J. of Tillson and Arthur Peotter, members of the Water and Light commission, spent Tuesday and Wednesday at Milwaukee where they attended a state waterworks convention.

Sportsmen Preparing For Pheasant Season

Fremont — Fremont sportsmen are preparing for the annual pheasant hunting season which opens at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon and continues through to Oct. 28. The season for prairie chickens and sharp-tailed grouse in Waupaca county also is open on the same dates.

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Gerhardt Arndt, Fremont and Miss Lorraine Lewis of Waupaca. The wedding will take place Saturday. A surprise party was given by members of the schafskopf club and their husbands for Mrs. Edwin Zuelke Tuesday evening in honor of her birthday.

Mrs. John Button entertained the

STATE CONSERVATION COMMISSION OF WISCONSIN
Order No. GR-354

In the matter of establishing a certain described area in Outagamie county, Wisconsin, as a game refuge to be known as the Shioe Game Refuge.

Section 1. WHEREAS, in accordance with the power and authority delegated to the State Conservation Commission of Wisconsin by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of subsection (7) of Section 23.09 of the Wisconsin statutes, the said State Conservation Commission has caused investigations to be made relative to the establishment of a certain described area in Outagamie county, Wisconsin, as a game refuge for the purpose of providing safe retreats for game and game birds in which they may rest and replenish adjacent hunting grounds, thereby promoting a successful wild life program and insuring to the citizens of this state better opportunities for hunting and recreation through an adequate supply of game.

Section 2. WHEREAS, upon evidence presented after such investigations and having received the written consent of the owner of all lands to be embraced within the refuge area, the State Conservation Commission, in order to accomplish the purposes set forth in Section 1, deems it necessary to establish such a game refuge in Outagamie county, Wisconsin, upon that area more particularly described in Section 3 of this order.

Section 3. NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED AND DECLARED by the State Conservation Commission of Wisconsin, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of subsection (7) of section 23.09 of the Wisconsin statutes, that the following described area located in Outagamie county, Wisconsin, is hereby created and established as a game refuge and designated as the Shioe Game Refuge, and it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to hunt or trap, or have in possession or under control any gun or rifle unless the same is unloaded and knocked down or unloaded and enclosed within a carrying case upon said area, but nothing herein shall prohibit, prevent, or interfere with the State Conservation Commission, its deputies, agents, or employees in the destruction of injurious animals and birds on Township 23 north, Range 16 east.

Town of Bovina—Section 2, fractional NW 1/4 of the NW 1/4; Section 3, fractional NE 1/4 of the NE 1/4 and SW 1/4 of the NE 1/4—all lying in the town of Bovina, Outagamie county, Wisconsin, containing approximately one hundred and thirty-six and ninety-eight hundredths (136.98) acres, more or less, according to government survey.

Section 4. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that this order shall not prohibit the State Conservation Commission, its deputies, or duly authorized agents, the armed forces of the National Guard or the United States Army, or any peace officers, or any person summoned by a peace officer to assist him in making an arrest or in preserving the peace, from entering and being on the above described refuge in the performance of official duties.

Section 5. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the area described in Section 3 of this order shall remain as a game refuge for a period of five years beginning on October 23, 1938, and that said order be published in the Seymour Press of Seymour, Wisconsin, the New London Press Republican of New London, Wisconsin, and the Appleton Post-Crescent of Appleton, Wisconsin, at least one week prior to the date upon which it becomes effective.

Section 6. THIS ORDER was made and passed by the State Conservation Commission of Wisconsin at a meeting duly called and held by said commission in the city of Madison, Wisconsin, this 5th day of October, 1938.

Section 7. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Director of the State Conservation Commission of Wisconsin be, and he is hereby authorized and directed by said commission to sign this order for and on behalf of the State Conservation Commission of Wisconsin.

TODAY

Well, Well, Even Facial Decorations Change!

So do meat eating habits. We know they've changed since back in 1894 when we started in business.

Then there was less variety on the dinner table — and meats prepared at the market and delivered to the home hot hadn't even been thought of.

We still emphasize the good old fashioned quality and honest weight — but we offer you more meats, in greater variety. You'll like Voecks.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

The Crust of the Earth
IV—STORIES IN ROCK LAYERS
Limestone is one of the important rocks of the earth's crust. It was formed largely by shells of water animals which long ago were pressed down and ground into powder. Many kinds of limestone also contain powdered skeletons of the strange ocean animals known as corals.

Rock layers are to be found at a depth of thousands of feet, and careful study of them has given a wonderful story. Deep under the ground, men have obtained skeletons of animals, and in some cases the skeletons were in a good state, not "ground up."

Some deep layers of rock contain skeletons of fish which were different from the fish known today. As a rule, we may say that the deep layers were formed before those near the surface of the earth. That has given scientists a kind of "time clock." They figure that the forming of a certain layer took 10,000 years, or perhaps 100,000 years. That is the way they estimate how long ago certain animals lived.

In other layers are beds of coal, and the bones of hundreds of kinds of animals. Among the animals are some known as dinosaurs. The name "dinosaur" means "terrible lizard," but some dinosaurs were small and would not have been dangerous to people—if there had been any people living at that time. Others were from 60 to 100 feet long, and were the longest land animals of all time. They were not, however, so bulky as some kinds of whales of the present time, and did not weigh so many tons.

Higher layers of rock have saved skeletons of mammals, the animals which give milk to their young. These animals are of interest to us because they are sometimes ancestors of such present-day beasts as tigers, lions, bears, wolves, camels, elephants and so on. Skeletons of human beings are not found in the very deep rock layers. It appears that people have lived on earth only in the most recent part of the earth's history. Some scientists believe the human race is about half a million years old, which they say is a short time compared to the age of dinosaurs or early mammals.

Here is a question you may wish to ask, "If it is true that dinosaurs were in deep layers of rock, how does it happen that we sometimes find their skeletons at the earth's surface?"

There are several reasons. One is that rivers have cut wide, deep valleys in the rock. The most famous valley of this kind is Grand Canyon. In other places, dinosaur skeletons are at the earth's surface because low rock layers have been pushed up by the crumpling of the earth's crust. Mountains have been formed by that "crumpling," and skeletons may be exposed on the mountain sides.

Cast Is Ready for First Showing of 'Dress Rehearsal'

Band Mothers' Production to be Staged in Auditorium

Kaukauna—At 8:15 tonight in the civic auditorium, Kaukauna High School Band Mothers will present a community show, "Dress Rehearsal," with a cast of 80 local actors. The performance will be repeated at the same time tomorrow evening.

Directed by Miss Dorothy E. Ferguson of West Englewood, New Jersey, the 2-act production is built about a series of dance, comic and song numbers. The story concerns a theatrical producer who loses his regular cast and is forced to import a group of collegians to take its place. James Lang takes the role of John Bailey, the producer.

Between acts the audience will be treated to an old fashioned spelling bee, with Mayor Lewis F. Nelson in charge. Tonight the competition will be between north and south side high school students, and tomorrow evening north and south side adults.

Businessmen's Chorus

The highlight of the show has been billed as the businessmen's chorus. In this group are Frank Mitchell, John Van de Loo, Henry Olm, Olin G. Dryer, L. J. Faust, Joseph C. McCarty, Harry F. McAndrews, Lester Gurnee, Hugo Weitenbach and George Dogot.

In chorus numbers are Joyce Roberts, Jack Taylor, Laverne Rabideau, Clifford Rogers, Mary Nushardt, Mrs. John Cleland, Tad Weber, Loyal Belongue, Mike Gerhart, Fay Posson, Jack Licht, Jerry Meyer and Clarence Niessing.

The high school chorus, which opens the show, includes Lillian Vils, Rita Belongue, Jean Nytes, Ivel Wagnitz, Grace Schydzik, Grace Sager, Mildred Belongue, Marion Mereness and Jean Nytes.

Council Must Act To Fill Vacancy in First Ward Position

Kaukauna—Selection of a First ward alderman to fill the unexpired term of Gordon S. Mulholland will be up to the common council at its Oct. 18 meeting, City Attorney Harry F. McAndrews said yesterday.

When a similar case arose several years ago, near election time, the council let voters of the ward affected write in their nominees at that election, with the informal understanding that the council would then elect the person who received the most votes. As an election will be held Nov. 8, the council may again adopt this procedure, or may name a man outright.

High School Pupils Observe Landing Day

Kaukauna—High school students celebrated Landing day yesterday morning with a program in honor of Christopher Columbus. Louis Vanderloop was student chairman. Earl O'Connor gave a brief biography of Columbus, and James McGrath discussed his efforts to obtain help for his voyage. John Vette had as his topic the discovery of the new world, and Thomas McCarty presented Columbus' probably viewpoints on present day problems. Mary Alice Flanagan read the poem, "Columbus," by Joachim Miller. The high school band played three selections.

Workers' Classes Can Take More Students

Kaukauna—There is still room for several more students in the workers' education classes Friday nights at Kaukauna Vocational school. The class begins at 7 o'clock, with labor history studied until 8:30 and public speaking during the rest of the period.

The class held its first session last Friday. As the supply of instructors is limited it is necessary to have at least 20 in the group. An afternoon meeting has been arranged to take care of shift workers.

Firemen Show School Pupils New Equipment

Kaukauna—In observance of fire prevention week the department took out its large truck yesterday morning and visited Nickel Park, Trinity, St. Mary's and Holy Cross grade schools. A ladder demonstration was given and fire drills held.

Safety First Society Organized for Pupils

Kaukauna—A Safety First society to prevent accidents has been formed among model department pupils at Outagamie Rural Normal school, with Thomas Vanderloop named president. Dale Andrews is vice president and Horace Toms secretary.

Ladies' League Will Resume Play Tonight

Kaukauna—Ladies' league bowlers will resume play tonight with the Gertz and Simons, and Tittman and Goldin teams playing on the 7 o'clock shift. At 9 o'clock Burns play Franks and Van Denzons compete with Schells.

The Kaukauna office of the Appleton Post-Crescent is located in the Jules Mertes barbershop on Wisconsin avenue. William Dowling is the correspondent in charge and the telephone number is 107. Subscribers may call this number until 6:30 in the evening if their papers were not delivered.

Women Foresters to Entertain Juveniles at Halloween Party

Kaukauna—Members of St. Ann's court No. 228, W. C. O. F., will hold a covered dish party at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. Members are asked to bring table service for two, as the juvenile members will be entertained at a Halloween party from 5 to 7 o'clock.

The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. Pat Burns, Mrs. John Schuh, Mrs. Mary Heinz, Mrs. F. Mocco, Mrs. Otto Heindel, Mrs. Frank Nole, Mrs. M. Milton and Mrs. Elizabeth Kromer.

The regular meeting of the court will be held at 8 o'clock, with cards to be played and prizes awarded.

Five Kaukauna representatives will attend the Fox River Valley C. O. F. semi-annual association meeting Sunday at Berlin. They are Charles Wagner, Francis Wagner, R. H. McCarty, Joseph Schlude and Ed Maul. State officers will be present, and winter activities will be discussed.

Holy Cross Catholic Youth Organization, junior group, will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in the church hall. Winter activities will be planned.

Dialogues, Music on Landing Day Program

Kaukauna—Readings, dialogues and music were on the program yesterday as Outagamie Rural Normal school students celebrated Landing day. A piano solo by Elda Bloy opened the program, followed by the reading of a poem, "Columbus," by Irene Mortell. The "Ballad of the Lord and Columbus," was read by Rosemary Schmidt.

A dialogue, "Uncle Sam's Dream," was given by Walter Brandt, Harrison Larson, Georgiana Handshke, Lorraine Plutz, Edith Main, Jane Gorgas and Florian McCabe. "The Columbus Spirit," a reading, was given by Dorothy Alft.

Mrs. Edward Bedat Is New Operator of Cafe

Kaukauna—The Ideal cafe, E. Second street, changed hands this week with Mrs. Edward Bedat, 147 1/2 E. Second street, purchasing the restaurant from Norman Schmidtkofer. Schmidtkofer operated the cafe for the last two years.

Aloys Hoffensperger, owner of his meat market on W. Wisconsin avenue for the last 15 years, also retired from active business this week. His son, Donald, will continue to operate the market.

High School Seniors Plan Dancing Party

Kaukauna—An all-school dance will be sponsored at the high school Saturday evening by the senior class. In charge of Chairman Clifford Fernal, Mary Jane Garrity, Robert Nielsen, Gertrude Renn, Eunice Van Dyke and Grace Nagan.

Matinee Bridge Club in Meeting at Hortonville

Hortonville—Mrs. Keith Shambau entertained the Matinee Bridge club at her home Wednesday afternoon. This was the club's first party of the season. Prizes were won by Mrs. Harris Hawk, first, Mrs. Chriss Fahley, second, and Mrs. J. Bottensche, third.

Jimmy Collar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Collar, New London, is spending a few days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Collar, Hortonville.

Merchant Association Considers Uniform Yule Decorations Plan

Kaukauna—The Kaukauna Advancement association is considering a project to give Kaukauna a uniform Christmas decoration system. The utility commission will be contacted regarding the possibility of placing such decorations on the ornamental posts.

The group also is considering several other projects with the idea of pushing Kaukauna forward. Means will be found for greater cooperation with farmers and merchants in the monthly pig fair held here on Dodge street, and the association is already making plans for the proposed celebration in 1940 of the 150th anniversary of the founding of Kaukauna in 1790.

The principal activity of the group during the last year has been the operation of its solicitor's plan whereby all who wish to solicit donations from Kaukauna people must first have their plan approved by a committee. Joseph T. Sadlier, association secretary, reports that requests for solicitations which would have collected thousands of dollars were turned down by the association, while many projects benefiting local organizations received the stamp of approval.

Original Grignon Building Will be Rebuilt Next Year

Entire Foundation of Historic Structure Is Uncovered

Kaukauna—The city's premier tourist attraction, the historic Grignon home, soon will be supplemented by an even older reconstructed building. This is the house, located about 1,000 yards in back of the Grignon mansion, that Dominic Ducharme built in 1790. The structure, 22 feet wide by 54 feet long, is divided in two parts, with the eastern end having been built in 1804. The present Grignon home was not built until 1837. It's builder was born in the old Ducharme structure.

A house, barn and store, later a post office, the second in north-eastern Wisconsin, were located on this site. The first frame store in Wisconsin was erected there in 1828, and the post office, known as Grand Cakalin, in 1829, with Ebenezer Childs first postmaster.

Under Wolf's supervision the removal of from one to one and a half feet of dirt over the foundations was begun five weeks ago. NYA workers are employed on the project.

Well Preserved

The entire foundation has now been uncovered, and is in a remarkable state of preservation, as is about 1,000 board feet of rafters, partition lumber and flooring, all of which will be used to reconstruct the building. The building had a timber frame, of logs mortised on each end. The original spikes used in its construction have been recovered, and the handmade articles are as strong as ever, while spikes used years later have rusted and broken. Other articles recovered include several hundred nails, window panes of glass about half as thick as

Fire Prevention Topic of Program

Hortonville Fire Department Sponsors Event At Community Hall

Hortonville—A program sponsored by the Hortonville Fire department was given at the community hall Wednesday afternoon. The fire company trucks led the line of march from the Hortonville public school followed by the school band and the students of the high school and grades and the students of the Catholic and Lutheran parochial schools. They marched down Nash street, then down Main street to the hall. The program was in cooperation with the national fire prevention week. The local fire company is a member of the Northeast Firemen's Safety League and each year all companies belonging to the league compete with each other for prizes in fire prevention activity. The program at the hall included an address of welcome by M. F. Ziehm, captain of the local fire company, and a talk by L. D. Hershberger, principal of the high school, on the efficiency of the Hortonville Fire department. Fredrick Kaatz, local high school senior spoke on the subject of "George Washington as a Fireman." T. Schaffer, Appleton, formerly a member of the Milwaukee Fire department for 25 years, explained the operation of the inhalator that was demonstrated by Fire Chief Henry Esler of Kaukauna.

Hortonville Rural Fire company met Wednesday evening in the fireman's hall. Routine business was conducted.

Hortonville boy scouts met Tuesday evening in the community club rooms. Eleven scouts and the scout committee were present. The committee includes C. Schroeder, scoutmaster; W. Schwahn, assistant scoutmaster; and Earl Buchanan and L. F. Matheys. Plans were made for an overnight hike to be held Friday evening. A new bulletin board was made at the meeting.

The project of reconstructing the building will be begun in earnest next spring. The federal government, Wolf said, will contribute the greater share of the material and labor costs.

Wisconsin museums, such as the Milwaukee Institution, will aid in reconditioning furniture. Local workers will be used under the government WPA program.

Work done so far on the Ducharme building includes the com-

150 are Present At K. of C. Banquet At Clintonville

Prairie du Chien Man Discusses Life of Christopher Columbus

Clintonville—One hundred and fifty persons were present for the annual Columbus Landing day banquet given for Knights of Columbus and their ladies Tuesday evening at their hall on Seventh street.

Bernard Kennedy, superintendent of schools at Prairie du Chien, was the principal speaker of the evening. He talked on the life of Christopher Columbus and explained why the order of Knights of Columbus was named after him. Mr. Kennedy paid tribute to the great adventurer and closed his remarks with the admonition, "Let us become better Knights of Columbus for a better America." The speaker was introduced by Attorney C. C. Muller, toastmaster of the evening.

Short talks also were given by the Rev. Nicholas Dietrich and B. E. Miller of this city. Both Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Miller served as state officers of the Knights of Columbus last year. The program was opened with an address of welcome by Russell Weller, grand knight of the Clintonville council. Musical numbers were contributed by the Misses Dorothy Fumelle, Lucille Winkel, Betty Spiegel and Gloria Bleck, members of the high school orchestra and glee club. Following the program, cards and dancing completed the evening's entertainment.

Members of the Thrift club and their husbands held their October meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wolff. Six tables of five hundred were in play, after which a lunch was served.

The Rev. and Mrs. Walter E. Schilling, Mesdames William Elsbury, Harry B. Dodge, August Pinkowsky and T. A. Patterson of the local Congregational church were at Green Bay Wednesday, where they attended a district meeting of the World Fellowship Council.

Reports on the Wisconsin Grand Chapter of Order of Eastern Star were given by Mrs. Norman Hanson and Mrs. Irving Auld at a regular meeting of the local chapter Tuesday evening. Other officers and members from here who attended the Grand chapter sessions held last week in Milwaukee were Mrs. Fred Holmes, worthy matron, Mrs. G. A. Seidel, Mrs. D. J. Rohrer and Miss Hilda Besserdich.

Plans are being made for the annual supper to be given at the Masonic temple early in November.

The first meeting of the S. O. E. club for the fall and winter season will be held at the Masonic temple Friday afternoon, Oct. 14, with Mrs. George Berndt and Mrs. Douglas Nelson as the hostesses.

Members of her bridge club honored Mrs. A. Don Zwickey with a post-nuptial shower Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Forrest Schaefer at Marion. A $300 supper was followed by two tables of contract, at which the prizes went to Mrs. Orval Malug and Mrs. Roy Barker. A gift was presented to Mrs. Zwickey, who was Miss June Spearbraker of this city before her marriage on Oct. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Overton of Wisconsin, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. E. Benedict and children of Milwaukee were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Stieg. Mr. Overton and Mrs. Benedict are brother and sister of Mrs. Stieg.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Patterson and daughter Mae were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sasman at Black Creek, parents of Mrs. Patterson. A group of relatives and friends were entertained there in honor of Mrs. Sasman's seventy-fifth birthday anniversary.

SCOUT DIRECTOR

Mrs. C. E. Jurgenson is the new director of the Kimberly Girl Scout organization. She succeeds Miss Dorothy Weade who has held that office for the last two years. Before coming to Kimberly Mrs. Jurgenson was troop captain of the Girl Scouts in Northfield, Minn., and Elkhorn, Wis.

Firemen Answer Fifth False Call in 2 Weeks

Firemen answered their fifth false alarm within the last two weeks at 9:40 last night to Third street and Memorial drive. A second run was made last evening to put out a fire of leaves in the 300 block on N. Lawe street.

Mrs. Jurgenson Is New Director of Girl Scout Group

Succeeds Miss Dorothy
Weade in Kimberly Organization

Kimberly—Mrs. C. E. Jurgenson has accepted a position as director of the Girl Scout organization to succeed Miss Dorothy Weade, who has held that office for the last two years.

Mrs. Jurgenson, who has recently moved to Kimberly where her husband is employed at the Kimberly-Clark corporation, was troop captain at Northfield, Minn., and Elkhorn, Wis., where she also helped found the troop. She was counselor at the summer camp at Alice Chester, Milwaukee, and at the Sheboygan Girl Scout camp.

The new director announced that thus far a lieutenant for the Brownies has not been named, while Miss Mary Kerkhoff has been chosen as second lieutenant of the Brownies. Mrs. W. H. Webb has accepted the leadership of the intermediate group and will be assisted by Miss Elaine Ouellette. Miss Weade will continue as leader of the older group of scouts.

The Girl Scout committee consists of Mrs. William Anderson, Mrs. B. J. Ouellette, Mrs. F. A. Lockschmidt, J. T. Doerfler, Jack Limpert and W. H. Webb.

Mrs. Edward Krueger entertained the Fleur-de-Lis club at her home

Fire Prevention and First Aid Program Presented at Kimberly

Kimberly—T. A. Hawthorne of Lincoln, Neb., addressed a large number of school children and adults at the clubhouse Tuesday evening on fire prevention in the homes. The meeting was held in observance of fire prevention week. The speaker was introduced by Fire Chief Alex Malcolm, Sr. They also visited the public and Holy Name schools during the afternoon.

The speaker demonstrated how a person could enter a smoke or gas filled building without any ill effects by taking a deep breath of air before entering and by crawling into the dwelling, keeping the mouth close to the floor and to raise a window as quickly as possible. He also showed how even a

Tuesday evening. Schafskopf was played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Joseph Mennen, first; Mrs. Treff Lennevel, second; and Mrs. August Schwanke, traveling. Next week the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Clara La Berge.

12-year-old boy or girl could save the life of an older person becoming overcome with gas or smoke and how to bring them out of the building and what to do thereafter. He said that a doctor must always be summoned immediately but it is sometimes the aid given the injured the first few minutes that save a life.

Mr. Hawthorne demonstrated the various body bandages on three toys called from the audience.

A demonstration was given on how to help a drowning person and Mr. Hawthorne called on several of the local firemen to demonstrate the inhalator to the audience.

The speaker discussed the dangers of gasoline in the homes. Many people clean silk with naphtha, which he called extremely dangerous whether done inside or outdoors. He said that 90 per cent of the fires are caused by carelessness. He urged residents to get rid of rubbish piles and to keep oil mops

Shiocton Residents Attend 59th Wedding Fete at Oshkosh Home

Shiocton—Mrs. James Kennedy and sons John and Harold Kennedy were at Oshkosh Sunday where they attended the fifty-ninth wedding anniversary of Mrs. Kennedy's parents Mr. and Mrs. John Hanson. Mr. Hanson was 82 years old Saturday, Oct. 8, and Mrs. Hanson celebrated her eighty-fourth birthday last July.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanson were born in Denmark and formerly resided in Appleton and Shiocton. They have been residents of Oshkosh for about 25 years. Both are in fairly good health. In honor of the occasional Sunday a dinner was served to relatives and a few friends at the home of their son Alfred Hanson, Oshkosh. The afternoon was spent socially open house being held and many friends of the couple coming in to offer congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanson have five daughters and a son: Mrs. James Kennedy, Shiocton; Mrs. William Patterson, Lac du Flambeau; Mrs. Thomas Williams, Two Rivers; Mrs. John Lammemann, Larson; Miss Thursa Hanson, at home, and Alfred, Oshkosh.
